SOME OLD-FASHIONED CHRISTMAS SPIRIT

By Lisa Adams

Twinkling, crystal lights and beautifully decorated Christmas trees on display in Scarborough Village streets will bring joy to many throughout December and January. A small group of not-for-profit volunteers are responsible for bringing this simple pleasure to the Peninsula.

“Our goal is to bring back that old-fashioned Christmas spirit. Everything we do revolves around this theme,” says Sue White, one of the organisers of the Christmas lights.

Scarborough Lights provide ten towering trees to be decorated and lit up for everyone to enjoy. Additionally, crystal rain lights can be seen hanging in the trees lining Landsborough Avenue engendering a sense of magic for families during this special time. “What we do starts from end of November, and we leave the lights up in the trees until after Valentine’s Day. We take down and store the Christmas trees before then, but the lights in the trees remain up for almost three months every year,” explains Sue.

In 2016, Scarborough Lights welcomed Moreton Bay Region Industry and Tourism to Scarborough and they have now taken over the organisation of the annual Scarborough Christmas Carols. Scarborough Lights simply enhance this community Christmas spirit. “The trees and lights bring people to the Peninsula right throughout the Christmas season,” Sue says.

Overflowing with Christmas cheer and community spirit, Scarborough will light up for the festive season.

In a few weeks, preparations for the lights will begin. “We will be calling out for volunteers to help set them up and decorate them once they’re out, and we welcome any help,” Sue explains.

Although a small group is responsible for organising the event, it could not proceed without the ongoing support of volunteers, local businesses, sponsors and the Moreton Bay Regional Council.

■ There are also sponsorship opportunities available for those businesses who wish to support Scarborough Lights either financially or in kind. A link to Sponsorship Packs can be found on the website or Facebook page.

BEAUTIFUL LIGHTS AT BEACH HOUSE ON SUTTONS

By Melissa Bailey

This year will prove to be like no other, with Santa, elves, fairies and music to make it one of Redcliffe's favourite community Christmas events.

Some years ago, Beach House on Suttons entered the well-known 4KQ Christmas lights competition, placing third and then second in the cul de sac category, as there is no high-rise category yet. Competing against suburban residents who decorate their front yards in themed Christmas scenes, Beach House on Suttons residents have banded together to put up thousands of lights on their balconies, the building and throughout the front gardens.

“It’s a wonderful time of year and decorating Beach House has become a real community event,” says Garry “Santa” Hinds. “I sit on my balcony and see lots of cars stop to see our lights.”

“It’s very hot being Santa,” says Hinds, “So I’m lucky one of the fairies has sewn ice packs into my suit!”

Santa’s busy elves have built aluminium frames for lights to be set up easily each year. About a dozen elves set up the frames each year and add lights every year for extra Christmas cheer. This year, a generous resident has spent $1000 to contribute to the ‘Christmas Dolphins’ theme to make 2016 better than ever!

The Salvation Army will join the Beach House on 16th and 17th December to entertain the crowds with their wonderful music. The Christmas elves, fairies and Santa will be available from 7 to 8pm from Thursday 8 December to Sunday 24 December, excluding Saturday 10 December when the building has their Christmas party. All characters are available for free photos with children, who will also receive a small bag of lollies.

Supporting the Starlight Foundation, the Christmas fairies will be selling star wands. Last year, over 500 wands were sold for the organisation. With over 200 children visiting Santa at the Beach House on Christmas Eve last year, they expect to see even more in 2016. Come down to see the lights on Beach House on Suttons at 41 Marine Parade, right across from Suttons Beach.

Christmas at the Redcliffe Leagues Club

There's something special about the lead up to Christmas.

By Melissa Bailey

The Redcliffe Leagues Club will hold its inaugural Christmas event "Santa's Festive Feast" on Saturday 10th December from 6pm. Enjoy a beer, wine or soft drink on arrival followed by a hot and cold seafood and carvery buffet dinner. With an unlimited supply of soft drinks and Christmas punch, the festive feast will be an evening to remember!

Santa will make an appearance carrying goody bags for all the children attending the feast, wishing everyone a very Merry Christmas, and reminding children to be on their best behaviour leading up to his busy night on Christmas Eve. While the children enjoy chatting with Santa, a candy buffet dessert will be served, and lucky door prizes will be drawn. Lawn games will be available to entertain the whole family and no need for experience or expertise are required. Adult tickets are $81 each or $806 for a table of 10, with children tickets at $40 each. Book your tickets through <http://redcliffe-dolphins.myshopify.com/collections/all>.

It doesn't stop there! On Sunday 18th December, the Redcliffe Leagues Club will host its annual Christmas Carols by Candlelight event as a thank you to all their members and guests, from Chairman Bob Jones and the Board of Directors. Celebrate with friends and family as Christmas approaches at the Dolphin Stadium from 5pm. Take your blankets, chairs and cushions, a picnic, drinks and wear your elf hat to join in the fun with free entertainment provided for everyone! Programs will be available at the gate or online, including all the words to the Christmas carols that will be performed throughout the evening.

The show commences at 7pm and is made up of a number of acts, each bringing their unique style to the traditional Christmas tunes we all know and love. To finish off the night, the sky will be lit with beautiful celebratory flashes of fireworks. If the weather is gloomy, check the club's Facebook page prior at <http://www.facebook.com/RedcliffeLeaguesClub>.

Winding down after a busy year with friends and family, enjoying meals together and attending events in celebration. This year, the Redcliffe Leagues Club will once again celebrate Christmas with a festive feast, carols by candlelight, Santa and fireworks!

AN EVENING OF CHRISTMAS CHEER

By Lisa Adams

Moreton Bay Region Industry and Tourism is offering an array of celebratory events in the area for Christmas this year.

The Scarborough Christmas Carols, previously known as 'Christmas By The Sea', is part of this program and will be sure to delight both young and old with all there is on offer.

Luke Richter-Steers from MBRIT explains, "Scarborough Christmas Carols is part of the Christmas in the Moreton Bay Region program. This consists of a whole catalogue of community run Christmas events as well as the MBRIT's four marquee events: Pine Rivers Park Christmas Carols, North Lakes Christmas Carols, Scarborough Christmas Carols and Caboolture Christmas Carols."

The event will be an afternoon and evening of community Christmas cheer, held alongside an impressive ocean view. "MBRIT is very proud and excited to be hosting Scarborough Christmas Carols for the first time. It will feature carols and entertainment from local community groups as well as professional performers," says Luke.

People will be encouraged to sing along to their favourite carols and will also have the opportunity to enjoy dance groups, roving Christmas performers, twilight markets, and free Christmas activities and workshops.

There will be plenty of carolling performances from Redcliffe State High, Red Music Centre and Sharon Alback Dancers before Santa arrives at 4.30pm. Following Santa's arrival, carols will resume with the Redcliffe City Choir, Four Red, Clontarf Baptist Church and Redcliffe Musical Theatre. Headline performers, The Sugar Shakers, will take to the stage from 7.15pm.

“ In addition to the fantastic stage program there will be laser tag for the kids, a life-sized snow globe that families can go inside, Santa's village, twilight markets and food stalls,” describes Luke.

The evening will finish with a bang thanks to a huge fireworks spectacular, beginning at 8pm.

■ Scarborough Christmas Carols will be held at Scarborough Beach Park on Sunday 11th December from 3pm-6pm. This is a free community event. For the full Christmas events calendar and stage program, please visit www.visitmoretonbayregion.com.au/christmas

FIRE INTO THE NEW YEAR

The Foreshore Fireworks Committee is a small group of people with a big vision for their community.

By Lisa Adams

This dedicated group of volunteers will not disappoint visitors when fireworks light up the sky at Woody Point this New Year's Eve.

This committee of five are determined to make the night memorable for everyone. "We are just five people from the community putting on an event for the community," Lisa Casablanca explains. So, make plans with family and friends to welcome in 2017 with a bang.

From the Woody Point Jetty to Apex Park, the display will light up the Redcliffe Peninsula. The show is one of the largest of its kind in the Moreton Bay region and will include a fireworks barge out on the water. "We'd love to have two barges and hope to raise the funds to do this by way of sponsorship. The program is reliant on the support we receive from local businesses," says Lisa.

The large numbers of people at last year's festivities, coupled with road closures, means the Committee will be providing shuttle buses from a number of locations to help ease traffic congestion. "This year we'd like to encourage as many people as possible to make use of the shuttle buses," Lisa says. "We want to make it as easy as possible for people to have a relaxed and enjoyable experience."

There will also be plenty to do before the main event. Food trucks, market stalls, rides and family entertainment are just some elements to look forward to throughout the afternoon and evening. Luckily all the viewing options on offer for the Foreshore Fireworks are at parks and beaches along the beautiful Redcliffe shoreline. These parks all have playgrounds, toilets and BBQs so why not arrange for your family and friends to meet earlier so you can grab a prime viewing spot and spend the day together. The weather is usually great this time of year and perfect for a picnic in the park or fish and chips on the beach.

The Foreshore Fireworks Committee are still looking for volunteers to assist at the event and would love to hear from people willing to give their time. They would also welcome the sponsorship of any businesses that would like to support this community occasion and not-for-profit organisation.

Play Safe on the Bay

By Melissa Bailey

With so many people enjoying the benefits of warmer weather, Redcliffe is expecting to see lots of vessels out on the water in the coming months. While it's a great way to see the Bay, explore the area, and perhaps spot a dolphin or two, it's important to remember to stay safe on the water.

Last year Sutton's Beach made it into Queensland's list of top 10 beaches. With over 93,000 fans of Sutton's Beach, it's no wonder so many locals and tourists are itching to get back out on the water with the weather warming up for Spring. The Royal Life Saving Society Queensland suggests everyone on board should wear a personal floatation device (life jacket), carry emergency equipment to monitor the weather, and follow boating traffic rules.

Boat and jetski license trainer Col Reeve has a wealth of experience on the water and offers online courses in boating and jetski licensing. With a lifelong dream to teach proper boating and personal watercraft safety, Col and his wife Claire began a business to do just that. Having seen plenty of accidents resulting from people not knowing what they're doing on the water, Col's passion to ensure locals and tourists alike will be safe in our bay has come to life.

“It's such a beautiful place for boating and marine activity,” says Claire. “We think it's important to ensure everyone has the right skills and the right knowledge to make sure they're safe out there.”

The Boatsafe Recreation Marine Driver Licence or Boat Licence course includes theory and practical on-water instruction. During the boat licence course, attendees are involved in group exercises, which include checking vessel safety equipment and whether the vessel is seaworthy.

Online licence training is approved by the Department of Transport and Main Roads and is a new and innovative approach to licence training, allowing flexibility for attendees. Col's training also includes pre-course study, comprising of about 40 minutes reading with short videos and questions for self-testing to make sure you are on the right track. Col encourages attendees to take some time out before attending the boat licence course to complete the pre-course study to make the written assessment easier on the day.

VIEWS AS DELICIOUS AS THE FOOD

When you walk into See Views Cafe and Restaurant and turn to face the peninsula, you'd be forgiven for feeling an instant sense of calm and relaxation wash over you.

Fay and Glenn welcome you to their new 'See Views Cafe and Restaurant' in Margate

WITH WIDE, BRIGHT WINDOWS acting as a frame for picturesque 180-degree views of the bay right out to Moreton Island, it's impossible not to get lost in the atmosphere of the new eatery at Margate.

"The community here is just so vital for us and we're loving just talking to them and serving them some really generous, high-quality food," says co-owner Glenn Hendricks.

He and fiancée Fay Wilkinson have built a dining experience where the focus is firmly on the community, the delicious locally sourced fresh produce and the incredible view unfolding just outside the front door.

"Our customers have been telling us how much they love the atmosphere here," Fay says.

"Just the other day we had a man remark how he'd just been overcome by a sense of ease and calmness when he walked in the door. That's our aim here and it was so good to hear that it almost brought a tear to my eye."

And even though the Moreton Bay Vista could clearly be the headline act at the restaurant, customers have been lapping up the generously overflowing cheese platters Fay proudly creates in the kitchen.

"They have been hugely popular, and we have some beautiful Taylor's wines that match up with the platters perfectly," she says.

“ People sit outside on the lounges overlooking the bay and breathe in the sea breezes – it's just perfect with a packed cheese platter and a beautiful glass of wine.”

Glenn adds: "We also have some really smooth, easy listening live music every Friday night and that's been hugely popular.

"On Saturdays, we've had some great folk-style singers in and people have really enjoyed the mix of generous food, smooth sounds and great drinks. Mixed with that view, it's just perfect."

Glenn and Fay also pride themselves on their wide range of certified gluten-free products, sourced from food producers in the area.

"The gluten-free apple pies and blueberry pies are worth the visit on their own," Glenn says.

"We also use fresh local produce from markets nearby and get as much organically grown fruit and veg as we can, and our coffee is from Neli Coffee Roasters in Clontarf - it's beautiful. High quality and local is really important to us."

MOUSETRAP THEATRE PERFORMS BLUEBEARD

By Melissa Bailey

Mousetrap Theatre will present a spectacular and captivating pantomime production of Bluebeard, during January 2017 – Don't miss out!

“ This is the top of the pantomimes you'll see,” says Mousetrap member Ralph Ashby, “It's a really excellent show and fun for the whole family! It's as crazy as you would expect a pantomime to be – with a bunch of zany characters. We're lucky enough that it involves everyone from Mousetrap who wanted to be a part of it. Come along and enjoy a great performance of one of the most well-loved pantomimes!”

The play, written by Paul Reakes, will be directed by Susan Harding-Smith and stars local actors Tom Burrell as Bluebeard, Paula-Mary Camilleri as Carrie, Karen Matthews as Fetch and Miranda Matthews and Alexandria Lewis as children.

These bright performances are directed, performed, and created through set construction, scenery painters, light and sound, costume, makeup and musicians by the members of the Mousetrap Theatre. Both evening and matinee performances of Bluebeard guarantee a suitable time for everyone to enjoy the show.

MOUSETRAP THEATRE plays the pantomime Bluebeard, which tells the story of the evil Baron Bluebeard's inviting of other characters to his castle, where a course of hilarious events will keep you on the edge of your seat! The cast, between the ages of six and 90 years, will work to keep the audience guessing in this intriguing show. The tale tells the story of a grumpy nobleman whose wives have mysteriously vanished. Will the characters be clever enough to thwart the dastardly Baron's plans? What will the sinister housekeeper Shivers do to the sweet French maid Marie?

For tickets, call 0439 954 719
or through www.mousetrap.asn.au

Evening performances will be at 7.30pm opening on 6 January 2017. Matinees will be at 2pm starting on 7 January 2017.

Tickets are $20 for adults, $17 for pensioners, $14 for children, $12 for members and $54 for a family of two adults and two children.

Comment allez vous? What are your favourite hobbies / "Passe-temps" ?

Like most of the French people, I love "art", « mode » fashion and « la cuisine » food. However, there are other things that "les Français" enjoy like "Sports". Yes, « sports » are very « populaire » in France. The most "populaire" "sport" is soccer, called "Football" in France, followed by "tennis", "Judo", "pétanque", Equitation (horse-riding). J'aime l'équitation! Et vous? And you?

La pétanque is a famous French bowls game. The rules are similaire, but the size of the bowls are « différentes ». The smaller ball is called a « cochonnet ». For the physically active interested in self-defence, there is "parkour", a variant of martial arts which originated in France.

If you want to ask "what are your favourite hobbies" in French, you will say: Quels sont tes passe-temps prefers?

J'aime la musique et la littérature /

I love music and literature

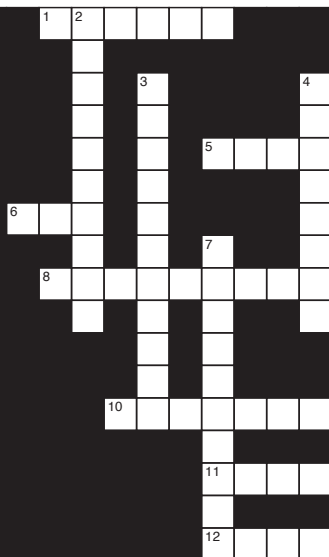

Je n'aime pas faire du velo /

I don't like bike ridding.

J'aime: I like • je n'aime pas: I don't like

COMPUTER SKILLS FOR ALL

Kids these days seem to learn how to use computers from the cradle.

It's no longer uncommon to see a toddler in a stroller happily playing a game on a tablet, and school children cheerfully prepare slideshows using professional presentation software.

While most of us use computers regularly, there are still a lot of people who don't know how to use them, or who would like to know how to do things such as organise their photos or use Facebook, but don't know where to go to find out.

The Redcliffe Seniors Computer Club (RSCC) is a not-for-profit organisation, run by talented and caring volunteers, who offer one-on-one training to all members of the community over the age of 18.

All kinds of devices are catered for: smartphones (Android, Apple and Windows), tablets (iPads, Android and Windows), laptops (Windows and MacBook), and Apple and Windows desktop computers.

Students can bring their own devices or use the club's equipment.

Whether it's carefully going through the absolute basics or developing more advanced skills, such as spreadsheets or desktop publishing, RSCC has tutors who can help in a friendly, social atmosphere.

What really sets RSCC apart, is that its classes are not structured and do not follow a strict curriculum.

Rather, all training, apart from occasional workshops on particular topics, is one-on-one, tailored to each member's particular needs.

The club's premises are conveniently located in the Bellevue Park Community Hall, in Sportsground Street, Redcliffe, and classes are held every day from Monday to Friday.

Volunteers are also able to make home visits to help solve problems with desktop computers and give advice on equipment issues.

RSCC offers a range of computer equipment, such as USB flash drives, memory card readers, USB hubs and other small items for sale at reasonable prices, as well as new laptops and printers. The club will fully personalise a new laptop for the member and present it "ready to go".

Anyone thinking of buying a new computer or computer equipment is welcome to discuss their needs with the club's experts.

Although it does not offer formal qualifications, RSCC, as an approved training centre for Centrelink clients, is able to offer training and support to members seeking to re-enter the workforce.

Whether it's using email, setting up an account on social media, shopping safely online, coming to grips with a new or updated operating system, or understanding how to make the most of "the Cloud", RSCC can help.

■ To find out more about RSCC or to book a lesson, please phone 07 3203 5593 during business hours, email office@rsccl.com.au, or visit the club's website, www.rsccl.com.au.

Tribute: 100% AC/DC is coming to rock the Redcliffe Cultural Centre on Wednesday, 25 January 2017.

Along with the AC/DC Tribute Show, the Redcliffe Cultural Centre will be running an "Introduction to Theatre/Tech" course, a two day intense programme running from the 24 to 25 January 2017.

This course will give anyone who is considering a theatre technician career a taste of the industry. Under the watchful eye of the venue's Senior Technicians, participants will spend the first day learning lighting and sound, then on the second day, get to put their talent to work by helping to produce the AC/DC Tribute show. The course is not certified, but will give a great introduction into the process of producing a live show, and the sound and lighting skills required.

Skills learned include; develop and apply creative arts industry knowledge, apply work, health and safety practices, organise and complete daily work activities, usher patrons, develop basic lighting and audio skills and knowledge, develop basic staging skills, assist with bump in and bump out of the show and assist with sound recordings.

The Redcliffe Cultural Centre is hoping to provide anyone who has ever thought about a career in this industry a platform to try it out and get insights into whether this could be the path for them.

The course finishes with the Redcliffe Cultural Centre rockin' to 100% AC/DC. The AC/DC Tribute will play the high voltage classics of AC/DC the way they were intended. Strap in for a night of Rock 'N Roll Damnation as the boys get on the 'Highway to Hell' to give you an evening of 100% AC/DC! Tickets to the show are just $25.00 each.

A WORD FROM OUR REPRESENTATIVES

Koliana Winchester

It has been a privilege to work and advocate as your divisional councillor representative throughout 2016.

I wish to take this opportunity to extend to you and your loved ones my best wishes for a safe and Merry Christmas and New Year.

Christmas is the time when family and friends come together to celebrate. It is also the perfect time to reflect and appreciate all we have on offer here on the wonderful Redcliffe Peninsula.

The Moreton Bay Region is home to a jam-packed calendar of Christmas Carols that help spread Christmas cheer throughout the community.

Each Sunday afternoon, from 27 November until 18 December, Moreton Bay Region Industry and Tourism (MBRIT), with the support of Moreton Bay Regional Council, will deliver the region's four biggest Christmas celebrations at Caboolture, North Lakes, Pine Rivers and Scarborough.

Local families will enjoy an afternoon of festive stage entertainment, twilight markets, visit from Santa, children workshops and activities, roving performers, giant Christmas tree and a fireworks spectacular.

For the full calendar of Christmas Events happening within the Moreton Bay Region this season, check out:

Yvette D'Ath MP

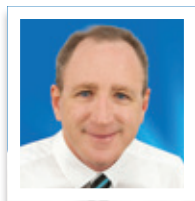

2016 has brought many advances for our Peninsula community and Redcliffe continues to be a great place to live, work and play. Access to and from the Peninsula has been improved with our new train service and will be further enhanced on completion of the $1.16 billion Gateway Upgrade North project. Much needed State funding has been provided to increase patient capacity at the Redcliffe Hospital, upgrade schools, assist innovative business start-ups and provide services for families and the homeless. This investment has helped boost employment and drive down unemployment to a two-year low of 5.7%.

Thank you to the many volunteers supporting Meals-on-Wheels, the Coast Guard, the Red Cross, hospital and aged care facilities, the Court House and so many organisations across the Redcliffe Peninsula. I will continue to support your efforts to deliver the best outcomes for Redcliffe in 2017.

I wish you all the best and hope that you are able to relax and spend time with loved ones during the festive season. Please drive carefully and stay safe over Christmas and the New Year.

Luke Howarth MP

2016 has been a busy year, locally and in Federal Parliament. I often say we live in one of the most beautiful places in the best country in the world. I'm honoured to have been re-elected this year as your local Federal Member, because I love our community and I know it is full of opportunities yet to be realised.

With the Redcliffe Peninsula Line now open and funding confirmed for upgrades to the Redcliffe PCYC and Redcliffe Surf Life Saving Club, there is much for Redcliffe locals to be excited about.

My plan for next year is to keep fighting for infrastructure upgrades, like widening the Bruce Highway. I'm also working to get the wrecks at Moreton Island replaced, so Tangalooma can remain an international tourism destination and a haven for marine life.

Thank you again for your support this year. I wish you a safe and happy holiday season.

GROWING COMMUNITY SPIRIT

By Christine Chamberlain

As part of a Skilled Queenslanders for Work program run at the Redcliffe Area Youth Space (RAYS), 14 young people aged 16 to 23 are putting their new skills to good use by creating a community garden beside Encircle Neighbourhood Centre.

RAYS support worker Kelly Raedler says the youth are gaining valuable work experience while building a garden community members and local businesses can share.

"All these guys have an interest in the trade or building sector, and have benefited from the Certificate I they just completed," Kelly says.

"They are enjoying the opportunities and challenges of designing, planning and building the garden; doing everything from gardening to carpentry and concreting."

The new community garden on Lamington Drive will include a children's section, eight large garden beds at various heights for easy access and smaller garden beds for herbs.

"Encircle is an important resource to many in our community so we have tried to supply them with as many features as possible," she says.

"The community veggie garden is easily accessed by children, the elderly or those with a disability."

The edible garden has been strategically placed to maximise the health and growth of fruits and veggies, Kelly says.

“A worm farm will be installed and we would encourage locals to bring down their food scraps to feed our squirmly friends.”

An outdoor kitchen will be installed with an area for cooking workshops using the fresh produce.

Kelly says there will also be a section dedicated to Australian native plants, bird attracting plants and a picnic area.

"Our participants are glad that all their hard work and effort benefit the community and serve those in need," Kelly says.

She says they have already had interest from local businesses keen to run a plot in the garden to grow their own produce.

■ It is hoped the community gardens will be completed this month. For more information or to get involved, contact Kelly at RAYS on 3283 8769.

PLENTY OF FISH IN THE SEA

Recreational fishing in Redcliffe is set to receive a boost through the introduction of several net-free Fishing zones in Moreton Bay.

By Ellen Moynihan

This will mean anyone who throws in a rod will have a much greater chance of getting a bite.

After the review of the Moreton Bay Marine Park in 2008, there was a significant loss of access to the recreational fishing sector. The net free areas in Moreton Bay will assist with redressing some of the impacts of this review, as well as the environmental issues brought about by localised depletion from gillnetting. This will hopefully mean the reversal of the destructive impacts on fish stocks and marine ecosystems that have been observed as a result of gillnetting.

At the end of last year, several net-free zones were established off Cairns, Mackay and the Capricorn Coast. By the end of this year, the impact of these zones will be clear, paving the way for similar projects in Moreton Bay.

Sunfish Moreton representative, Judy Lynn, says we can hope to see the restriction zones implemented as early as the beginning of next year.

“Essentially Moreton Bay will be net free, while still allowing the four fisheries that function in the bay and supply some of the retail requirements of the south-east to remain largely unchanged,” says Judy.

“There will be no impact at all on the trawl sector or the crab fishery, and the ocean beach mullet fishery will become a clean mullet fishery, meaning they will take no incidental catch.”

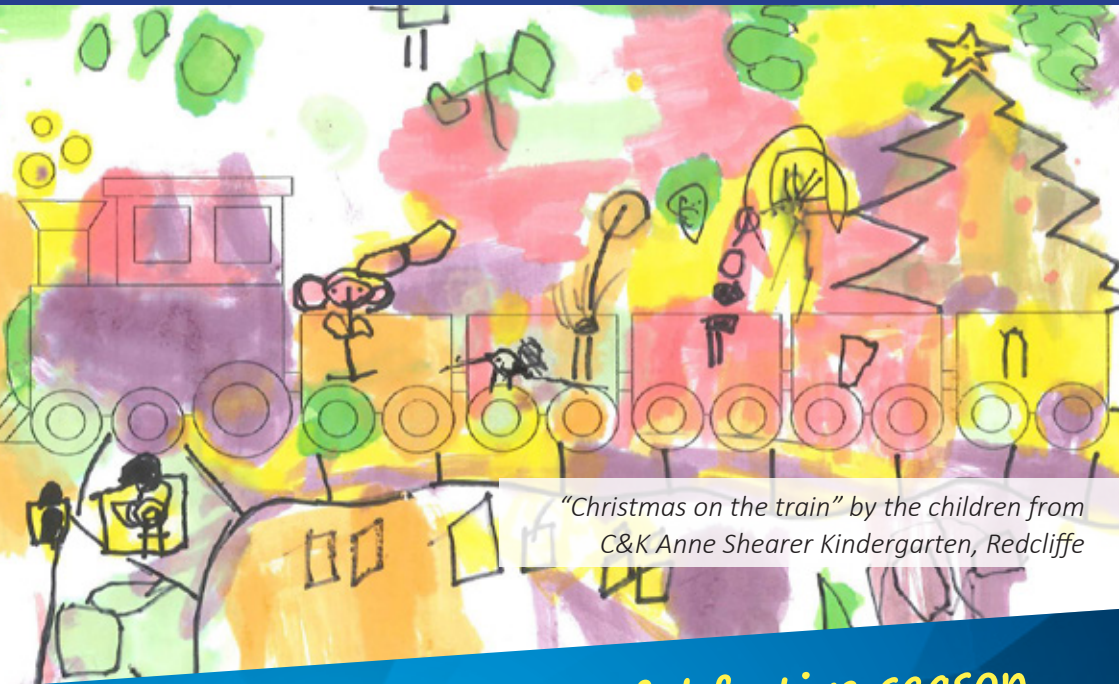

Environmentally, the exclusion of gillnets from several zones will have huge advantages to the marine ecosystems of Moreton Bay. “Gillnets tend to catch everything unexclusively, whether it be a dolphin or a sea turtle,” says Judy. “This is why it is important to limit the use of these nets”.

Judy believes the opportunity of recreational fishing is an extremely important aspect of life in our area. The implementation of these restriction zones will mean there will be a plentiful supply and a ready catch for recreational fishers with all levels of experience.

FROM THE ARCHIVES...

In May 2014, Judy Henderson Place contacted the Redcliffe Museum for information about the rescue of her father, Dudley Henderson, by Ella Warbrick.

By Lisa Adams for the Redcliffe Museum

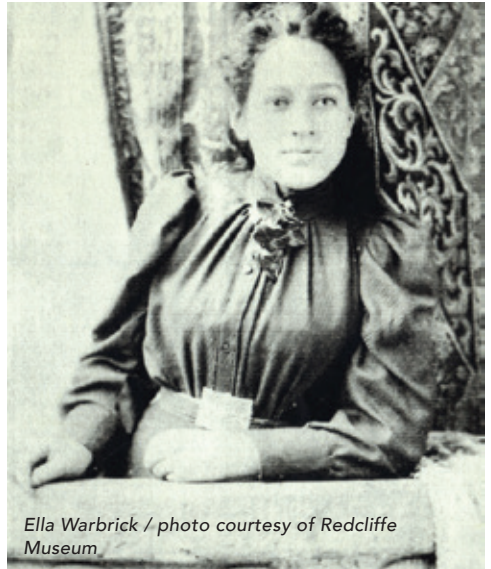

She and other family members came to the Redcliffe Museum to link up with Daphne Gibbs (whose mother was a Warbrick) and two members of the Historical Society to find out more. As a result, a very interesting story was uncovered...

In October 1903, the Henderson family was holidaying at a well-known family guest house at Woody Point, Cambridge House. Research shows many advertisements for the premises appearing in the Humpybong and Weekly Advertiser: Cambridge House Private Boarding Establishment (first from jetty). Terms £1 per week or 4/ per day.

The Henderson family were regular visitors to Cambridge House and were well known to those members of the Warbrick family who managed it: Ella Warbrick, her sister-in-law Florence, and nieces Lucy and Ena. Ella, the hero of this story, came to Australia in 1895 to celebrate the wedding of her brother and never left. While assisting her sister-in-law and nieces to run the guesthouse, she became a well-known community figure at Woody Point.

On October 14 of this same year, Mr Henderson had gone to work in Brisbane when his two sons, Percy (13 years) and Dudley (11 years), decided to take their father's boat and row to Otter Rock, about 1.6 km off shore.

However while adventuring, the boat sprang a leak, leaving the boys stranded; they were in trouble and needed help!

Several people put their hands up to assist, but it was 24-year-old Ella who insisted on swimming out to rescue them. Mr Horace Bertwhistle, who was painting the roof of the Palace Hotel, also swam to the boys, but it was Ella who became recognised as the hero. As a reward for her efforts that day, Ella received The Royal Humane Society of Australasia medal.

An application to Moreton Bay Regional Council resulted in the unveiling of a plaque on a bench seat in Jetty Square to honour Ella's bravery on 14 October 2014 – 111 years to the day! Thanks go to Councillors Koliana Winchester and James Houghton for their support, and special thanks to Daphne Gibbs for sharing her heritage.

SAFETY PROJECT AT WOODY POINT

Proposed Intersection Upgrade

Detailed design on a $1.3 million safety project at Woody Point will soon be underway.

Works to realign the intersection of Hornibrook Esplanade, Oxley Avenue and Caroline Street are expected to start in 2017/18, weather permitting.

State Member for Redcliffe, Yvette D'Ath said community safety was the main driver behind the project.

"We are committed to building and maintaining safer roads," Ms D'Ath said. This project is funded under the Queensland Government's Targeted Road Safety programs, which aims to improve road safety by implementing high-benefit, cost-effective treatments at known and potential crash locations.

“ The community voiced concerns about the complexity of the Hornibrook Esplanade and Oxley Street intersection, and we have responded.

The proposed works will provide a much simpler and safer site to navigate for the motorist and will involve:

Realigning the intersection of Hornibrook Esplanade and Oxley Avenue to a more conventional layout.

Clearer and simpler give way conditions on the approach to the intersection.

Safer right turn facility from Hornibrook Esplanade into Woody Point.

As a consequence of the above safety improvements, movements at Caroline Street will be converted to left in and left out only

The proposed concept for the intersection is currently being finalised. Community consultation on the preliminary design of the project is currently underway.

REDCLIFFE: MAKING A MOVE ON NEW TOWN PLAN

By Jackie Smith

With the recent launch of a new town plan for the Moreton Bay Region, it would seem now is the time for developers and Redcliffe residents to make their move.

Key changes, which came into affect in September to comply with the State Government's new Planning Act 2016, include changes to the application process (for developers) from impact assessable – which required public notification of new projects – to code assessable (which only requires the proposed development to be assessed against the codes under which they fall, ultimately making for quicker approval and building times), density cap amendments, and an increase to proposed high-rise level developments.

Though the plan is already in effect, Council has a small window of opportunity in which residents and developers can still apply to have their projects approved under the old plan, something which architect and long-time Redcliffe resident, Alex Enborisoff would encourage you to do before cut-off on January 31st 2017, when the old plan will officially be retired. "It's a great opportunity now for people to increase the value of their property."

This is particularly important for those who live in areas earmarked for drainage investigations, as approval for development in these areas will not go ahead under the new plan until Council has resolved the underlying issue.

While this may seem good for commercial development, what about the unique community atmosphere of this old seaside town? Well, the new plan takes that into account too, with special lots set aside for residents who do not want their quiet lifestyle impeded upon by the chaos of commercialisation.

“ The progress is to get Redcliffe on the map, so to speak, improve infrastructure, improve everything. To do that, you need population [and] to increase population, you obviously need to zone areas for redevelopment,” says Enborisoff.

“It will definitely affect it [the quiet ambience of Redcliffe] ... but you bring in the people, and you bring in the services, and the businesses will thrive ... I see an exciting time for the next 10 years for Redcliffe.”
