CHRISTMAS CHEER IN SCARBOROUGH

by Melissa Bailey

.....

Each year, during December, the Scarborough Seaside Village is adorned with lights, tinsel and other decorations to celebrate Christmas. It's hard to miss the 10 3-metre tall Christmas trees that line Landsborough Avenue alongside coffee and boutique shops.

Scarborough Lights Up Redcliffe Inc is a not-for-profit group of volunteers that has been bringing old fashioned Christmas cheer to the streets of Redcliffe since 2006. And it couldn't be done without the sponsorships and in-kind support provide by the local business.

The Scarborough Lights Christmas event has attracted around 100,000 people to Scarborough during the Christmas school holidays since it began.

Partnering with the Moreton Bay Regional Council, Scarborough Lights works to provide Redcliffe Peninsula's premier Christmas event Christmas by the Sea, which is always held on the first Saturday in December.

Division Five Councillor James Houghton said Scarborough would be transformed into a magical Christmas village.

"Throughout December, the Scarborough precinct will be lit up by 10 huge Christmas trees, which will provide a wonderful light display," Councillor Houghton said.

"Coming along to Christmas by the Sea at Scarborough Beach Parklands on Saturday, December 5, is a great opportunity to see these 10 sparkling Christmas trees! It will be a Christmas event to remember, so I encourage residents from across the region to come and help us celebrate."

The Christmas by the Sea street party will feature markets and roving entertainment, while Scarborough Beach Park will showcase Santa's Village, rides, an animal farm, fireworks and festive performances by the Redcliffe City Choir, the Multitude Choir, and country music group DOZZI.

You can find more information by visiting www.scarboroughlights.org.au or www.moretonbay.qld.gov.au/christmas or visit the Facebook page at www.facebook.com/scarboroughlights. Contact Sue White on 0438 661 904 or email info@scarboroughlights.org.au.

Wishing you all a very Merry Christmas and an enjoyable evening at Scarborough Lights! ●●

CHRISTMAS SURVIVAL TIPS

by Suzi O'Shea

Andy Williams sang “It’s the most wonderful time of the year”...but that’s not always the case for some.

Along with the cheer, the presents and the cocktails, there could also be stress, family tension and over indulgence. So here are a few tips for a Zen Christmas this year.

Think outside the present box

Braving a shopping centre during December is enough to send even the calmest person over the edge. So be creative in the way you shop. The earlier you go, the smaller the crowds and the bigger the selection. Take advantage of shopping centres that offer extended hours and try to go during dinner time to beat the crowds. Alternatively you could embrace the new age of technology and shop online or click to collect, all from the comfort of your couch. You don’t even need pants!

Write it all down

If you are hosting family, friends or a motely crew for orphans Christmas, lists are a great way to stay on track as well as attain a sense of accomplishment. Here are a few ideas to get you started:

- Menu: Note all the food you plan to have from canapés to dessert and have all your recipes ready;
- Shopping list: For all food ingredients, drinks, decorations, presents and trimmings. Don’t forget the toilet paper;
- To do list: All the jobs (big and small) that need to be done to prepare the house and rooms;
- Guest list: Who is coming, do they need accommodation, food requirements, place settings and any other needs your guests may have;
- A YOU list: Write down what you need to do for you on the big day. Make this list fun, open presents, have long shower, have a morning coffee in peace. No matter what your day looks like, take some time out to reflect and enjoy some quiet.

Move around

With delicious turkey, ham, chocolate and cocktails, it’s hard not to go a bit nuts at Christmas time and eat your weight in food. Treat yourself and enjoy the delights this time of year has to offer. But if your feeling a little guilty or full from over indulging, try going for a walk or a bike ride, or get active in the pool. Incorporate some kind of fun activity with the family or use a long walk to burn off lunch (or as a way to escape that over zealous uncle). Exercise releases endorphins, a rush of much needed happy chemicals in your brain, to help you remain balanced and cheery. Remember to keep hydrated and drink plenty of water.

And remember, Christmas is about spreading joy. Visit someone who may be lonely, donate what you can to those who need it more and let all your loved ones know how much they mean to you. Relax and enjoy some time to do something special just for you. Have a fabulous festive season. ●●

Personalised Advent Calendars

There is nothing more exciting than counting down the days til Christmas. Make your own advent calendars and include special little treats for your kids and loved ones. This is a great alternative to sugary treats and can be as simple or involved as your budget allows.

The natural rustic look is my favourite.

Gift in a jar

It's hard to remember the world before the Mason jar. So versatile and trendy chic, these vessels make a fantastic all-in-one gift. Simply choose a theme, find a fabulous jar, select small gifts to put in your jar and set a task to make the jar as festive looking as you can.

My favourite is the Spa in a Jar. A very inexpensive gift of luxury. Grab a bath bomb, some bubbles, tea light candles and some beauty samples, delicately arrange in the jar, add some ribbon and a handmade gift tag and you are on your way to gift giving karma points.

DIY Ornaments

Here's a great idea to entertain the kids and save your fancy heirloom ornaments from destruction. Get all your old toilet rolls, paper plates, crayons, paint and pom poms for an all out Christmas craft explosion. There is no limit to the wondrous creations of art your children can produce.

This is a great family activity and a very special treat when it comes time to decorate and the kids can contribute their own masterpiece to the tree.

GET CRAFTY THIS CHRISTMAS

by Suzi O'Shea

Be it a lack of funds or a chance to express your creative flair, here are a few Christmas projects to sink your teeth into –

Festive Cocktails

If a trip to Spotlight instils a certain terror, there are other ways to unleash the creative genius within. Add a dash of cheer, a twist of fun and create your very own signature cocktail to impress your guests this year. Think outside the box and add a secret ingredient, which could be as simple as a hint of cinnamon or as crazy as a hidden hot pepper. Just be sure to taste test your drink before you try it out on your unsuspecting guests.

Fun with Colour

The latest craze sweeping the nation is adult colouring books. These ornate and beautiful pictures make a terrific base for DIY envelopes, gift tags and a range of other craft projects. Whether you colour them in or simply leave them monochrome, it is a simple way to add some intricacy to any craft creation over the holidays.

A WINTER WONDERLAND IN PINE RIVERS

by Kylie Thompson

From 4pm on Saturday November 28, Pine Rivers Park on Gympie Road at Strathpine will be playing host to a family fun day for Christmas in the Park. The park will be transformed into a winter wonderland as the community ushers in the Christmas season with style.

Though unfortunately his close friends Hoot and Hootabelle will be on the night watch and unable to drop by, Jimmy Giggle will be starting off the festivities onstage at 4pm, with a range of talents including the Bananas in Pyjamas, and the Starz Production Team keeping the party going until headline performer Tim Campbell takes to the stage. There will be a constant parade of talent on the main stage, so bring some chairs or a blanket and settle in for an afternoon of entertainment with the family.

For those with kids in constant motion, you can stretch your legs with a tour of the markets and stalls, and there will be rides for the kids to explore, though be aware that these will cost.

Christmas markets are often a wonderful way to find unique gifts for the hard to buy for in your family or circle of friends, and the Moreton Bay region has an incredibly talented artisan community creating an abundance of beautiful wares.

Though the stage events are free, the doors to Santa's Village can be opened with a gold coin donation, and kids will love the face painting, Christmas craft workshops, and animal farm.

Of course, no Christmas event is complete without a visit from Santa, and after visiting the stage to welcome guests, Santa will be in his village, ready to hear Christmas requests and get photos with families. Please be aware that there will not be professional photographers with Santa in his village, so don't forget to bring your camera!

The event will close with a spectacular fireworks display from 8pm, so as always, make sure your pets are secure if you live anywhere near the park, and consider ear plugs for children spooked by loud noises. ●●

ROCK AROUND THE CHAPEL

by Michael Griffiths

Sleigh bells will be ringing at Rothwell on Saturday 5 December as the Moreton Bay Symphony Orchestra tune up for a not-so-silent night, presenting their annual Christmas Concert for 2015.

In their final concert of the year, conductor Bronwyn Gibbs will take the Orchestra, Youth Symphony and Junior Strings through a set of powerful orchestral arrangements of well-loved Christmas carols. Compered by Ros Booth, the afternoon will also feature the stunning talent of soloist Julie McCoy and the JAFFA Choir under the helm of conductor Jenny Lake.

The young and young at heart are welcome and invited to join the festivities and sing along to all the favourites, written for this joyous occasion, as well as attending a sumptuous afternoon tea.

Kicking off at 2pm at Grace Lutheran College Chapel, the concert will feature Franz Gruber's beautiful adaption of Silent Night, as well as Australian carols and music written especially for Christmas films.

The Moreton Bay Symphony Orchestra is a not-for-profit organisation relying solely on community donations and support of its concerts and fundraising activities. Alongside the main ensemble, the MBSO also boasts a Youth Symphony, an auditioned orchestra for those 25 years and younger, and a Junior Strings group featuring brilliantly talented musicians aged under 15.

This is the only youth orchestra in the North Brisbane region, providing an opportunity for young people to experience playing in a symphony orchestra who might not otherwise have the chance due to financial or geographical reasons.

Should the afternoon's performance instil a love of music performance into any budding musicians amongst the younger member of the audience, the orchestra is currently auditioning for places in the Youth Orchestra and Junior Strings.

What a wonderful opportunity to give back to such a fabulous community group that brings so much joy to our lives. ●●

YABBEY ROAD

by Kylie Thompson

When Alan and Cathy Bray decided to open a fish and chip shop of their own, they knew they wanted to bring their passion into the workplace, and make it more than a simple take away shop.

"My husband's a mad Beatles fan, and always has been," explains Cathy. "His first record was The Beatles."

It made sense, then, that the musical icons played a part in the business. Alan and Cathy created Yabbey Road; a traditional English fish and chipper decked out in Beatles regalia and situated right near iconic Bee Gees Way.

"The Beatles and the Bee Gees were friends, they knew each other. So it's got that sort of link to Bee Gees Way." Given that the Bee Gees often mentioned the Beatles as a source of inspiration, it seems a fitting tribute.

Quality and value for money are important to Alan. "Everything's made fresh, right down to the battering and the crumbing of the fish. All the ingredients that can be made, we make. It's all to-order."

This isn't your typical, basic burger and chips so much as a gourmet indulgence for under $10. Chef Joel is so passionate about his work at Yabbey Road that he left a job at the Sheraton to focus on creating succulent burgers you won't find anywhere else.

Though Yabbey Road is a new addition to Redcliffe, the eatery is already building up a loyal following of regulars, and it isn't just because the venue is licensed. Though the food is amazing, atmosphere is just as important to Alan and Cathy.

While there is memorabilia to covet and themed food names to amuse, the true magic rests in the family's warmth and humour. Combine friendly service with some of the best burgers and calamari you'll ever taste, and it's no surprise people keep coming back.

Yabbey Road is open from 10am Monday through Saturday, and serves a traditional English breakfast from 7am on Sundays. For some great music, and a little piece of England on the Redcliffe waterfront, be sure to head in to Yabbey Road. ●●

A WORD FROM OUR REPRESENTATIVES

Koliana Winchester

The Moreton Bay Region University Precinct was officially launched on 23 October at the former mill site in Paper Avenue Petrie.

Council is working with commercial advisor KPMG to select a suitable university provider.

Works will start next year with the first students expected to commence in 2020.

The university will assist in servicing the needs of the projected Moreton Bay region population of 500,000 by 2035.

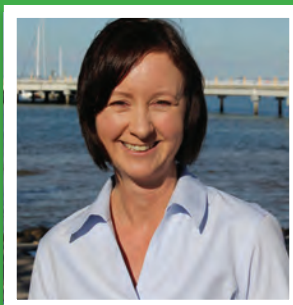

Council will work closely with the university provider to develop a vision for the site to provide tertiary education for 20,000 students as well as other uses including a potential hospital, technology park and community facilities.

The Moreton Bay Region University Project is anticipated to provide an economic benefit of $950 million providing jobs in construction, health and education sectors.

It has been a pleasure working as your representative throughout 2015 and I wish to take this opportunity to wish you and your loved ones a Merry Christmas and Happy New Year.

Christmas brings family and friends together and is the perfect time to reflect on and appreciate all we have on offer in this special part of Australia we call home.

Yvette D'Ath MP

As 2015 draws to a close I am confident that Redcliffe will remain a great place to live work and play. Access to the Peninsula is set to improve with commencement of the Gateway north upgrade and the scheduled completion of the Morton Bay rail link in mid-2016. I encourage Redcliffe residents to participate in the Translink consultations (www.Translink.com.au or call 1312 30) to ensure that proposed bus timetables and routes are integrated with the train services and meet your travel needs.

It has been pleasing to see strong participation in Redcliffe's local community, sporting and recreational groups with many receiving funding in 2015 through the Gambling Community Benefit Fund. State funding for dredging at the Clontarf boat ramp has also improved access for boaties and the new artificial Turner Reef off Scarborough is already benefiting the marine ecology as well as recreational fishers.

I look forward to working alongside residents to get the best outcomes for Redcliffe in 2016. I hope you get the chance to relax and spend time with loved ones over the festive season. Drive carefully, stay safe and enjoy the season.

Luke Howarth MP

It's almost Christmas and I'd like to take this opportunity to thank you for your contribution to our community over the past 12 months. Please come along to the Community Christmas Carols that will be held on Sunday 13 December at the Redcliffe Youth Space. The event will begin at 4pm, with carols starting at 7pm and fireworks after.

I hope you get to spend time with family and friends over Christmas and New Year's. We can get so busy throughout the year that we start taking the special people in our lives for granted, so make use of your break to work on your relationships.

Our local churches will be holding Christmas masses, and I'd encourage anyone who'd like to know more about the true meaning of Christmas to come along to one of these. Take care, and I look forward to catching up with you in 2016!

A CELEBRATION OF WORLD MUSIC

By Melissa Bailey

Attilla Sautov will return to the Redcliffe Cultural Centre to celebrate World Music with 'Symphonic Rock' on December 18. Joined with award winning jazz vocalist and special guest Ingrid James, altogether they will perform some of the most recognisable music from around the world, including Zorba the Greek, Hava Nagila, Gypsy Dance, Mexican Hat Dance and the Brazilian Tico Tico, plus works from his new album 'FUSION'.

Sautov is a musician like no other. Having been taught the violin initially by his father in his home nation of Uzbekistan at the age of four, he was playing his first concert performances of Vivaldi and Bach Concertos by the tender age of six. His career has included performances on all continents and he has been a member and concertmaster of several orchestras throughout Europe.

A distinguished man, he is passionate about music and delivers a strong but beautiful expression through his violin. Having committed himself to classical training and going on to perform in over 40 countries as a concert master and soloist, Sautov has recently transformed from classical violinist to rock violinist with a new found enthusiasm and vitality in a contemporary style of music.

In November 2014, Sautov directed a successful Classical Rock Fusion performance with his Symphonic Rock Ensemble (violin, guitars, keyboard and drums). Due to the popularity of the concert, Sautov immediately planned more and performed recently at a well-received event in Rothwell with the Ensemble.

"This music is food for the soul," says one of Sautov's fans and attendees of a recent concert.

To experience this unique and captivating performance at the Redcliffe Cultural Centre, Downs St, Redcliffe; on Friday 18 December from 7:30pm, please go to www.attillasautov.com or call 3283 0400 to book. ●●

MUSIC BY THE SEA FESTIVAL

The 14th Festival will present classical, jazz, folk, and world music.

The festival will feature international, interstate and local professional and emerging artists. Festival has grown in popularity and has an important place in the cultural calendar of Brisbane. Our audiences will enjoy quality music in the air-conditioned Sandgate Town Hall in the heart of the beautiful seaside suburb, Sandgate. Besides the ticketed performances at the Town Hall, there will be free performances in local cafes and bars.

Friday night will overflow with passion of Flamenco Fire by Australian and Spanish artists. Saturday program will feature the queen of Australian folk music, ARIA award winner and songbird Knaveish Mazzella, followed by Scott Cook, a roots balladeer from Canada. Visitors from UK, The Poozies bring more folk crossed with soul and Gaelic. In the deserts of Rajasthan Australian artists Jeff Lang & Bobby Singh met Asin Langa & Bhungar Manganiyar and remarkable collaboration commenced - Maru Tarang.

Saturday headliner is Circle of Rhythm with Greg Sheehan, Ben Walsh and Bobby Singh, who changed the landscape of music in Australia and are beyond the boundaries of the standard percussion group.

Sunday is dedicated to classical music. Zoe Black (violin) and Joe Chindamo (piano) will perform Bach's Goldberg Variations, with newly composed counterpart for the violin by Joe Chindamo and performed recently at the Carnegie Hall. With stunning reviews of recently released album by Simon Tedeschi, who will perform one of the greatest works in the entire keyboard literature, Mussorgsky's Pictures at an Exhibition. Followed by Kupka's Piano ensemble, which fills a much-needed place in Brisbane's music scene, profiling the best and latest from European, Australian and international modern art music. Elena Kats-Chernin will present works from her new piano album published by Boosey & Hawkes. This new compilation traces pieces from her childhood like to the present day. Festival closes with a Sydney based The Australian Haydn Ensemble (quartet), who has quickly established a reputation as a high calibre period instrument group specialising in late baroque and early classical repertoire. Its rapid success has firmly established it as a strong presence in the Australian music scene.

REDCLIFFE'S NYE EXTRAVAGANZA

by Kylie Thompson

Whether you're looking for a quieter way to reflect over the past year, or want to bring 2016 in with a bang, there's something for everyone in Redcliffe this New Years Eve.

Leagues Ahead at The Redcliffe Leagues Club

For those wanting a low-cost, high fun party, the Redcliffe Leagues Club is the place to go. Jukebox Heroes are headlining the Leagues Club's NYE celebrations, bringing the best rock tunes of the 80s and 90s to life, and keeping audiences dancing through the night. The Legends Lounge will be the place to be for Club members and guests wanting to dance their way to the New Year. DJ Luke will kick off festivities from 7pm before Jukebox Heroes help guests' rock their way to 2016.

A Whole New World at Pilpel By The Sea

Pilpel By The Sea will be welcoming 2016 with events both family-friendly and 18+. For the families, there's the Arabian Nights themed party, which runs from 4:30 until 8pm. There'll be food stalls, face painting, Arabian dance shows, and a belly dancing competition for the adventurous. And if you've ever wondered what it'd be like to ride a camel across the sands, well, now is your chance. There will be camel rides on Sutton's Beach! There'll be fireworks at 7:30pm, so the kids can see all the action before heading home to bed. The Arabian Nights family event is free entry, though some stalls and rides will cost.

For the grown-ups, the Arabian Nights theme continues from 8pm, with two events set to kick on until the early hours. For $45, you can purchase a ticket to either the Roof Top Bar or the Middle Eastern Marquee, and $65 will get you an All Access pass, letting you wander between the two. If you're interested in making a night of it with your friends, group discounts are available. The Roof Top Bar will have a live DJ, mouth-watering Pilpel foods, a photo booth and cocktails- as well as prizes for the best costume. Down in the Middle Eastern Marquee and Shisha Lounge there will be delectable Pilpel eats, roaming belly dancers and an Arabian dance show, a fortune-teller, Middle Eastern Music, and a live band. With a massive fireworks display at the stroke of midnight, partygoers can watch the light show from the balcony bar, the marquee, or even from a beanbag on the grass. For more information, contact Pilpel on 3284 3320

Mon Komo's Party-palooza

Mon Komo is playing host to the ultimate in NYE celebrations, with four events planned to usher in 2016. For those wanting a quieter night, Restaurant Caribbee will be serving a gourmet 3-course dinner from 5:30pm onwards. Adults can enjoy a divine final feast for $69, and $15 for children under 12.

Groove into the New Year with classic tunes from 'Countdown Reloaded', starting at 8pm in the Caribbean Islands Function Centre. Fans of the iconic Aussie TV show won't be disappointed. It will be a blast from the past with Rush Hour and the Countdown Reloaded Tribute Band. Tickets are $99 and include a sumptuous buffet and five hour drinks package. Bookings are essential.

For a colourful night out, Seabrae is hosting the Illumination Neon Dance Party. Guests are urged to wear white or fluoro to get the most out of the UV room, and there'll be UV paints and glow sticks available. The party kicks off at 9pm and will go all night.

Finally, the Cabana Bar and Terrace will bring all the fun of South America to Redcliffe with the CopaCabana Fiesta, featuring the Lazy Leis band, BenJam, and DJ Sin Retro Rehab. The tunes start at 5pm, continuing around the clock.

Entry to both the Illumination and Fiesta events is free before 8pm, and $25 after. For more information, or to book your tickets, contact Mon Komo on 3284 6520 or www.monkomohotel.com.au

Foreshore Fireworks set to dazzle

For those wanting to laze on blankets, ushering the New Year in with a bang, the Foreshore Fireworks- Bridge to Belvedere is launching in 2015. Though the barge itself will be located in front of the iconic Belvedere Hotel, there'll be fantastic views from the Ted Smout Bridge all the way to the Woody Point Jetty, so viewers won't be lacking for vantage points to this light extravaganza.

Latin Masquerade Carnivale at the Bel

The Belvedere Hotel will be hosting a South American extravaganza full of vibrant colour and mesmerising rhythms this NYE with the VIP Belfire event, held at the Sunset Lounge, Sunset Deck, and Café Deck. Running from 7-10pm, guests are asked to wear their best bright and colourful party fashions for a night of music, dance, and amazing foods. There will be a Latin floorshow, welcome gifts and prizes, a photo booth, as well as divine canapes and beverages packages. With a range of roving entertainment, and VIP viewing of the Foreshore Fireworks display at 8:30pm, it'll be a night to remember. Tickets are $89 for adults, and $39 for children, and going fast. After the VIP event, the Sunset Lounge will be open to the general public.

But if you're looking for a quieter NYE, the Steak and Crabhouse will be open from 5:30pm till late, so book your dinner reservations now to avoid missing out. With live entertainment, face painting for the kids, and an amazing view of the fireworks, it's a fun night out without the crowds.

With all the fireworks events happening this year, it's good to remember that pets are often spooked by fireworks. Before you start your NYE celebrations, make sure your pets are safe and secure.

“DUGONGS” DEFEND THE REEF

by Zoë Hirning

The Mavis Filmer award, given to honour environmental efforts in the Moreton Bay region, hasn't been endowed to anyone for at least ten years.

But this year, things have changed!

Local environmental group, the Dugong Collective, are the Mavis Filmer Award winners for 2015 and have been recognised for an outstanding contribution to the environment.

The group were awarded the honour at Redcliffe Seaside Artists gallery on 4th November.

The Mavis Filmer award was originally created to honour the late owner of the Filmer Palace Hotel by the original dugong group the Redcliffe Dugongs. This troupe was the brain child of Richard Lancaster and started in 1998 out of concern for a small heard of dugongs in Moreton Bay. The group grew enormously in popularity, inducting prominent members Peter Beattie and Steve Irwin. When they disbanded there was a void left within the environmental community.

Richard Lancaster, the chairman for the Mavis Filmer Awards, says the Dugong Collective filled this need to give a voice to the marine life in Moreton Bay.

“This year because of the tremendous work of Ray, Angie and Malaika Gannon in the dugong collective, we decided we would award them the Mavis Filmer Award”, he said.

“They literally picked up what the Redcliffe Dugongs were doing. They have built on what we did in the 1990s and early 2000s. The Mavis Filmer award is given by our little committee, which are all ex-Redcliffe Dugongs, to people who have done great work in relation to looking after the environment and indeed the wild creatures of the Moreton region.”

Angie Gannon, who started the Dugong Collective with her husband Ray, says they are just a group of people who love marine life and want to make a difference.

“We're just very passionate about the dugongs, turtles and dolphins in the bay,” Angie said.

Their enthusiasm for the reef has certainly attracted a lot of attention with over 5,000 people signing up to be members of the Dugong Collective. Their latest campaign is concentrated on trying to prevent littering in the bay.

“We have a lot of followers who go along picking up rubbish, fishing line, hooks and plastic from the shore. We're also trying to get the council to have a patrol sweep along the rocks where the rubbish gets caught. I know the Redcliffe council have a tractor that cleans the beach to get rid of all of the bits, but nothing gets up on to the rocks. When it's high tide or it has been stormy all the rubbish gets stuck up there.”

The group are also currently trying to raise money to install a life-size dugong statue featuring a Mother and her calf in the Redcliffe CBD area.

“There are tourist signs with the dugongs on and everybody always drives around and says well, where are they?” Angie says.

“We don't want people to actually go out there looking for the dugongs because they are very shy creatures and very important too. We thought why not have a designated spot in Redcliffe so that people can come and see it. They can sit and have a coffee and admire the statue. They don't have to go out there to disturb the dugongs.”

The Dugong Collective have a stall at the Redcliffe markets every Sunday with all of the proceeds going towards conservation efforts.

Next year the Mavis Filmer awards will be back with another deserving recipient. ●●

MUTINY ON THE GAYUNDAH

by Richard Lancaster

Mutiny on the Gayundah is the title of a visual depiction of a major historic Queensland event, few know about. It has all the elements of a good story, so drama, intrigue, fantasy, betrayal, love and above all, fun all play their part. The presentation is also Monty Pythonesque, but with a twist. Mutiny is the first in a series called Queensland's History Mysteries and is produced by Redcliffe based High Time TV under the direction of Lancaster McShea Productions.

In March 1884, the newly commissioned flagship of the then recently established Queensland Navy, HMQS Gayundah a gunboat, was seen by anxious Queenslanders, as the saviour of the young 60-year-old colony's sovereignty against perceived threats from Imperial Germany and Russia. However her arrival from Britain to Brisbane was less than spectacular. With her eccentric Captain Henry Townley Wright at the helm, unbelievable events that occurred over the next couple of years were inevitable.

This 60 minute feature length movie is not a documentary, although the story and the characters in it, are largely true. The individuals are portrayed as being larger than life, humorous personalities, thus making our history more entertaining. A cast of local actors has brought the story to life. Toby Chittenden, Lee Heather, Ursula Clark, Catherine Cox, Alex Enborisoff and Barry Tuton head an impressive cast of over 20. Costumes have been supplied by Have a Fun Time Fancy Dress and Party Supplies, adding to the crazy aspects of the feature. Richard Lancaster is responsible for the research, script and direction of the movie, while Ben McShea is in charge of technical direction. Musical direction is by Lachlan Stewart. More features in the series are planned for 2016/17.

For further information please contact Richard Lancaster on 0438 193 728 or ricails@bigpond.com.au

By the way the wreck of HMQS Gayundah can be seen on the foreshore at Woody Point on the Redcliffe Peninsula. ●●

MULTI USE CENTRE PROPOSED FOR MORETON BAY AREA

Jikishin Ju-Jitsu and Elite International MMA have had a huge growth spike in the last 12 months and have outgrown their training facility in North Lakes.

The number of students in both clubs has created a situation where the lack of space is becoming an issue for both safety and training.

Due to a lack of suitable facilities in the area, both clubs have decided to create a community based Martial Arts and Activity centre that will give other like-minded local businesses an opportunity to expand with them.

Suzanne Butler of Jikishin Ju-Jitsu said, "We originally wanted to train out of several different locations in order to service the wider Moreton Bay region, but finding suitable facilities that catered to the wide range of activities we envision has proven difficult."

Elite International MMA has also had an influx of students after head coach and renowned trainer, Jeff Bullock recently returned from the World Kickboxing Championships in the UK with two of his students securing World Championship titles.

Suzanne believes that there is an excellent opportunity for a multipurpose activity centre in the area, catering to a broad range of activities outside of Martial Arts including, but not limited to; Yoga, Pilates, Personal Training, CrossFit, Mums and Bubs activities and a suitable space for seminars, workshops and first aid training.

She said, "As business owners, we understand how difficult it can be for individuals starting on a new venture, and how restrictive traditional venues can be with finance and the policies on hiring space. This is an attitude that we wish to change."

As a whole, these clubs are now looking for expressions of interest from any local small business owners in the areas of personal or group fitness training, children's movement classes, natural therapists or even first aid trainers who wish to expand beyond carting equipment to and from the local parks, or have been restricted by other lease agreements.

The proposed facility will have a personal fitness area, boxing equipment, a huge matted area, a therapy room and a large space to conduct seminars, workshops or other coaching.

The proposed opening for this facility is January 2016.

For further information about this centre or the activities that will be conducted there, please contact Suzanne via email on jikishinaustralia@gmail.com.

TAKE A LOOK INSIDE THE CAMERA

The transformation of the camera from its humble beginnings to today's sophisticated photographic technology is the focus of a new exhibition that will open at the Redcliffe Museum on December 18.

Inside the Camera highlights how cameras have changed by exhibiting the diverse range of cameras housed in the Moreton Bay Regional Council Museum collection.

A range of cameras will be on show during the exhibition, from the folding cameras used in the 19th century to today's precise, high-tech digital technology.

The free exhibition will also explore how cameras work, the processes involved in making and developing a photograph and techniques for preserving photographic collections.

Moreton Bay Regional Council Division 5 Councillor James Houghton said the exhibition would be fascinating to anyone interested in photography or technology.

"Cameras have come such a long way over the years, and this exhibition will demonstrate that rapid progress by comparing the earliest and most basic models with today's high-tech photographic equipment," Councillor Houghton said.

"The exhibition is sure to be a walk down memory lane for anyone who has ever picked up a camera, but particularly for those who remember loading good old-fashioned film into the back of a camera and connecting a single-use flash."

"Young people in the region today won't be familiar with the anticipation of waiting for images to be developed either. It was very different to pulling out a smart phone and capturing the moment in an instant."

Inside the Camera is on display from Friday, 18 December 2015 until Sunday, 14 February 2016 at the Redcliffe Museum, 75 Anzac Avenue, Redcliffe.

Exciting Public Programs will be held throughout the course of the exhibition. For further information regarding these events please contact the Redcliffe Museum on 3883 1898 or visit <https://www.moretonbay.qld.gov.au/redcliffe-museum/>. ●●

THE RELATIONSHIP BETWEEN WORK FORCE AND HOUSING MARKET

We investigate the linkage between growth in employment and growth in home values across the capital city housing markets.

Being employed is often a key determinant to owning a home. Yes it is an obvious statement but it is a fact that is often forgotten about. It is common belief that low interest rates have been the key driver of the recent growth in home values however, growth in values has been narrowly based whereas interest rates are the same across the country. Given this there is clearly more to current housing conditions than low interest rates and employment is a key driver.

During 2008, combined capital city home values fell by -6.1% from March to December. Spurred by aggressive cuts to interest rates and stimulus in the form of the First Home Owners Grant Boost, combined capital city home values started to rise thereafter. While values increased, Sydney and Melbourne have consistently recorded the strongest value growth while for brief periods Perth, Canberra and Darwin have also seen quite strong levels of value growth. Given the dramatically different capital growth performances it is clear that it is not all due to low interest rates.

Cumulative change in capital city home values, Dec-08 to Sep-15

Between December 2008 and September 2015, the majority of employment growth has taken place in Sydney and Melbourne. If we look at employment growth across the capital cities and territories, more than two thirds (66.9%) of employment growth has taken place in Sydney and Melbourne. Importantly a larger proportion of total full-time jobs growth (74.2%) has taken place in Sydney and Melbourne than part-time jobs growth at 61.8%.

Total change in employment, 12 months to Sep-15

Since 2008, the NT was the only region in which the rate of growth for full-time employment has been greater than growth in part-time employment. Although the rate of full-time jobs growth was lower in Sydney, it along with the NT have been the only two regions that have recorded a greater total increase in full-time employment than part-time employment since the end of 2008. It is an obvious statement but full-time employment growth would seem to be more important than part-time as it means the employee is working more and in most cases earning more money which is in-turn more conducive to home ownership.

Over the 12 months to September 2015, Sydney and Melbourne have continued to create the greatest proportion of jobs. There has also been somewhat of a reversal of fortunes for the remaining regions. Full-time employment growth has more recently ramped up in Brisbane and Hobart, while Adelaide has continued to shed full-time jobs while there were also fewer full-time jobs available in Perth and the ACT. Over the past year, 24,713 full-time jobs have been created in Brisbane compared to 26,036 since 2008. Similarly in Hobart there has been 3,331 full-time jobs created over the past year compared to full-time job losses of -4,347 since 2008.

While job creation isn't necessarily the be all and end all of housing demand it is an important component to consider. It certainly goes some way to explaining why home value growth has been much stronger in Sydney and Melbourne over recent years than in other cities. The recent relative strength in job creation in Brisbane and Hobart may signal increasing housing demand in those cities over the coming year. ●●
