EDITOR'S NOTE

This month we celebrate all the wonderful mums out there. And this month's Guide should help if you need some inspiration to make your mum feel special.

In this issue, we have a local guide for new mums outlining playgroups in the area, as well as some helpful links and community health clinic information. We have a spectacularly indulgent giveaway package for one lucky reader valued at over $300, generously donated by local businesses. We are also excited to introduce our new regular Movie Guide feature and a double movie pass giveaway each month to Redcliffe Hoyts.

From the team at the Redcliffe Guide, Happy Mother's Day and happy reading to all.

MORETON BAY RAIL LINK STEAMING AHEAD

The very first train in Queensland set out from Ipswich to Grandchester (Bigges Camp) on its inaugural journey in 1865. From there, Queensland Railways grew to cover much of the state, and the railway network has changed greatly over the past 150 years. Now, our peninsula is making history, joining the great rail network with the Moreton Bay Rail project.

The Moreton Bay Rail project is on track, as work progresses on laying more than 52 kilometres of track and construction of Kippa-Ring station continues.

The first piece of track was laid on 18 March 2015, about 1 kilometre out from Petrie Station.

Federal Member for Petrie, Luke Howarth MP, said the stations are being built to a modern design with prefabricated standard parts that can be installed onsite, providing an efficient solution that offers value for money during construction.

Kiss'n'Ride drop off points, as well as taxi and bus areas, will also be built at the station, and 1000 car spaces will be provided.

Moreton Bay Rail will revolutionise public transport in the north of Brisbane and will significantly free up capacity on our road network.

"It's exciting to see the Moreton Bay Rail project come to life with each development and with every milestone," Mr Howarth said.

"I'd like to thank Transport and Main Roads and the workers on site who are making sure the Rail Link is being delivered on time and under budget."

The Moreton Bay Rail project will deliver 14 kilometres of new dual-track passenger rail line between Lawnton and Kippa-Ring, connecting to the existing North Coast line.

The $988 million project is jointly funded by the Australian Government, Queensland Government, and Moreton Bay Regional Council.

Passenger trains should start running on the tracks by late 2016.

TIME FOR A CUPPA TO HELP BEAT CANCER!

Set a date, gather your mates, and pop the kettle on – it's time to raise our cups and tip the balance in the fight against cancer as part of Australia's Biggest Morning Tea.

Cancer Council's Australia's Biggest Morning Tea is enjoyed by more than a million people each year, and collectively over more than two decades of tea partying, has raised around $121 million for the fight against cancer.

The official date for Australia's Biggest Morning Tea is Thursday 28th May, but you can host a morning tea anytime throughout May or June.

Cancer Council Queensland spokesperson Katie Clift said when it comes to beating cancer, we all have what it takes to help.

"Catching up with friends for a cuppa while donating a few coins might not seem like a big gesture – but it is – with the generous support of Australia's Biggest Morning Tea fundraisers, Cancer Council has contributed over half a billion dollars to cancer research, prevention, support, research, advocacy and information services," Ms Clift said.

"Getting involved is easy. Simply invite your friends, family, or workmates to put the kettle on and get together to help beat cancer – you'll be showing your support for the one in two Queenslanders who will be diagnosed with cancer by age 85.

"In Queensland, around 25,000 new cases of cancer are diagnosed every year."

In 2014, Australia's Biggest Morning Tea raised a tasty $11.9 million, which helped fund life-saving cancer research, prevention programs and much needed support for cancer patients and their families.

This year, Cancer Council Queensland aims to raise $2.5 million to help fund even more life-changing work.

To register an Australia's Biggest Morning Tea event, visit biggestmorningtea.com.au or call 1300 65 65 85 and receive a free host kit packed with fundraising ideas, party tips, mouth-watering recipes from celebrity chefs, and everything you need to get started.

A WORD FROM OUR REPRESENTATIVES

Luke Howarth MP

Ahead of the May budget, I will be talking to local small business owners and residents about where you would like to see Australia go in the next few years. We need to make sure we balance the Federal Budget so taxes are not raised for businesses or families. I want to see Australia go from strength to strength, and I encourage you to contact me with your ideas or feedback. You can do so on 3284 8008 or at luke.howarth.mp@aph.gov.au.

While ANZAC Day comes along just once a year, the Centenary of the Anzac has seen thousands of commemorative memorials built around Australia. These include the new memorials at Anzac Place, Redcliffe, and along Captain Cook Parade, Deception Bay. Funded by the Commonwealth Government's Anzac Centenary Local Grants program, the memorials will be a lasting reminder to locals of the service and sacrifice of men and women during WWI.

Yvette D'Ath MP

It has been a great honour to join with our Redcliffe RSL, local schools and the community to mark the 100th anniversary of the landings at Gallipoli and pay tribute to the sacrifice of those who served and died.

I was extremely proud to be representing the people of Redcliffe at the opening of the 55th Queensland Parliament. As the Attorney-General, Minister for Justice and Minister for Training and Skills I am working hard to advance the policies and programs of the new government for the benefit of Redcliffe and the entire State.

As I move around the Peninsula, people I meet who are striving to make their mark on the world stage continually inspire me. In particular, my best wishes go to Martin Smith who will join Australian athletes at the 2015 Special Olympics World Games in Los Angeles and to the Redcliffe State High School all-girl Infinite Racing team as they prepare to compete at the F1 in Schools World Finals in Singapore.

Cr James Houghton

Better Connecting our Region

Council is proposing a new look streetscape along Gynther and Morris Roads, Rothwell as part of the Rothwell Train Station precinct. The proposed 3-metre dedicated cycle and pedestrian lane would be constructed within the existing roadway, connecting Morris Road and Anzac Avenue, increasing safety, and improving cycling connections between Deception Bay and Rothwell.

This popular design, used widely in European cities, would be the first trial of its kind in the Moreton Bay Region. Council will begin consultation on the proposed project in the coming weeks.

Planning Scheme Update

Council is in the process of meeting with the new State Government to discuss the region's draft planning scheme. Residents can keep up to date with the planning scheme by checking council's website and indicating their interest to receive emails.

Visit www.moretonbay.qld.gov.au/mbrpclanningscheme

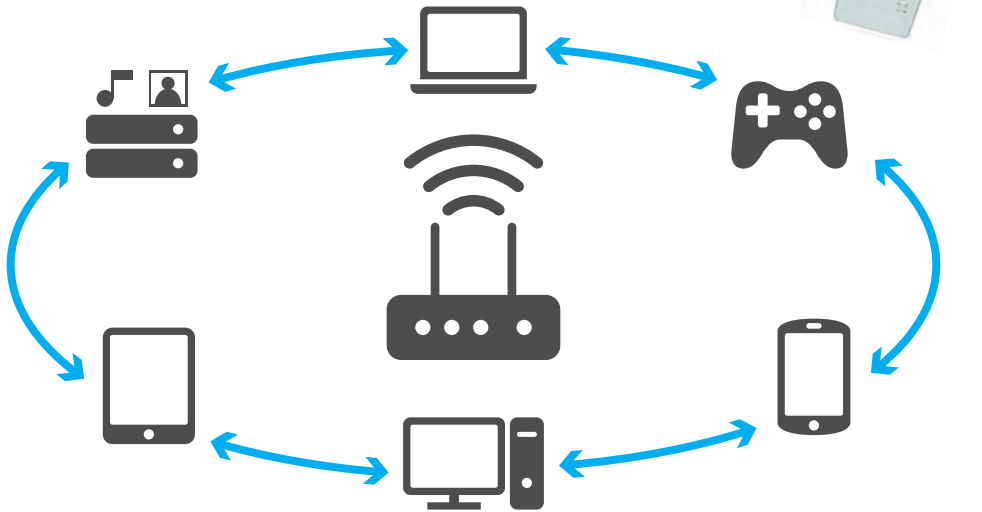

Community Comment

Residents who wish to address the Council as a whole can do so for 5 minutes at a regular Council meeting. The Community Comment Application form needs to be submitted prior to attending. This form can be obtained from any Customer Service Counter or via council's website.

PROPERTY MARKET ROUNDUP

Ian McLachlan

Recent drops in the exchange rate are being warmly welcomed. Major tourist centres in the South East are increasingly showing signs of life, and property prices are reacting in line with this. Clearance rates and auction results clearly reinforce this notion, with Brisbane and surrounding areas seeing clearance rates increasing from 38.5% to 42.1%

According to the Real Estate Institute of Queensland, two of the state's strongest performers have been the Gold and Sunshine Coasts, with their median house values up 5.3% and 7.2% respectively over the past 12 months.

"Southeast Queensland and Cairns real estate had a strong 2014 and the State's major tourism centres are also starting to hit their straps," says Antonia Mercorella, CEO of REIQ

However, there was a change in state government with the Liberal National Party making way for the Labor Party. While it is still too early to see what impact Labor will have on property-related legislation and infrastructure, we should still see the conditions continuing to improve as forecasters are predicting a 5% growth over the coming 12 months.

With all price brackets across the Peninsula receiving attention, we are really seeing the value for money that investing in the area represents.

Contact Ian McLachlan to discuss your position in the current market 0419 781 834

SEA SALT & VINE

Not many people can say they have achieved their career goals by the age of 21. However Georgia Galvin, a Redcliffe local, has done just that. Having worked at what was formerly The Reef Point Café, Georgia got to know the area, the business and of course, the locals.

When the owners of the business decided to relocate, Georgia, who is studying for a degree in primary school teaching, saw an opportunity to pursue her dream and jumped at the chance. She and her parents Doug and Sue decided to start up Sea Salt & Vine.

A bubbly, warm, and friendly young lady who has a true passion for what she does, Georgia says, "I really enjoy the people side of the business. I like to have a chat with my regulars and get to know them."

Proud mum Sue attests to Georgia's passion saying, "She's a workaholic. We had to force her to have a day off after working so many days without a break."

Doug and Sue help out where they can with the business side of things, while Georgia manages the front of house and all staff.

"We're all a family here which makes coming to work easy," says Georgia.

It's no surprise that given the location, the café is popular for weddings and functions. The team at Sea Salt & Vine cater for large parties.

The café is a 'work in progress,' according to Georgia, who has ideas for renovations and slight changes to continue to add her personality to the café.

With large outdoor areas and plenty of high-chairs, it is a great place for mums with babies to meet friends. The grassy outdoor area is great for older kids and, of course, the delectable menu is a hit with people of all ages. Be sure to pop in and say hi to the friendly family at Sea Salt and Vine.

Michael and Jo Connolly of Dreamtime Kullilla-Art are pleased to announce the official opening of their newly renovated Aboriginal Art and Craft Retail Shop/Gallery and Culture Cave on 16th and 17th May in Clontarf.

Last year they decided to expand the business to include more retail space to house the ever-increasing range of beautiful and authentic quality Aboriginal-designed products. The new design includes the addition of a brand new area (the Culture Cave @ Unit 3 in the same complex) to host and conduct a range of workshops (such as Bush Tucker Awareness and Aboriginal Cultural Workshops), as well as providing a unique space for hire.

From humble beginnings of a small tarp at local markets selling a few didgeridoos, to the large store-front premises they have today, Dreamtime Kullilla-Art have been operating on the Redcliffe Peninsula for nearly 20 years.

Michael is an internationally renowned Aboriginal Artist, Craftsman, Didgeridoo Performer, and Cultural & Spiritual Educator. He has performed and exhibited internationally, nationally, and locally. He is also a Traditional Owner of the Kullilli/Murawarri Nations and a respected Aboriginal Statesman and Cultural Ambassador for his People.

Michael and Jo have cleverly integrated this year's NAIDOC Theme in with their opening:

WE ALL STAND ON SACRED GROUND
Learn – Respect – Celebrate

Everyone is invited to come along to learn, respect, and celebrate Aboriginal Culture, and they have invited Special Guests to help with this process. Guests include:

- Dale Chapman, Aboriginal Bush Tucker Chef who will conduct workshops on raising awareness for bush tucker food;
- Witjuti Grub Bush Food Nursery will conduct workshops on bushfood plants for the home gardener;
- Goombuckah Culture Bus from the Sunshine Coast will bring Gubbi Gubbi places and culture to life on board this 34 seater bus - a living history and story-telling experience with Kerry Neill;
- Michael Connolly will conduct Cultural Workshops on everything you wanted to know about Aboriginal Culture but are too afraid to ask!!!

There will be food and refreshments available over the weekend so you can experience native foods.

HISTORY MYSTERIES IN REDCLIFFE

Redcliffe's very own Lancaster McShea Productions is retelling Queensland's History in the witty four-part TV series, "History Mysteries". This production portrays early colonial accounts of Queensland, and more specifically Redcliffe history, with a clever balance of "tongue in cheek" humour and educational value, similar to the successful BBC series "Horrible Histories."

The characters are colourful and larger than life, depicting real people from history and bringing them to life with a heavy sprinkle of absurdity and humour that will keep these historical figures alive in our memories.

"We have taken true historical facts and twisted them 'a little' to make this story more intriguing," says Richard Lancaster of Lancaster McShea Productions.

The hilariously cantankerous Bertie

Banksia is an important character throughout the TV series, whose role it is to continually butt in to ensure that the historical characters don't tell too many furphies.

This is an Intoto Films presentation under the direction of Lancaster McShea Productions. Richard Lancaster, who can list among his many accomplishments, television producer, writer, journalist, broadcaster, and celebrity manager, is responsible for research, script and direction. Ben McShea, a professional photographer of 20 years, is director of photography and in charge of technical direction.

The great costumes supplied by Have a Fun Time: Fancy Dress and Party Supplies in Redcliffe enhance the authenticity of the period.

A cast of quality actors is participating in this series.

"Both Ben and I are very pleased with the acting ability of actors such as Peter Lovely, Lee Heather, Barry Tuton, Toby Chittenden, Ursula Clarke, Brian Lee Watson and Alex Enborisoff," Richard says.

There are four working titles, From Flagship to Wreck – The Saga of HMQS Gayundah, The Unsettling of Queensland or Putting the Queen into Queensland, The Great Land Boom, Boom Bitty Boom Boom, My Kingdom, My Kingdom for a Railway!

The first episode involving the Gayundah story is due to finish production in June 2015.

"At the moment I am speaking to television stations and also we will be speaking to Education Queensland in the hope of showing it in Queensland schools as a medium for showing local Queensland history," says Richard.

ACROPOLIS THEN & NOW

Comino's Arcade is a product of the chain migration of Greeks, specifically the Comino family, into Queensland during the first half of the 20th century. This migration changed the nature of the hospitality industry in Queensland.

Comino's Arcade is important in demonstrating the development of the hospitality and retail industries in Queensland in the first half of the twentieth century, particularly in a seaside setting. An ambitious civilian building project for its time, the building also illustrates the importance of Redcliffe as a rest and recreation centre for troops during World War II.

Comino's Arcade is a three storey brick building on Redcliffe Parade, built by Greek businessman Arthur Comino between 1942 and 1944.

On the 16th May 2015 Seaside Artists Gallery is hosting the event "Acropolis Then and Now..." which is a tribute to not only Arthur and Mary Comino, but also to their daughter Betty Conomos (nee Comino) who is celebrating her 70th year in Redcliffe.

This event/exhibition will celebrate the contribution of the Comino's family and Greek community to Redcliffe. This is also a celebration of the shopkeepers in the arcade who have been as diverse as butchers, bakers, hairdressers, jewellers, ice cream shops and Redcliffe's very first Italian restaurant. We will be featuring Greek, Italian, and British food and music and our resident artist will provide artwork focusing on Greek and European culture or a Redcliffe theme.

"What makes this specific part of Redcliffe so special, especially for me, is that it is one of our few heritage listed buildings. We have lost too many buildings or icons of Redcliffe and its history to developments and progress, so to have such a beautiful building to be able to explore and research to learn just a small part of our peninsula's rich history means the world to me", says Anita Deeks, owner of Have a Fun Time Fancy Dress and organiser of the event.

The Woody Point area was destined to become a favourite spot with the first tourist, Matthew Flinders, landing there in July 1799.

Robert Scott had purchased 24 acres in the vicinity from the Crown in 1864. At first the hotel was called the St. Leonards Hotel named after the local estate. The land was subdivided in 1883 the name changed to the Great Western in 1886. Several licensees had run the Hotel before it was destroyed by fire in 1907. The new Palace Hotel was built in 1909.

Harold and Lillian (Lil) Filmer purchased the freehold in 1926/27 after leasing the Palace for several years. Their son Ken, who ran an electrical business, and his wife Mavis managed the Hotel from 1952. The Bee Gees performed there in 1959. They each received a bottle of Coca Cola and their parents Hugh and Barbara enjoyed a beer for their efforts.

Ken died in 1961 and Lil leased the Hotel for three years before returning with Mavis as manager in 1964. Lil was quoted as saying, "I have missed the companionship of all my customers over the past three years; the Palace has always been run like a club and a home from home for my many friends." Sadness prevailed with Harold passing away that same year.

The Filmer team of Lil and Mavis and Daisy (twin sister of Lil after Daisy's husband Arthur had died earlier) continued until Daisy and Lil passed away within months of each other in late 1974-Jan.1975. The licence had been transferred to Mavis in 1971. July 1977 marked the Golden Jubilee of family ownership of the Hotel. Mavis' only child, son Leigh, was in a fatal car accident in 1995 in Melbourne.

The unique family connection stopped when Mavis retired in 2002 at the age of 81. For 80 years, it was known as Filmers Palace Hotel and the new owners reverted to the Palace Hotel. Mavis Jean Filmer passed away on Sunday 5 December 2004, aged 83 years. Demolition of the building took place in December 2014.

MAD MAX: FURY ROAD

Haunted by his turbulent past, Mad Max believes the best way to survive is to wander alone. Nevertheless, he becomes swept up with a group fleeing across the Wasteland in a War Rig driven by an elite Imperator, Furiosa. They are escaping a Citadel tyrannized by the Immortan Joe, from whom something irreplaceable has been taken. Enraged, the Warlord marshals all his gangs and pursues the rebels ruthlessly in the high-octane Road War that follows.

Mousetrap Theatre is going back to the 70s! “Class of ’77” is a new Australian Musical, written by David Hines and directed by Tanja Stanley and Sophie Even.

The show takes the audience back to the late 1970s to meet a class of high school students as they prepare to leave school for university and life. We then meet the same group 15 years later at their high school reunion, by which time many things have changed not only for the cast, but also in the outside world. The central plot revolves around Michael (Timothy Kennedy) and the love of his life, Jenny (Angela Jan). As school comes to an end, Michael expects Jenny to follow him to Sydney and to share a flat with him as they go to university. Jenny, however, has other ideas, and after talking with Linda (Sharon Walkerden), a ‘free spirit’ who is into women’s liberation, she breaks up with Michael to pursue her own path. Meanwhile, Linda herself has decided to skip university altogether and travel – which boyfriend Bruce (Steve McLachlan) cannot understand. Other students are planning their future, including Jodie (Susie Bushnell), and Olga (Elke Gorenflo) the foreign exchange student who can’t really focus on much except having a good time. Adam (Jason Kirby) and his mates continue to fool around and work on their Holden Torana, while Judy (Louise Pointing) and her friends dream of Countdown and boys. At the end of the year Grad Ball the class says goodbye to the 70s and heads off into the world.

You’ll find out at the reunion how things have really turned out for our “class of ’77”.

VIRTUOSO COMES TO REDCLIFFE

Suzi O'Shea

International Violinist Atilla Sautov and his group of exceptionally talented musicians will play for the first time in Redcliffe on Sunday 3rd May at the Redcliffe Cultural Centre.

Immersed in a world of music, Atilla picked up the violin and started to play at the young age of four years old. By the age of five, he had played his first recital. It comes as no surprise that he followed the footsteps of his very talented late father who played the flute, violin, guitar, piano and harmonica, as well as conducting choirs.

A child prodigy in his home town of Tashkent, Uzbekistan, Atilla went on to study in Moscow and then entertained audiences with an international solo career. He has performed in over forty countries, and has won prestigious international violin competitions.

Atilla has taken his talent all over the world performing across all the continents. When asked about the more remote performance locations, Atilla explains, "I played in 270 towns, places like Young in NSW, Long Jetty in Western Australia, these people can't see concerts in Sydney Opera House or QPAC, it's too far away. I love to travel and the musicians that play with me love to travel and I thought, why don't we take our program to them?"

The program will feature arrangements of modern classics from Michael Jackson, Sting, Led Zeppelin and Coldplay, as well as classical compositions from Paganini, Bach Vivaldi, Khachaturian and Mozart. It will also include Italian, Brazilian and Irish folk music, and local dancers from the Sharon Alback Dance School in a two-hour extravaganza and wonderful display of talent.

Atilla rivals the world's best violinists with his incredible virtuosic skills. This show truly has something for everyone and will not disappoint. For a sneak peek, check out his YouTube video and see for yourself.

REDCLIFFE CITY CHOIR TURNS 30

Suzi O'Shea

In celebration of its 30th year, The Redcliffe City Choir is hosting two concerts in May. The Redcliffe Guide caught up with recently elected president Brian Fowler to find out more about the choir.

How did the choir begin?

Around 1985 a group of Redcliffe locals got together with a common interest in some quality choral singing. Then, the Redcliffe City Council encouraged the group and hence the inclusion of "City" in its name.

Can you tell us more about the members of the choir?

We currently number between 35 and 40 members ranging in age. There is a variety of previous experience: from people who used to sing in church choirs, or people who have recently moved to the area, and are looking for this type of social opportunity.

What do you enjoy most about the choir?

I have had formal music training in the past and have been a member of various choirs in different cities all my life. When I moved from Cairns a couple of years ago, I went to one of their practice sessions. I was highly impressed by their standard and the professionalism of the conductor. The rest is history as they say.

What makes this choir unique?

There are other similar choirs in Brisbane of this type, but this is the only one of this quality and standard in the Redcliffe/Moreton area that I know of. There are a number that cater to a more modern or pop interest, but this one caters to the more serious side of choral music, and the "standard repertoire."

What can people expect when they come to see a performance?

A polished performance of music that they will not be able to access from the digital media. Another of our stated aims is to make available this type of music for the enjoyment of the public.

The concerts in May have a theme of "Reflection and Renewal" which is appropriate for the post-Easter period.

*Peninsula Toastmasters president

GET UP ON YOUR SOAPBOX

Peninsula Toastmasters is giving Moreton Bay locals the chance to fill a public space with passionate oratory on Monday 4th May.

Event coordinator and Peninsula Toastmasters President Kris Kamusinski says the idea follows the example of the Speakers' Corner in Hyde Park, London.

"We're promoting free speech and, most importantly, giving locals the opportunity to realise their public speaking ability.

Participants will be encouraged to take to the Soapbox and will be given a topic to speak on for 90 seconds – an impromptu speech with no warning and no time to organise their thoughts.

"We'll give speakers some brief feedback and a point for improvement to take away. This is a great chance for people to build their public speaking skills and confidence," Kris said.

"Whether you're a teacher, a student, an accountant, or a small business owner, it's important to know how to confidently present your viewpoint without preparation."

Research shows that overcoming the fear of public speaking increases your level of testosterone and lowers cortisol – the chemical secreted under stress.

"You can see this in action by checking out the video on our website of one of our young stars, Allan Murray delivering a passionate oration on a totally banal subject," says Kris.

ONE STEP CLOSER TO A HOMELESS DROP-IN CENTRE FOR REDCLIFFE!

The much-needed Drop-In Centre for Redcliffe's homeless will be brought to reality thanks to Club Shambles, Quest and Dolphins Leagues Club who are co-presenting the community fundraiser, Rockin' 4 the Homeless 2.0, on Saturday 9th May.

"The centre will provide a space, a building, a centrally located place within the Redcliffe community where we can support families, young people and adults of all ages and abilities, who may be homeless, experiencing life challenges or disadvantages," said key beneficiary spokesperson, Ros Thomsen.

Carmel Riethmuller, Director of Chameleon House, explained that the model of care proposed for the Drop-In Centre is an integrated model, which draws from some exemplary best practice approaches like the 139 Club in Brisbane and the Community Caring approach utilised by Breakfast Club.

"Government, non-government, community, business and individuals from all walks of life will provide a diverse and integrated approach," said Ms Riethmuller.

It is envisioned that the drop-in centre will provide assistance with matters such as housing issues, finance and budgeting, transport, advocacy, emotional and social support. However, it will also provide facilities most of the community take for granted, such as showers, laundry facilities, meals, food parcels, clothing and linen, household items and much more.

"All monies raised via the Rockin' 4 the Homeless 2.0 event will be donated to the drop-in centre with Chameleon House and Breakfast Club being the key beneficiaries," stated Executive Producer and Artistic Director, Mr Dan Nebe.

Those attending will not be disappointed with a line up including Mental as Anything, Phil Emmanuel, Team Utopia, Seleen McAllister, The Counterfeit Umbrellas, Steve Skinner and many more.

Starting at 2pm on Saturday 9th May at Dolphins Leagues Club, Redcliffe, the community can expect not only great music, but also fantastic raffle prizes, an awesome environment, and that nervous anticipation through the Rock-a-thon as they strive to raise $50,000!

"Entry to the club is free and tickets to access the main stages, including Mental as Anything, are $20pp," advised Mr Nebe.

OVER 30 BANDS ON 3 STAGES

DOLPHINS LEAGUES CLUB REDCLIFFE QLD

BANDS TO BATTLE IT OUT AT MON KOMO HOTEL

After the huge success of its first Battle of the Bands competition in 2014, Mon Komo Hotel is once again calling on all up-and-coming bands to battle it out against one another for its upcoming Battle of the Bands competition that kicks off in May.

The battle will see bands of all genres perform live on stage as they compete against other groups for the main prize of $1000 cash or a paid gig at Mon Komo Hotel.

The event will kick off on Sunday 17th May at 5pm and will run over eight weeks. A panel of judges, including representatives from G.S.W Sound and Hire, will determine each heat.

Registration for the first heat is currently underway, and Mon Komo Hotel's Director of Hospitality Matt Newberry said they are eagerly encouraging all bands in the area to get involved by signing up.

"We really encourage all bands from the area to get involved – it is the ultimate break for emerging groups to showcase their music live while having the chance to impress industry professionals as well as perform in front of hundreds of people," Mr. Newberry explained.

"We are looking to have 20 of the best bands perform in total. However, this may increase depending on the level of entries we receive. The competition is also open to both covers and original bands from all genres of music, whether it is an indie folk band, rock and roll or a jazz ensemble – we welcome all entrants.

"Our aim is to have an extensive mix of styles and genres, to really create an intense and exciting competition. The only guidelines are that each member of the band needs to be over the age of 18, seeing as they will be performing in a licensed venue."

Registration for Mon Komo Hotel's Battle of the Bands is free and closes on 1st May 2015.

For more information regarding this Battle of the Bands event or to register, please email: marketing@monkomohotel.com.au or visit www.monkomohotel.com.au.

Terry Heasman and Hayley Swaisland moved to Australia from the UK in 2012. After scouring Brisbane for a place they liked, they decided to move to Redcliffe. “We have no desire to live anywhere else as we fell in love with the place as soon as we drove across the bridge,” says Hayley.

Hayley and Terry were looking to start their own business, and after a lot of thinking and researching decided to try their hand at leisure hire company.

Hayley explains, “We had tried it ourselves when we had been to different beaches and locations, we enjoyed ourselves in doing so, then it dawned on us that we could apply to get a beach permit for Redcliffe by the Jetty. As it is a family orientated area, we felt it would be an advantage to start this up to offer families something else to do.”

This realization set the wheels in motion. Once all the necessary permits were approved, Redcliffe Jetty Leisure Hire was launched during the Easter Long Weekend.

Redcliffe Jetty Leisure Hire is situated on the beach to the left of the jetty on Redcliffe esplanade. They offer services such as Stand Up Paddle Boards, Sit on Top Kayaks and Pedal Boats to hire for half an hour to an hour, or longer if desired.

Stand up paddle boarding (or “supping” as the aficionados refer to it) is fast becoming a popular fitness trend, working out the core and assisting with stability and strength. Pedal boats are a nod to the good old days and have such a wonderful retro appeal. Kayaking is another great way to get fit or simply take in the views at a slower pace. Life jackets are also provided with the kayaks.

These activities are a great way to appreciate the wonderful part of the world we live in, be out by the sea, and can be enjoyed by people of all ages. So, whether you are after a way to squash boredom, get outside, or looking for something fun and different to do, Redcliffe Jetty Leisure Hire has something to suit your needs.

Shorncliffe Pier Rebuild Commences

Deagon Ward Councillor Victoria Newton said rebuilding works commence this month for the new Shorncliffe Pier following the final removal of the old Pier.

“I know there is a great deal of mixed emotions in our community as we watched the old Shorncliffe Pier come down – the old Pier held a great deal of personal memories for so many people over its 130 year history,” Cr Newton said.

“While it has been very sad the Pier go, I know we’re all eagerly awaiting the construction of the new Pier which has been promised to be open in time for next year’s Bluewater Festival at Easter-time 2016.

“Work to completely remove the existing Pier have been completed last month – with the rebuilding works starting with the installation of the new piles to support the new structure.

“People living or working near the site or visiting the park will have noticed some of the sound from the pile driving.

“Some of these piles are for the special temporary platform which will support the construction machinery where the new Pier lands close to the shore, while others are for the permanent piles for the new Pier.

“Visitors to Lower Moora Park will notice the large crane which is in place to assist with the works.

“It’s quite a sight to watch these works take shape – and while much of the parkland and car parking spaces are available to the community to use there will be times when vehicles relating to these works will be accessing the site.

“So if you’re heading to Lower Moora Park please be sure to take care and follow the instructions of traffic controllers when necessary.

“While there have been some delays in March due to the wet weather, hopefully with the drier winter months ahead of us the new Shorncliffe Pier will take shape quickly.”

Having commenced in April, the permanent piling works from the temporary platform and also from a construction barge will commence and continue to mid-August 2015, weather and construction conditions permitting.

The concrete girders and headstocks are being cast off-site to be ready for placement following the piling works.

Once the piling works are completed and the supporting concrete structures are in place, work will commence on the timber decking works which are expected to start around July 2015.

TACKLING MORETON BAY!

Mark Templeton

It is Tailor time in the Moreton Bay area and we need to make the most of the cooler weather to put your fish on the table.

It's time to ensure we are geared up, rods checked, reels checked and serviced if needed, and that the all-important tackle is up to speed.

There will be a few fishos out there that may not have serviced their gear prior to putting it away last season, so it is really important to get it checked now and make sure you're not left behind.

For those that have not chased Tailor before, there is no big mystery on what to do or what you need. A 2-4kg or a 3-6kg rod is ample, and a reel between 2500 – 4000 will get the job done. Now, if you want a reel that will last you almost a lifetime, grab an Alvey Reel - no mess, no fuss, and it gets the job done.

A few of us use both Mono and Braided lines, but this comes down to personal preference as one does not normally fish better than the other. If you are just getting into it I would recommend using a quality Mono line like Schneider or Super 100 and then you may upgrade when you are ready.

What do I use, Bait or Lures? Well, I do a lot of my Tailor fishing at night on a high tide, and after a long day I like to relax a little, so I use either Blue Baits or Pilchards. I cast it out with a small ball sinker and a set of either 2/0, 3/0 or 4/0 Gang hooks (I use Tru-Turns) and sit back and relax with friends.

I use lures during early morning or late afternoon that are small slugs with a single hook or my favorite Halco Redhead Popper.

Tailor will be wide spread, from the mouth of the Brisbane River through to Bribie Island.

For those that are new to Tailor fishing I would strongly suggest a packet of Band-Aids as they have very sharp teeth!

If you would like more fishing tips, or you would like us to cover particular topics, visit www.tackleland.com.au and drop us a line.

Enjoy your time with the family and "Maintain the Passion."
