EDITOR'S NOTE

The silly season has well and truly kicked off and that means delicious weather, countless social events and a certain magic in the air that emanates warmth and kindness. In this, our final issue for 2014, we have a local shopping feature, a monumental Christmas giveaway, a New Year's Eve events guide as well as a handy article on Christmas Party Etiquette. There are also two new monthly features debuting in this issue. The Artist of Month showcases the local talent of emerging artists in all fields of the arts. The Dining Guide offers a fantastic directory of local restaurants, cafes and take-away options for those nights out or when you need a night off from cooking.

The team at the Redcliffe Guide would like to wish you all a wonderful Christmas and a safe and happy New Year.

See you in 2015.

A WORD FROM OUR REPRESENTATIVES

Cr James Houghton

Moreton Bay Regional Council is currently working to finalise changes to the draft-planning scheme. These changes include feedback from the community as well as updated information provided by the State Government. Timeframes are yet to be confirmed, but council hopes to bring the draft back out to the community in the near future. Once we have definitive timeframes for further consultation, these will be publicly advertised. Residents can also check the council website for updates and register their interest to receive email updates.

As part of our Shoreline Erosion Management Plan (SEMP) a temporary coastal fence has been erected at Queens Beach North to assist in stabilization and regeneration of the sand dunes and to assist in the replenishment of the sand beach. The fence is only temporary and the results will be monitored to evaluate its effectiveness in keeping our shorelines pristine.

Yvette D'Ath MP

We are blessed with a wealth of young leaders on the Peninsula. Every day I am struck by the calibre of our young people and the leadership potential present within each of them. Whether it be taking a stand on bullying or volunteering their time with a community organisation, our young people are leading the way. Recently, I hosted the inaugural Peninsula Young Leaders Conference at Clontarf Beach State High School. The Conference was an opportunity for our young leaders to hone their existing leadership skills and learn a few more. I was so impressed by the maturity and intelligence of our young people – I know our future is in very safe hands! As we near the end of the school year, I would like to thank our 2014 student leaders for all their hard work over the past year and wish them well in their future endeavours. To our 2015 student leaders – congratulations on your election and good luck for the coming year!

Luke Howarth MP

This year has once again shown the vibrance and community strength of our beautiful Redcliffe Peninsula.

From our ANZAC Day dawn service that attracted thousands to the dynamic Festival of Sails, from our thriving arts sector to the fast and efficient construction works along the Moreton Bay Rail Link, 2014 has certainly been a year of success for our region.

I really enjoy Christmas – it's a great time to catch up with family and friends and reflect on the year that has passed. It's also a great time to set goals and plan for the New Year.

Thank you to everyone – our local volunteers, community groups, teachers, small business owners, locals and visitors – who has contributed to our Redcliffe Peninsula throughout the year.

Wishing you a Happy Christmas and a safe and prosperous 2015.

SCARBOROUGH LIGHTS UP REDCLIFFE

Sue White

For many years, the Redcliffe Peninsula had been lacking a major Christmas event, so in 2006 Beth Reid and Glyn Davies decided to “bring back that old-fashioned Christmas Spirit.” After speaking to the Redcliffe Peninsula business community, Beth and Glyn were thrilled with the support they received to fund their dream. With sponsorship pledges in hand, a lot of enthusiasm and Christmas Spirit, and a handful of volunteers, the inaugural ‘Christmas comes to Scarborough’ event was held. The program for that year included a Christmas Street Parade, Carols by Candlelight, Market Stalls, Fireworks, and a spectacular street lighting display throughout the whole month of December.

The following year, the group contracted a promotional company to supply ten huge 3-metre tall Christmas trees to add to the Christmas lighting display. These trees were subsequently purchased by the group and are now taken out of storage every year and placed along Landsborough Avenue by volunteers.

In 2008, local business owners Danny and Sue White took the reins and incorporated this not-for-profit group which is now called Scarborough Lights up Redcliffe Inc. The group received an Australia Day Award and medal in 2010 for ‘Community Event of the Year’.

In 2009, the then newly-formed Moreton Bay Regional Council approached the group to offer their support, and the annual Christmas Event became known as ‘Christmas by the Sea’. The council now organise the Carols by Candlelight section of this event.

Depending on Sponsorships, Scarborough Lights provides midnight fireworks on New Year’s Eve (weather permitting). This year, there will be two firework displays over two nights - one on Saturday 6th December at 8pm and the other at midnight on New Year’s Eve.

Scarborough Lights also provides the opportunity for community groups and charities to run sausage sizzles and food outlets and to hold raffles at their events as another way to support the local community and to ‘Bring Back that Old-Fashioned Christmas Spirit’. R

SANTA CLAUS IS COMING TO TOWN

The Redcliffe Peninsula Santa Sleigh has been a fixture of the local Christmas scene for decades.

Each year between mid November to a few days before Christmas, Santa visits almost every street through Rothwell, Kippa-Ring, Newport, Scarborough, Redcliffe, Margate, Clontarf and Woody Point.

It's a big job carried out by volunteers with big hearts.

In its current form, the sleigh is managed by the Rotary Club of Redcliffe City on behalf of the Moreton Bay Regional Council, who provide support through funding and provision of the towing and safety vehicles.

Last year police gave their support with an escort for Santa provided by a patrol car which added an extra thrill.

To be a part of a nightly run with Santa is a great privilege as you get to see the absolute joy of the local children as they wave and get to meet Santa. Parents often share funny stories with us as sometimes the kids will have launched out of the bath on to the street with just a towel when they hear Santa calling out on the microphone.

The sleigh in Redcliffe actually kicked off as part of a neighbourhood watch, which started in Scarborough and has grown from there. In those days, Noel Powell was the lone Santa every night. As the operation has grown, it now takes a significant amount of manpower and commitment - but what an effect it has.

During the sleigh program in 2014, the convoy will set out each night around 5:30pm to cover a different part of the Peninsula. If you are a business or community group that would like to take part in helping to navigate, drive or be in the sleigh with Santa, then send a message via the Rotary Club of Redcliffe City Facebook page www.facebook.com/rotaryredcliffe.

To find out what night Santa will be visiting your street, follow the Club on Facebook as we will soon be posting maps and dates. R

Music By The Sea Festival 2015

Music By The Sea Festival 2015 is on 9th, 10th and 11th January at the iconic Sandgate Town Hall. This is the 13th annual festival and once again brings international and Australian artists to Sandgate. The program is exciting and diverse, and as always, we believe it will cater to all musical tastes.

Opening on Friday night, the program kicks off with Jaron Freeman-Fox & The Opposite of Everything from Canada. Jaron's fiddle playing really is something to behold.

Saturday opens with a morning raga by Sarangan Sriranganathan (sitar) & Bobby Singh (tabla). Highlight of the day's program is FourPlay String Quartet - an indie rock band that just happens to be a string quartet. Mantratonik with the legendary Sandy Evans is a stellar addition.

Sunday morning opens with the heavenly music of two viola da gambas, a theorbo and a lute by the Ensemble Re-creation. Exquisite Sydney artists Acacia Quartet are back, followed by our own young Brisbane award winning concert pianist, Alex Raineri. Sunday evening features the Orava String Quartet, now Brisbane based as Quartet in Residence with the Camerata of St John's Chamber Orchestra.

Flying Fifteen Australian Championships

Sandgate Yacht Club is proud to be hosting the 53rd Internationals Flying Fifteen Australian Championship 2015, to be held from Saturday 3rd January through to Sunday 10th. The Club is expecting a strong fleet with entrants from all states. The racing will be held on Bramble Bay with good vantage points for spectators from the cliff top along Shorncliffe Parade.

Crews will be rigging their boats early on the lawns in front of Sandgate Yacht Club on Allpass Parade. With races starting round 10.30am, the boats will start making their way to the start line from Cabbage Tree Creek around 9.30am.

MARKET STALL PICKS

Every Sunday morning, Redcliffe Parade becomes a bustling marketplace full of people coming from near and far to browse the market stalls looking for that one-of-a-kind piece to add to their home or wardrobe. From fashion to food, there is something to catch the eye of everyone who strolls the street.

Each month we will pick three market stalls and write about what makes them special and why you should check them out. If you know of a stall that we should feature, let us know at editor@redcliffe.net.au and we'll check it out.

HAND PAINTED TURKISH PLATES

These stunning plates and bowls are hand crafted so every piece is unique. Not only are they gorgeously decorative, they are functional pieces to add to your crockery. Perfect as a Christmas gift. Filiz has been manning the stall for 3 years so be sure to say hi the next time you're at the markets.

Shirley Harring

Before you look to book costly day trips and expensive theme parks, check out what's on the peninsula. You might be surprised just how much is on offer.

Beach Babes

Don't take the beaches, barbecues and playgrounds dotting our doorstep for granted. Use them to your advantage - head the herd outdoors and blow off some steam. While majestic Cotton trees of Scarborough challenge active bodies, the surrounding picnic tables provide perfect vantage points for grown-ups to take a break, too. Pirate Park offers safe haven for littlies, but the bigger buccaneers can channel their inner explorer and tackle the basics of boating through Humpybong Yacht Club's kids program over at hyc.net.au/discover-sailing/start-sailing. If the ocean doesn't float your boat, Settlement Cove Lagoon harbours protected pools for paddling toddlers as well as deeper water for the more competent. Moreton Bay is rich with whiting, flathead and snapper – why not dust off the rod'n'reel for a spot of fishing? Both Woody Point Jetty and Ted Smout Bridge boast family-safe platforms - afterwards, let the kids cook their catch on one of the many free barbecues provided. If all else fails, there's great local fish and chips just around the corner. Landlubbers with wheels might prefer RampUp's skateboard, scooter and BMX clinics - details at www.moretonbay.qld.gov.au/rampup. R

LEAP INTO THE LIBRARY

Under 8s

Littlies love stories – what better place to immerse them in literature than the library? Books, puzzles, games, craft ... try the 'choose your own adventure hunt', available all through the holidays. Friday nights are twilight time - pop the toddlers into their PJs and bring a blanket... all that's left to do is tuck them into bed afterwards. Watch for Lisa and Nee Live - a show featuring catchy tunes, audience interaction and music making.

Under 15s

Older library goers can get their GameOn – regular meets enabling gamers to battle buddies; Lego lovers will get a kick from building scenes then bringing them to life via the digital Lego app; and MashItUp offers no-cost workshops on film making, stop motion animation, abstract photo media art and more. All that's required is a library membership.

AUSTRALIA DAY AT SUTTONS BEACH

We live in arguably the greatest nation on the planet. On the 26th January each year, we come together as a nation to celebrate what makes this country so special. Being one of the more diverse nations in the world, Australia Day is a day to celebrate our rich history from the Indigenous cultures and the many cultures of people who have come to our shores to call Australia home.

Moreton Bay Regional Council is holding an Australia Day event on Suttons Beach to mark the occasion.

Explore a huge selection of markets that highlight the landscape of the venue, followed by entertainment commencing at 2pm.

There will be competitions, rides, workshops for the kids, and a fantastic fireworks display to top off the celebrations.

A great day out for the whole family. For more details on the event, please go to www.moretonbay.qld.gov.au/events.

INTEREST-ONLY LOANS

Popularity for interest-only home loans appears to be increasing among both investors and owner-occupiers.

Interest-only loans accounted for 43.2% of all new mortgages in June 2014, up from 38.6% a year ago as recorded by the Australian Prudential Regulation Authority.

The proportion of investment property loans also rose to 37.9% from 35.2% during the same period.

The rise however was not as prominent as that seen in the interest-only loan growth, suggesting that more homeowners are opting for interest-only loans.

According to the RBA, an increasing number of owner-occupiers are opting for interest-only loans to increase repayment flexibility.

With growth in wages slowing, it appears homeowners are less willing to borrow, further contributing to the attraction of interest-only loans.

Structured much like any other mortgage, the main difference with interest-only loans is that borrowers repay only the interest instead of paying back both a principal and interest loan amount.

Typically, interest-only loans are a strategy used by investors to help them balance their property portfolio, however borrowers are increasingly using this type of loan for their own homes.

Interest-only loans are attractive to investors because you can increase and manage your cash flow more effectively by minimising monthly mortgage repayments.

Each loan payment may also be a tax deduction to investors.

Beware of the risks however of relying too much on the value of a property increasing whilst paying interest only. You may find it hard to repay the full principal loan amount and cover your costs without a solid capital gain at the time you decide to sell.

Owner-occupiers are increasingly choosing home loans with an initial interest-only period because of the increased flexibility of monthly repayments, which can ease the strain on personal finances, particularly if you know you have some heavy expenses in the first couple of years.

For homeowners, interest-only loans are best used as a short term solution to meet your immediate commitments or at a time when you need maximum cash flow, but beware of your limits.

Don't take on a loan if you have no hope of paying back both principal and interest amounts, especially when interest rates rise or your interest-only period ends.

Also be mindful that by not paying back any of the overall mortgage, you aren't building any equity in your home.

The interest-only payment period is usually set from one to five or ten years.

A longer interest-only period may place greater pressure on borrowers, as the principal loan must be repaid within the remaining loan term. R

THE GOLDEN OX

The Golden Ox has been a Peninsula icon since 1977. Founded by Nick and Virginia Tzimas, the Margate venue has a setting for every occasion; with a restaurant, tropical gardens just perfect for weddings, reception rooms, and a cocktail bar. The Golden Ox is a family owned and operated restaurant, having found its ideal head chef in Nick and Virginia's son, Peter.

The menu is decadent, laden with an abundance of dishes for meat lovers and vegetarians alike. The Tzimas family pride themselves on using only the freshest produce. "Our menus depend on the season and availability — what's best," Mr Tzimas said. Quality and sustainability of produce are key.

CHRISTMAS BY THE SEA

Scarborough lights up Christmas!

Monique Hartman

A special team of event planners is busy, tucked away in a bustling workshop somewhere near you, warming its vocal chords and decking the park, so to speak, all in the name of making your start to the festive season merry and bright.

Yes, the time to be jolly is just around the corner and the best way to get in the spirit is to join with your Moreton Bay community at Scarborough Beach Park on Saturday 6th December for the annual Christmas by the Sea celebrations.

This year's audience will be treated to a showcase of talented local musical guests including Craig Martin and band, Hercules Road State School Choir, Jam Performing Arts and Redcliffe City Choir.

Offering something for the whole family, the seaside event will also feature a spectacular Christmas street parade featuring camels, nativity scenes, and Christmas floats, where participants have the opportunity to win prizes.

And of course, what afternoon of merriment would be complete without a visit to Santa's village and an appearance from our favourite jolly man in red himself?

The evening will culminate with a magical fireworks finale. R

- The Christmas by the Sea program runs from 2pm – 8pm at Scarborough Beach Park, Landsborough Avenue, Scarborough, and entry is free.

- More information, including details of the Landsborough Avenue closure is available at www.moretonbay.qld.gov.au/christmas

CHRISTMAS PARTY ETIQUETTE

Tahnee-Jae Lopez-Vito

'Tis the season of rum balls made with extra rum, vulnerable office scanners, and a blinding effervescent circle of smart-phone cameras. Here's a quick how-to guide on how to enjoy and survive your next workplace party.

Secret Santa is not so secret

It takes two for a gift exchange to turn sour. Socialise, listen, and get to know your workmates. Remember to appreciate the time and effort spent on your present, and don't end up shoving a 2-for-1 chocolate bar you picked up from the servo across the road, on the desk. Talk may be cheap, but your gift shouldn't be.

Tip: fresh flowers or a bottle of wine make the perfect getaway present.

Don't let your boozy behaviour lead you out the door

You've worked hard all year and deserve to enjoy a few drinks. But there's a difference between 'letting your hair down' and dancing alongside the canapés on the foldout table. Know your limits, drink plenty of water, and indulge in as much of the buffet on offer.

Office romance

Office party season is a time to be cheeky, not sleazy. Avoid making unwanted smooches that feel more like the end result of falling onto a slobbering 90-kilogram Bullmastiff, and less like a climactic kiss in Love Actually. The workplace may be drowning in tinsel and party poppers, but there's no excuse to forget how to keep it professional with quick pecks on the cheeks and friendly hands-above-the-waist hugs.

Dress and impress

Ladies, take a nod to the 50s and welcome back classic glamour styling. Voluminous skirts are a great way to pull in the waist for an extra flattering figure and show off all the right curves. Plus, it offers enough legroom to bust out those spontaneous dance moves and re-enact that leap from Dirty Dancing. Baby and Johnny, is that you?

Men, bright dress shirts and print suit jackets are not reserved for the stylish at Oaks Day. Have fun and remember to tailor.

So, avoid participating in what may become a real-life example of a HR no-no and remember to party responsibly. R

CHRISTMAS SHOPPING ON THE PENINSULA

It's that time of year again and you have a long list of presents you need to get for your family, friends, acquaintances and neighbours. The natural inclination would be to go to a large shopping centre and throw your hard earned money at multi national organisations. This year, why not support your local community and the wonderful small businesses scattered along the peninsula. Besides, a view of the ocean in the fresh air sure beats being in-doors fighting crowds and circling for a car park.

From the fussy to the fancy, the young and the old, we have a shopping guide that has your Christmas shopping covered.

For Him

For any sports loving man, you can't go past That's My Team on Redcliffe Parade. No matter which team your man goes for, these guys can put together a gift for any sports fan.

If gadgets and man toys are more to your mans liking, Dick Smith, EB Games and Gametronics at Peninsula Fair Kippa-Ring offer a huge range of gadgets, toys and gaming needs for boys of all ages.

Whilst you're at Peninsula Fair, you can pick up a new shirt or pair of jeans at Jeanswest, Jay Jays, Connor or Surf Dive and Ski for your surfie type.

HIM

For Her

Redcliffe has a fabulous network of arcades that are bursting with quirky little boutique shops that offer unique and fun gift ideas to suit all budgets. Madison in Bloom has brilliant hampers to suit all ages from babies to nannas with gorgeous hand made gifts.

For those mums, aunts and best friends who seem to have it all, Little Bear Brown has a great range of the quirky yet functional gifts that everyone will enjoy.

If it's clothes for a younger audience you're after, Orange Sherbet is a local institution offering great fashion at Bluewater Square in Redcliffe.

Starting at the bottom end of Redcliffe Parade, there are a number of stores offering homewares and knick-knacks, always a favourite at Christmas time. Start your shopping spree at Vast where you can pick up accessories, clothes and furniture as well as homewares. Moving up, head to Pam's Affordable Gifts, then up to Vyapari and finishing at Kashmir where you can have a hard earned coffee and gluten free treat.

HER

Why not spoil the lady in your life with a facial/mani/pedi at Avida Medispa in Scarborough or Beautiful U in Margate. Regardless of where you are on the peninsula, there is such a huge selection of fabulous beauty salons nearby that are offering gift vouchers or special package deals for Christmas.

KIDS

For Kids

Redcliffe is home to some pretty amazing sweet shops. Fudge Me offers flavours of fudge to suit every taste bud as well as a huge assortment of sweet, sweet goodness. YR Lolli Shop takes your sweet taste buds on a journey around the world offering an assortment of candy from USA, New Zealand, UK and Holland, as well as some great retro tunes for your aural pleasure.

Teddies 'n Sweets not only has a brilliant selection of stuffed toys that your kids will marvel at, but delectable cakes and coffee for a hard earned break from all your Christmas shopping.

BUDGET

On a Budget

Whether it's stocking fillers, a cousin you're not too fond of or your in between jobs, there are times when you don't want to spend too much. Price Busters in Redcliffe and Dollar Dazzler in Kippa-Ring have a huge variety of stock including gift ideas to decorations that are all within a uni student budget.

For cute baby outfits or your go-to 'socks and jocks' for dad, you can't go past Best & Less and K-Mart at Peninsula Fair in Kippa-Ring.

Target also has some great hampers for your favourite Aunt at a reasonable price, and they have taken care of the gift wrapping for you.

All of these fabulous places to go shopping are only scratching the surface of a huge choice of retailers and outlets that we have on our peninsula. Why not support local businesses this year and help foster our community this festive season. Get out there and say hello to the hard working, delightful people that are helping to keep our community alive. Have fun with your Christmas shopping. R

This Christmas, Santa's Workshop is coming to Peninsula Fair. This pop up fun factory will be jam packed with heaps of free activities for the kids from toy making to arts and crafts. A fantastic opportunity to keep the kids occupied these holidays and start spreading the festive cheer.

Santa's Workshop opens every day in December from 10am – 1pm and 4-7pm Thursday nights. No bookings required.

So whilst you're getting your Christmas shopping done this year, the kids (of all ages) can delight in paying a personal visit to Santa and get their photo taken.

Of course, there wouldn't be a workshop without the jolly man himself attending. Santa will be in the centre daily from 1st December between 10am-2pm (and 4-7pm Thursday nights). Santa Photos start from just $2!* plus receive a free Mr Men book from Santa. Who doesn't love a free gift?

If wrapping isn't your forte, a gift wrapping service is on offer daily between 1st – 24th December. Customers will be asked for a gold coin donation, which is donated to the local charities. Not only is the hassle of wrapping gifts looked after, you will also be doing a good deed over Christmas by helping out the local community. R

CHRISTMAS TRADITIONS

Suzi O'Shea

Have you ever wondered why we place a tree inside our house and adorn it with jewels to celebrate the birth of Christ?

Or why a large jolly man wears a red and white suit, generously giving gifts? If ever there is a time of year teeming with tradition, it's certainly Christmas. Let's take a closer look at when and how these traditions came about.

The humble Christmas tree – There are many theories behind the origin of the Christmas tree but a common belief is that in medieval Europe, people used to have evergreen branches in their homes during the dark days of winter as a symbol of rebirth of vegetation. It's purported that the Germans decorated their trees with apples at Christmas time in celebration of Adam & Eve, and the trees were referred to as 'Paradise Trees'.

Later, in many other nations, other edible adornments were added to the tree, which fast became a symbol of Christmas celebrations. In 1848, "The Queen's Christmas tree at Windsor Castle" was published in the illustrated London news, making the Christmas tree ubiquitous.

Mistletoe – One of the saucier traditions that come with this time of year, this tradition is one of the stranger ones. Once again, we revisit the idea of having evergreens in your home as symbolic reminders of rebirth of vegetation. Christmas time in Europe (and the top half of the planet) is cold and dreary and a reminder of good things to come was necessary.

Taking it a step further, the Druids believed the plant to harbour mystical supernatural powers and a healer of all ailments, including a boost to fertility. Which may be where the kissing started.

Another theory dates back to Norse mythology. It is said that Baldur, son of Frigga, was blessed when he was born by his goddess mother. She made all plants, creatures and inanimate objects promise not to bring harm to her son. She neglected to ask the mistletoe. Loki, the mischievous god, fashioned a barb made from mistletoe to kill Baldur. So when two people are to pass under mistletoe, a kiss is exchanged to remember Baldur.

Now is a good time to mention that mistletoe is in fact a parasite that grows on and feeds off other trees.

Santa Claus – St Nicholas was a bishop in the third century in what is now known as Turkey. He received a large inheritance from his family and generously donated his wealth to those less fortunate. In one case, it came to his attention that a girl in the village was being sold in marriage. He threw gold coins through her window in the hope of changing her fate, which landed in a stocking hung by the fire. Upon hearing this, other children in the town later hung stockings by the fire in the hope that they would wake up to gold coins.

Long after St Nicholas died, he was canonised and remembered on Saint's day, celebrated in most European countries on 6th December. In honour of his memory people exchanged gifts.

The Dutch called him Sinterklass and when the Dutch settlers arrived in the United States, he became Santa Claus.

In 1823, Dr Clement Clarke Moore wrote 'Twas the Night Before Christmas'. It was Moore's depiction of a plump, jolly old man smoking a pipe with rosy red cheeks, which quickly became the recognised imagery of Santa Claus for many years to come. R

What a month! All the stars seemed to align. Resulting in the best property market in memory. It's not far off two years since the Australian market really began its surge from the very bottom.

It's always an interesting question – “why so many properties for sale if the market is so strong? Does it reflect the feeling that one cannot rely upon these

Most commentators predict third party broking (finance) channels to write between 15 and 20 per cent more than last year. Those are some big targets and reflect the fact that these conditions are perfect for growing a broker business. The recent dip in building approval rates is disappointing for demand. However, the very fierce interest rate competition between lenders continues. And now, more than ever, is a good time for those new to the market to negotiate the right deal on a home loan, or for owners to review their options with their broker.

At its second last meeting of 2014 the Reserve Bank of Australia (RBA) kept the official cash rate steady at 2.5 per cent for the fourteenth straight month. The RBA board meets for the final time this year on 2nd December. R

The leading franchise group had an all-time record of $3.5billion written sales for the month and also reported that they have never had so many individual offices achieve $40million in sales.

ARTIST OF THE MONTH BECKY ROBERTS

Over the years I have always loved to doodle & sketch but never thought I was good enough and I had no time back then. So I put it on the backburner until one day when as an 'empty nester', I did an Art Therapy class with local lady Robyn Ressom, which unlocked something within me and I have since been prolific in the images and artwork that I have done.

I started on Mandalas and moved on to designing a series of Postcards and cards featuring the Redcliffe Peninsula, and also Maleny.

I found I loved sketching animals of all sorts and soon began PortfolioPets with commissions coming in for beloved fur babies.

I have done commissions for Redcliffe High School, various B & B's, Birthdays, Pets, Handmade Redcliffe markets, Mother Duck Childcare Centres, assorted businesses and much more.

My latest foray has been to illustrate and publish a book of poems written by my father all through his life (he is now 86). It is now complete and is called Aussie Wildlife Poems for Kids and the Young at Heart.

It is a glossy, factual, fun, colourful book written and illustrated in a quirky way to appeal to all ages.

It retails at $24.95 and is for sale at Sutton Street Shoes, Lucky Charm Newsagency in Bluewater Square, or online at www.etsy.com/au/shop/PortfolioPics. It is selling well as a great Xmas gift and is light to post overseas.

I am on Facebook under PortfolioPics, also www.portfoliopics.com.au, email enquiries to: portfoliopics@hotmail.com or call 0407 966 779. R
