YOU SHOULD BE DANCING AT THE RCC

The Redcliffe Cultural Centre will come alive to the sounds of local legends the Bee Gees, with 'The Australian Bee Gees Show'.

By Kylie Thompson

All your favourite hits will be on offer, with a group of performers so impressive that they've been called 'the best Bee Gees tribute in the world' by the President of the Bee Gees Fanclub, USA.

It can be hard to impress the die-hard fans, and far harder to impress the hometown with a tribute show, and yet, even our local Councillors can't help but rave about 'The Australian Bee Gees Show'.

Division 6 Councillor Koliana Winchester is thrilled to see Redcliffe showcase such an event.

> "Whether you're a brother or whether you're a mother, the Australian Bee Gees Show will have you 'Stayin' Alive'… I couldn't think of a better place to sing along to the best Bee Gees records than the home of the brothers Gibb!"

Division 5 Councillor, James Houghton, was quick to agree. "'How Can You Mend A Broken Heart?' By purchasing tickets to the Australian Bee Gees Show at the Redcliffe Cultural Centre! 'Don't Forget To Remember' to book your tickets as early as possible to avoid missing out and being 'Alone'!"

The show, which was crowned best tribute show of 2015 by the Las Vegas Review Journal, is a celebration of the Brother's Gibb and their lyrical and melodic genius, the sort of event to have you singing along on a glorious trip down memory lane. Audiences are raving about the attention to detail on display, with the performers keeping as close to the original works — and dance moves — as possible.

If you're a fan of the Redcliffe boys, you won't want to miss 'The Australian Bee Gees Show'.

Tickets start from $52.50 per person for concessions and large groups and $57.50 for general admission. Bookings can be made online through www.moretonbay.qld.gov.au or in person at the Redcliffe Cultural Centre.

UNITE IN THE FIGHT

RELAY FOR LIFE

By Melissa Bailey

Unite in the fight against cancer by participating in the Redcliffe Relay For Life in an overnight event to raise funds and awareness for Cancer Council Queensland.

The Cancer Council's Relay For Life first began in the United States in 1985 when the colorectal surgeon, Dr Gordy Klatt decided to raise awareness of cancer and support his local cancer charity. Since then, Relay For Life has become the biggest fundraising event for cancer worldwide. Communities all over the world unite with more than 4 million people in over 20 countries in the inspirational overnight event.

"It's time to unite in the fight against cancer and help create the largest Relay For Life event the Moreton Bay Region has ever seen," says Ms Chris McMillan, CEO for Cancer Council Queensland.

"Around 10,120 people are diagnosed with cancer in the greater Brisbane region each year, and Relay For Life enables us to support them."

After successful events at Mary Nairn Fields and the Pine Rivers Showgrounds in 2016, Cancer Council Queensland has combined the two events to form one Relay For Life for the entire region that will be held in Redcliffe.

Teams will relay for 18 hours overnight to raise vital funds and awareness for Cancer Council Queensland's work in cancer control, taking part in inspirational ceremonies, fundraising activities and team challenges, supporting each other and sharing stories of hope.

"Cancer Council Queensland provides support for locals affected by cancer, investing in ongoing research and support programs for those in need," says McMillan, "Participating in Relay For Life is a great way to support the endeavours of Cancer Council and help make a vital difference right here in our local community."

There are currently 130 participants registered for Redcliffe's Relay For Life, but more participants are needed to get involved and show they care. So, don't miss out! Get your friends, family and colleagues together and register now to receive an early-bird discount.

Early bird registration is $20 per person. Redcliffe Relay For Life will kick off at 3pm on Saturday, August 5, followed by a night of fun and festivities, before the event comes to a close at 9am, Sunday, August 6.

■ For info or to register for Relay For Life, visit relayforlife.org.au or call 1300 65 65 85.

Cancer Council Queensland is an independent, community-based charity, the achievements of which are made possible by the generosity of Queenslanders. For more information about Cancer Council Queensland, visit www.cancerqld.org.au or call 13 11 20 for information and support.

REDCLIFFE FESTIVAL

TURBO-CHARGED JET SKI SHOW

A high-powered, fast-actioned, jet ski and fly boarding show will sure to wow crowds at this year's Redcliffe KiteFest on 26 & 27 August at Pelican Park, Hornibrook Esplanade, Clontarf.

By Kristine Lane

Having performed at last year's festival, this popular event will once again dazzle audiences with their turbo-charged jet ski, fly boarding, and kite bonanza on the foreshore.

With 12 professional skiers and flyers zooming around the bay performing stunts and flying through the air with kites attached, this promises to be a visual feast of energy and colour.

Jack Ellison, show producer and owner of H2O Events, the entertainment company behind the show, says he's excited about coming back to KiteFest because of both the show he's got planned and the crowd he's anticipating.

"Fly boarding has been around for about four years and is a fast growing extreme water sport. The flyer is propelled into the sky with a 23-metre hose that is connected to a high powered turbo-charged jet ski. The water thrust allows the flyer to fly freely in the air and perform back flips and other stunts. We have also designed a system to tow multiple-stacked kites with the jet skis to choreographed routines to music, and with Redcliffe offering a perfect water stage to display these high-speed manoeuvres, the crowd is able to get up close to the entertainment."

Mr Ellison, a world record holder for Freestyle water ski jumping and former 10-time Australian Champion, will also be one of the performers in the twice-a-day show, alongside some of his family members. Being a seasoned international coach, and film and TV marine coordinator, Mr Ellison has also worked on the James Bond movie, Quantum of Solace, training all the Bond girls in water stunts.

"That was a lot of fun," admits Jack, "and yes, I probably do have the best job in the world — performing shows and playing with the latest and fastest show equipment."

With the event promising to be one filled with sun, spectacle, and sea, Mr Ellison urges all to visit the KiteFest foreshore for this electrifying, live action display so he and his team can, "entertain the family and make them smile."

The Big Air Jet Ski Stunt Show will be daily at 10:45am and 1:30pm at the Cleanaway Ocean Zone of Pelican Park at KiteFest.

REDCLIFFE FESTIVAL

Scarborough Sounds

Jam out with dad by the Scarborough seaside to a program of world-class music from outstanding musicians.

Spread out a blanket and savour some gourmet food or grab a drink from the bar before roaming through the handmade markets and warming up by the giant bonfire.

Special Guest Taleena Peck (between sets)

A young musician with an alternative edge that stretches from folk to indie, pop and country pop, Taleena Peck has performed at numerous festivals and venues around Australia and captivated audiences at every show.

4.00PM Mark Lowndes

Having shared the stage with Michael Franti and support from the likes of Boys to Men and Brian McKnight, Mark's musical fingerprint leaves audiences uplifted and demanding an encore. His songs about stories of purpose and dreams are woven intricately with catchy melodies and hooks.

4.30PM (Bonfire Beatz) Dan Horne

With music built on blues and roots with folk undertones, lap steel guitar techniques from India, Hawaii and the deep-south, and Americana folk melodies and chord progressions, multi-instrumentalist Dan Horne strings together a most-memorable cultural sound.

5.00PM Breanna Fielding Trio

One of those rare talents that must be seen more than a few times to appreciate fully, Breanna Fielding Trio brings powerhouse vocals and an eclectic music foray in the foot-tapping range of soul and R'n'B and everything between to the Scarborough Sounds stage.

6.00PM The Steele Syndicate

The Brisbane-based octet's eclectic, genre-bending sound reimagines old school funk, reggae, ska and indie rock. With rich harmonies and a four-piece horn section, The Steele Syndicate's infectious grooves deliver an energised sound that packs an emotional punch.

7.00PM A French Butler Called Smith

These guys have one goal — to get you dancing — and they will use any weapon in their artillery of musical genres to do it, whether it's funk, Latin, gipsy or anything in-between. After gallivanting around the country, they've built a fast-growing fan base and reputation for exciting and captivating sounds.

SCARBOROUGH SOUNDS TO STEELE THE SHOW

Everyone knows all dads have a special "dad dance" they bust out on certain occasions and what better time to see it in action than at the next Scarborough Sounds, which just happens to fall on Father's Day.

From 4pm on Sunday, September 3, you can catch a host of great bands, kick back and relax around the bonfire, and soak up the seaside surrounds at Scarborough Beach Park on Landsborough Avenue.

There will be a host of food market stalls and drink options available on the day, and you're welcome to bring your own picnic with you, though BYO alcohol is not permitted.

Among the six-band line-up on the afternoon will be Brisbane outfit The Steele Syndicate, who will hit the stage at about 6pm. And Ambrose Mollenhauer, the band's bass guitarist and backup vocalist, says the group couldn't be more excited about the show.

"This is The Steele Syndicate's first show in the Moreton Bay Region," he says. "We always look longingly as we drive past to play on the Sunshine Coast, so very excited to share the love with our friends across the bridge."

The line-up on the afternoon is packed with diverse acts, but if a tantalising combination of dub, reggae, indie pop and soul is your thing, then Ambrose says The Steele Syndicate won't disappoint.

"We have been described many times as the perfect festival band to make you get up and dance, and this is exactly what you'll want to do," he says.

> "We absolutely love playing outdoors in the sunshine, so expect lots of energy and booty-shaking good times.

"The crowd has a huge influence on our performance, and we like to tailor the show to each event, so if the energy is high expect multiple face-melting solos from any/all of our eight band members."

And, he says, the rather dapper-looking band (they almost always play in suits and ties) has a four-part horn section that is renowned for stealing hearts with their silky choreography and rich harmonies.

■ Scarborough Sounds runs from 4-8pm on Sunday, September 3, at Scarborough Beach Park. For the full line-up of acts, find Scarborough Sounds on Facebook.

BIG KID ICE CREAMERY

WE GET THE SCOOP ON REDCLIFFE ICE CREAM

Enjoy a sweet treat at The Big Kid Ice-Creamery on the peninsula / photos by Ben McShea

Calling all big kids — Redcliffe has a new ice cream parlour to tempt visitors all year-round with cool, creamy treats.

With 30 flavours of ice-cream on offer, The Big Kid Ice Creamery has already proved a hit with customers since its July 1 opening.

Business Owner Tracey Brown is no stranger to the Peninsula retail scene, as the owner of Redcliffe stores Renu Fashion and Renu Kids for the last seven years.

Tracey says the idea for an exclusive ice creamery came after the popularity of the pop-up ice cream at their Renu Kids location.

“For the past two Christmas holidays, we have offered visitors a small, yet delicious selection of scoop ice creams,” she says.

“This was so popular over the summer period, that I decided by the following Christmas we would be a full ice creamery.

“Seven months on and here we are.”

Tracey says the new location offers a huge range of flavours for kids and kids at heart to choose from.

“We have so many varieties of ice cream, sorbets and gelatos and with 30 flavours to choose from, the combinations are endless,” she says.

“We also offer fruit smoothies, juices and waffles, but we are most excited about our unique do-it-yourself milkshake bar.

> “Customers can choose their own combination of flavours no matter how unusual — some recent examples include peanut butter with caramel fudge, and peppermint with liquorice.

“There are 900 possible combinations, so we love seeing what everyone comes up with.”

Tracey says with summer looming, they are looking forward to a busy holiday season.

“Getting ready for summer is exciting, and with the popular lagoon across the road, it’s going to be busy for us and fun for the whole family,” she says.

“Big Kid Ice Creamery will soon also offer a full summer swim wear and pool range, so we really are a one-stop summer shop.”

Tracey says they are hoping to grow their business in the near future.

“If all goes well we are hoping to expand to other water front locations,” she says.

“The Mon Komo end of the Redcliffe water-front needs more places to attract people, and I am hoping with my store, we can do that.”

CLASSIC CARS CRUISE IN REDCLIFFE

By Melissa Bailey

Each month, Redcliffe is treated to a barrage of classic cars at the Redcliffe Show Grounds. If you love classic cars, and the odd classic bike, the Classic Not Plastic Car Show is for you!

On the third Saturday of every month, classic car owners and enthusiasts flock to the Redcliffe Show Grounds to view and show their special vehicles. On 15 July, you'll see cars from pre-1986 making their way on their own wheels or on trailers for viewing.

"We cater for classic cars pre-1986 and hot rods," says Club Treasurer Jim Harkess.

The Club started in Redcliffe in the 1970s and now has around 50 members. It began using events to showcase cars and raise money to improve their club house in the Show Grounds. They now also raises funds for other organisations in Redcliffe, supporting the local community through both fund raising and other community events.

"We recently visited a retirement home to show the residents our vehicles," says Harkess, "We are a great group of like-minded people, and we encourage new club members who want to be actively engaged in the Club."

The Classic Not Plastic Car Show is for all ages. There will be food and trade stalls, along with various types of vehicles, including hot rods and other classic cars.

Some of the cars on the road will cruise through Scarborough and all the way down to the Ted Smout Memorial Bridge in the afternoon for everyone's viewing delight. At 7pm, a lucky door prize will be drawn.

■ If you'd like to join the Club as an active member, meetings are held on the third Wednesday of each month. You can either talk to Rob the President at the Show or call 0404 895 299.

MARGATE MAKEOVER IN THE MAKING

Council seeks community ideas on creating vibrant public space for Margate.

Moreton Bay Regional Council is seeking ideas from local businesses and residents to help breathe new life into the heart of Margate's business district.

From 15 July to 5 August 2017, residents and businesses can share their feedback online, or by chatting with council staff at an on-site drop-in session.

The proposed project seeks to create a vibrant public space along Baynes Street in Margate, where residents and visitors can shop, relax, catch up with friends, grab a bite to eat, and enjoy activities like pop-up events and live entertainment.

Division 6 Councillor, Koliana Winchester, said council wanted the community to help shape what the space might look like and how council can best equip the space to attract more people to the area.

"Local businesses, residents and visitors regularly say to me they would love to see a civic space in the Margate area where they can host small events, have some extra green space to relax and enjoy our beautiful area," Cr Winchester said.

"My hope is that together we can create a vibrant and welcoming public space that will attract residents and visitors, encouraging them to spend more time enjoying the area, socialising, and supporting local businesses.

"Some initial ideas include creating a welcoming public space with nice seating, artwork, lighting and landscaping, where residents and visitors can catch up with friends, grab a bite to eat, shop and enjoy activities such as alfresco dining, night-time entertainment and pop-up events.

> "I look forward to seeing the ideas and feedback put forward by the community, and delivering an exciting and thriving public space that the Margate community can be proud of."

Residents can also have their say online by filling out a survey at yoursay.moretonbay.qld.gov.au or emailing council's planning team at RegEnvPlan@moretonbay.qld.gov.au

President of Commerce and Industry Redcliffe, Nick Tzimas, said the proposed civic park project was fantastic news for small businesses and the wider Margate and Redcliffe Peninsula community.

"Margate has been crying out for a rejuvenating project of this kind for quite some time now — it's fantastic to see the wheels in motion," Mr Tzimas said.

"A civic park in the heart of Margate will not only benefit small businesses but will be a project the entire Margate and Redcliffe Peninsula community can enjoy.

"It will breathe new life into the Margate business precinct, and encourage more residents and visitors to spend more time outside enjoying our great community and our wonderful local businesses."

YOUTH SPACE ♥ REDCLIFFE

Show some love at the Redcliffe Youth Space at weekly events designed to reconnect youth in the local area. Every Friday you'll find fun activities, free food and awesome people at the Youth Space.

By Melissa Bailey

A special team called The Empire Team organises the Friday activities in the Redcliffe Youth Space known as Heart Beat Street. The free events are held in the Youth Space for everyone to come along and enjoy. With free food as well, the events offer an opportunity to connect in a local and comfortable space and have fun together.

"We felt that the Redcliffe Youth Space needed to be activated and used by the youth in our area," says Talisha Pelesasa, the Heart Beat Street Activity Manager.

"We invite everyone to come down to the Youth Space each Friday to experience activities like tie dyeing t-shirts, Kung Fu, mini games and handball. We want to promote positivity about the Redcliffe Youth Space. There is some great stuff going on."

The events are held for everyone in support of the kids who, due to unfortunate circumstances, live on the streets. The Heart Beat Street activities promote connection among Redcliffe youth and provide a safe and fun environment for people of all ages to enjoy.

Lyndal Regent, Project Officer for Redcliffe Youth Space, says, "We work collaboratively with services in the area so we can refer young people to services that will support them. It's all about having an open door to welcome them in so they can get to know us and we can put supports in place."

The Redcliffe Youth Space is known for its incredible work with young people throughout the community. Working with every young person in an inclusive and caring manner, the organisation aspires to create an atmosphere that is welcoming for all and provides services for young people to reconnect with family, friends and education.

■ Head down to the Redcliffe Youth Space, corner Oxley and Anzac Ave, Redcliffe between 2pm and 4pm on Fridays for free activities or phone 3283 8769 for more information.

Not just your average Joe Strummer

If you've ever wandered past the Vast homewares store on Redcliffe Parade or any number of locations around the bayside for that matter, you may have been drawn in by the unique talents and almost addictive voice of musician and busker Cohen Anderson.

Cohen is almost impossible to miss — thin, tall, extremely cool afro springing from his head, guitar strapped around his shoulders and his eyes clenched shut as he hits notes with the kind of deepened soul that even seasoned musicians wish they could sing.

The quietly spoken Cohen says his musical journey began when he was 10 with the arrival of his first instrument.

"The journey with music for me started when I was ten years old, and I got a cheap guitar from an op shop in New Zealand, and always had it with me," Cohen says.

"I started singing about three years ago. I have a big passion for music, and there's not a day that I'm not playing. I'm just seeing where it will take me.

"I got into busking up in Port Douglas and started singing there. I play mainly covers to lengthen out for gigs, and I have one or two original songs. My aim is to get into more of my own music."

It's something the Peninsula locals would love to hear more of, according to Vast Redcliffe manager Donna Mackey.

She says Cohen's busking sessions in front of the store have captivated people as they stop and get lost in his incredible voice.

> "People walk into the store and just say how wonderful he is. We all think he is just awesome," Donna says.

"They constantly come in and comment on his beautiful music, and everyone loves his vibe. He is so laid back.

"We love it so much we turn the music off in the store so we can hear him play."

His voice is equal parts Amos Lee and Jack Johnson, with a smooth guitar sound that would make Matt Corby swoon. But what does Cohen think of his admirers? "Busking here has been good, people are lovely and give me a lot of positive feedback, which has been awesome," he says.

"I just think I'm very lucky to be able to do something I love and live off it."

Now that sounds like a life in perfect harmony.

Catch Cohen Anderson busking in various locations throughout the wider Bayside area.

REDCLIFFE COMMUNITY JOINING THE FIGHT AGAINST ELDER ABUSE

With new figures revealing a spike in the number of reported cases of elder abuse, there is an increasing focus within the Redcliffe community on raising awareness and encouraging people to report abuse.

While the increase is a positive sign more people are reporting, there are still many more who are too afraid or ashamed to come forward, or who simply don't realise what they are experiencing is abuse.

The State Government has launched the second phase of its awareness and prevention campaign, "There's no excuse for elder abuse", which focuses on the two most common forms of abuse — financial and emotional. From now, until the end of August, the campaign will be promoted in shopping centres, licensed venues and medical centres, on buses, and on social media — to ensure everyone sees the message.

The State Member for Redcliffe, Yvette D'Ath MP is championing a local campaign to raise community awareness of what elder abuse is, how people can recognise the signs and how seniors can seek help for themselves or people they know.

"We have stepped up the fight, providing a $2.7 million Budget boost over three years to expand elder abuse prevention and seniors legal and support services across the State," Ms D'Ath said. "This also includes additional funding and an expanded Seniors Enquiry line, enabling a strong focus on consumer protection and scams."

Ms D'Ath is hosting a free Seniors' Afternoon Tea at the Redcliffe CWA hall on 18 August where speakers from the Office of the Public Trustee and the aged and disability advocacy service, ADA Australia, will discuss topics including protection of seniors' rights, elder abuse, wills, enduring power of attorney and advocacy services for seniors.

PEOPLE WHO ARE CONCERNED THAT AN OLDER ADULT IS BEING ABUSED AND IN NEED OF ASSISTANCE CAN CALL THE ELDER ABUSE HELPLINE ON 1300 651 192.

LAUNDRY ON WHEELS

A bus restoring the dignity of people who have fallen on hard times will be arriving on the Peninsula this month.

By Christine Chamberlain

Stand Up, Step Out is a new homeless outreach service operating daily in north Brisbane from a modified bus.

The free service will provide homeless people including families, older people and younger people with access to hot showers and laundry facilities as well as professional housing and mental health workers to help people get back on their feet.

This project is a partnership between three community organisations; SANDBAG, Footprints in Brisbane and One Voice.

SANDBAG chief executive officer Alisa Hall says the bus is funded through the Queensland Government's Dignity First Funding Grant and will be an enormous benefit to people in our community.

"The partners in the project identified that people who are homeless have limited options to access laundry and showering facilities within local areas," Alisa says.

"Ensuring that all individuals are able to access the basic supports to enable them to participate and engage in community life is absolutely critical."

The full-sized bus has been modified to include two showers and one laundry (washer and dryer). The bus also includes a space for individual consultations with housing and health staff.

Alisa says volunteer drivers are needed to ensure the success of the project.

"This is a vital role for the project. The funding received supported the purchase and fit out of the bus and establishment costs but does not provide for other operational costs," she says.

"This is a wonderful opportunity for those who might already have a heavy or medium rigid licence to use their skills to give back and support others in the local area."

If you can help phone 3252 3488 or email volunteers@footprintsinc.org.au.

Stand Up, Step Out

The bus will stop the first and third Monday of each month at Encircle Redcliffe, 1 Lamington Drive, Redcliffe, 10am to 1pm.

One of the most popular events on the Redcliffe Festival program, the Redcliffe KiteFest is two whole days of non-stop excitement and entertainment the whole family will love. Join the fun on Saturday 26 and Sunday 27 August from 9am-4pm at Pelican Park, Clontarf in Redcliffe.

The Redcliffe KiteFest is renowned for its world-class kite displays and will once again play host to a huge group of international and domestic kite flyers. The Public Kite Flying Zone is bigger than ever in 2017, so bring a kite or make your own at the festival.

On Sunday, 3 September 2017 the Redcliffe Botanic Gardens will once again host 'What's Cooking in the Gardens?'. This annual celebration of food, lifestyle and sustainability provides festival-goers with vibrant displays and demonstrations as this normally secluded haven transforms into a world of 'green' fun.

There will be wonderful interactive workshops for all ages, demonstrations and displays and so much more, or simply wander through the paths of market stalls, filled with fresh, local produce, delicious treats and handmade goodies.

Yvette D'Ath MP

Ice is a destructive and corrosive drug, which is having devastating and lasting impacts on our communities. It continues to destroy the lives of our young people, parents and our families.

I recently attended the Moreton Bay Ice Summit, hosted at Caboolture by the Queensland Government, which brought together key stakeholders to discuss strategies to reduce drug abuse, particularly for young people.

A significant part of reducing crime is supporting offenders to stop using addictive substances, like ice, as substance misuse is strongly linked to their criminal behaviour. That is why the Queensland Government has allocated almost $70 million to increase the delivery of rehabilitation and mental health programs and services, including drug and alcohol strategies designed to help reduce reoffending, expand Opioid Substitution Treatment to all Queensland correctional centres, and provide additional specialist alcohol and other drug treatment clinicians across six Hospital and Health Services.

Community Grants Now Open: Do you ever stop to think about exactly how many people contribute to your life? We tend to consider ourselves independent, but we are all reliant on others. When we hand over cash for goods or a service we are reminded that what we are paying for has some value.

So what then about volunteers?

How many people devote their time freely to support your loved ones?

We often pay little to none for these types of services, and I wonder whether that contributes to the fact much of this kind of work goes unnoticed. Volunteers and community workers often make sacrifices of their own so that they may be there for others.

The Peninsula is extremely fortunate to be home to a large number of community organisations and a community of 'givers-back'.

With the Stronger Communities Programme now inviting funding proposals, I hope you'll help me by spreading the word so that we may support eligible groups and organisations that support us and are in need of a funding boost.

The Programme makes funding of up to $20,000 available to community organisations and councils for capital works projects and is closing soon.

For details, please call my office on 3284 8008.

FONDA METASSA – ON FOOTY AND LIFE

Fonda Metassa spends his days now quietly contemplating his achievements and all he has to reap now. A well known footy player in his day in the Brisbane area, Fonda resides at Regis Sandgate Lucinda aged care facility. Fonda has been at Regis for years now and is a popular member of the community.

Fonda ('The Golden Greek' as he was known) played football for the Valleys before joining the Norths in under 16. He had 2 seasons with South Sydney in 1960 and 1961 but played his entire senior Brisbane career for Norths.

Fonda played in six premiership winning teams in the 1960s and represented Queensland in 1966 as well as Brisbane in the Bulimba Cup. His exploits at club level were legendary including one story where he was knocked out and taken off the field in an ambulance. The story goes that he came to in the ambulance, kicked the doors open and ran back out onto the field!

When his playing days were over, Fonda became a popular media commentator, with channel 0 and later channel 7.

Fonda loves talking about his footy days and all the people he met. His wife and family have heard the oral history many times but you can't get sick of them!

Regis staff help Fonda continue his enjoyment of footy and fishing through lifestyle activities, reminiscing and watching the game on TV.

Formerly owned by Masonic Care Queensland, Sandgate was purchased by Regis Healthcare June 2016. Regis is one of the largest privately owned aged care operators in Australia.

The Redcliffe Peninsula Chamber of Commerce has an exciting new monthly event on their calendar:

NEW MONTHLY MINGLE

By Lisa Adams

Every third Thursday of the month, RPCC will hold a get together at the Belvedere Hotel, Woody Point, for business owners and associates.

This is a great opportunity for like-minded people to meet up in a social environment to establish and foster relationships that will only enhance business on the Peninsula and in the local area.

RPCC is an active group of compatible business people who are dedicated to their mission of empowering entrepreneurs through sharing information and collaborating on projects together. This group is passionate about the evolution of business. "We facilitate meaningful and relevant connections between businesses and our community through networking at our various functions," explains RPCC member, Brad Flynn.

In March of this year, RPCC released their 20 Year Vision for the Redcliffe Peninsula: to become Queensland's number one place to combine lifestyle and business. "This was a public presentation which established the baseline for where we are now and defined a clear pathway to make the vision a reality," says Brad. The event was attended by more than 100 locals who believe in the Chamber's vision and want to become involved in making it a reality for themselves and future generations. Establishing the Monthly Mingle was established as part of achieving this goal.

The Monthly Mingle is a networking event open to anyone who has an interest in helping to create relationships and connections in local business. There are no speakers or formalised activities; rather, it is simply a chance for people to get together and make meaningful business connections. Drinks and food will be provided by the Belvedere Hotel at no cost, and entry to the event is free.

SEASIDE CELEBRATIONS: Beginnings

Redcliffe Museum

For many years during the month of September, Redcliffe has celebrated the establishment of the first British settlement at Redcliffe Point in 1824. A constant of these celebrations over the years has been the re-enactment of Oxley's landing, but how and why did this all begin?

Redcliffe Town Council was constituted in May 1921, heralding a new phase in Redcliffe's development. The opening of two new jetties in 1922, together with the completion of Anzac Avenue, meant an increase of traffic by sea and by road. This meant an influx of visitors at holiday times, providing an additional source of income for local people and businesses, and motivating Redcliffe Town Council and local Progress Associations to provide accommodation, entertainment and refreshments in the hope of encouraging return visits.

In March 1923, a general committee was formed to arrange centenary celebrations for John Oxley's landing at Redcliffe in 1823. Centenary proceedings began with a procession from McDonnell Road, along the Esplanade, to the Recreation Reserve adjoining the Council office. At Humpybong Creek, Master Mervyn Jefferies from the local scout group represented Lieutenant Oxley and read the proclamation. The Mayor, Alderman Bailey, also delivered an address, expressing the hope that the day's celebrations were only the forerunner of similar gatherings in future. A program of sports followed the formalities. Finally, a fancy dress ball, featuring music supplied by the Humpybong Philharmonic Orchestra, took place in the Picture Pavilion at night and was a great success.

In September 1924, a public meeting was held to draw up a program of events for the centenary celebrations of the settlement at Redcliffe, and a public holiday was gazetted for 24th September. The program commenced with the unfurling of the Union Jack at the rocks near the end of Suttons Beach, where it was supposed that Oxley and the settlement party landed. The Mayor, Alderman J B Dunn, followed by other dignitaries, addressed the crowd and centenary medals were presented to the school children.

A pioneer lunch was followed by a tree planting ceremony in an area designated as Centenary Park, with a ball held in the evening at the Redcliffe picture theatre. These celebrations were the forerunner of the festival and re-enactment that continues to this day.

NEW FESTIVAL TO ROCK BRIGHTON

Do you go mental as anything for '80s power ballads? Well, that's the way it's gonna be little darlin' when rock god Daryl Braithwaite headlines a huge line-up of legendary Australian acts at Day on the Bay on October 7.

> "Daryl Braithwaite is a legend, Joe Camilleri is one of the country's greatest songwriters, Wendy Matthews is a class act all on her own, and Mark Gable was the lead singer of the Choirboys, who are responsible for some of the greatest songs ever written in Australia.

Held at Brighton's Decker Park, the concert will bring some of Australia's best-known musicians and entertainers together for five hours of musical power.

Artists on the day include Daryl Braithwaite, Choirboys frontman Mark Gable, Joe Camilleri, Wendy Matthews and the Eurogliders, with more names to be announced.

Sandgate District Chamber of Commerce President Bill Gollan says the idea to give the Sandgate and Bayside areas a music festival to share with Brisbane was a long time coming.

"We have been discussing for quite some period of time that the area deserves an event like this," he says.

"Other similar events are too far from the Northside, with limited access to public transport, whereas here we are close to buses and trains so people can access the concert easily."

Bill says people can expect a great time — great music by the bay, great food, great entertainment, a great location near the city and some good old northern Bayside hospitality.

"The acts that we have are really sensational," he says.

"We are even hoping to bring Daryl Braithwaite down before the concert to walk on the beach with some of the local race horses, reminiscent of his famous song."

Bill says the event is a great event for Sandgate and its surrounds as it showcases the local area and celebrates the community.

"We have such a beautiful spot on the northern shores of Moreton Bay, but most importantly, the profits from the concert go back into promoting this community," he says.

"We also encourage people to explore what the area has to offer after the event and visit our local establishments and great restaurants, which would be of great benefit to Sandgate."

Gates open at 12.30pm for a 2pm start, with the event wrapping up at 7.30pm with a grand finale of all the performers together.

Tickets are $79 plus booking fee, with a VIP area available for $220 plus booking fee, which includes a food and beverage package.
