A Note FROM THE EDITOR

One of the most celebrated aspects of the Peninsula is the amazing lifestyle it affords. In the middle of winter, you can still enjoy the sunshine and outdoors which is probably why we get to host so many great events.

The Redcliffe Garden and Lifestyle Expo was such a hit last year, it is back again on Sunday 28 July.

Heading the line-up of leading gardening experts at the expo is the ABC's Gardening Australia host, Costa Georgiadis.

The Jetty2Jetty has to be one of the most scenic fun runs in Australia. So even if you're not a runner you'll enjoy the scenery along the foreshore. For those not pulling on the running shoes, why not head down on Sunday 21 July to support participants raising money for local charity, Chameleon Housing.

Sports fans will be excited to hear that professional golf is hitting the peninsula in a big way, with the Redcliffe Pro-Am on Monday 15 July. The tournament is open to spectators.

If you're looking for something a little slower-paced, be sure to take a look at the annual Quota Craft and Gift Fair on Saturday 6 July. After checking out the hand-crafted goods, sit back and relax with a delicious afternoon tea and warm cuppa.

A Corvette Collective

The rumble of the finely-tuned engine of a sleek and beautiful motor vehicle is a pleasure that many Australians enjoy, and members of the 'Corvettes Down-Under Car Club' are no exception!

Jan Earney is secretary of the club, which is celebrating the 20th anniversary of their Annual Corvette Classic at Pelican Park in Clontarf from 9am on Sunday 28 July.

"For the last 20 years we've held this show. We have it as a show-and-shine event so the Corvette owners can display their cars," Jan said.

"There are trophies awarded, but many just like to show their cars and give people the chance to look at them, sit in them and see how they've changed over the years.

"This is one of the largest events of its kind in Australia! We usually have somewhere between 80 and 100 Corvettes on show."

The event is free to enter and will feature entertainment for kids, food stalls and much more, with money raised going to the drought relief for farmers.

Grab the family and get revved up for a great day out! For more info visit www.corvettesdownunder.com.au

Have a WOW of a Time at Giggle Trivia

*Story Sally Eberhardt

Tuesday nights at the Bramble Bay Bowls Club are the highlight of the week for trivia lovers and those who just want to have fun.

Young Henry's Giggle Trivia Show will have you forgetting all your cares as you laugh and sing and try to answer crazy questions.

Bramble Bay Bowls Club manager, Natalie Joy, said the style and format were much more exciting than your average trivia and there were lots of prizes up for grabs.

"It's a two-hour show that's very interactive, and comedy based. You'll be dancing, singing along to some of the worst songs in history and laughing all night long.

"The Giggle Trivia host, Scott, is professional and charismatic, with high energy fun from start to finish!

"Many people win, with heaps of giveaways and raffles. The smartest almost never wins," Natalie said.

Teams of two or even one have just as much chance of winning as bigger teams.

Bookings are not essential but do turn up early to ensure a table. Find out more via www.eventbrite.com.au

Women in Business Catchups Catch On

Starting a small business can seem like the answer to the work/life balance for many women. Being your own boss and working around family commitments sounds like the ideal scenario. Then reality hits.

Small businesses can be demanding, lonely and failure rates are high. Support can be hard to find, so when Lisa Jane Hawthorne of Seabreeze Life saw the chance to help other businesswomen, she jumped in with both feet.

"My passion is mentoring women so they can enjoy a successful business and still have time for their own health and well-being. The Hot and Healthy Catchups align with my values, so when the opportunity to bring a monthly catchup to the peninsula was presented, I took it."

"[Hot & Healthy] Catchups provide an opportunity for women to share their struggles and successes and participate in collaboration. It's not just a networking event and there are no speakers – we focus on how we can help each other," Lisa Jane said.

To find the next Redcliffe catchup, go to Facebook page Redcliffe – Hot & Healthy Catchup and register online.

LET'S TALK ABOUT THE HEART-BREAKING TRUTH OF ACNE

Article by Anita East and published in
The Cosmetic Surgery Magazine

If you have ever had acne, you know how debilitating it is for your self-esteem and confidence. If you are one of the lucky ones who has had clear skin all your life, you will know someone who has been hugely affected by this common skin condition.

FACTS ABOUT ACNE

- Inflammation of a hair follicle and oil gland
- Can cause long term raised and flat scarring
- Is classified as mild, moderate or severe depending on the presence of pustules, nodules and scarring

HOW TO TREAT ACNE

There are many theories about what methods work best to treat acne, but the current therapeutic guidelines are clear and consistent. This is the skincare system that I recommend to my patients who have acne and best of all, it doesn't cost the earth. Read more on my skin care regime at anitaeast.com.au/shop/skin-types

'Between the Tides' at Scarborough

Story Jodie Woodward

The aim of Between the Tides is to raise awareness of the artistic potential and adaptability of recycled materials. This free community art event will be held on the Redcliffe Peninsula in July.

The event was created with inclusivity in mind. Carte Blanche, a group of contemporary artists based in the Redcliffe region, work with the local community to produce Between the Tides each year. They seek out contributions from community groups, individuals and school students, aided by Carte Blanche's work as Artists in Residence at Redcliffe High School.

Carte Blanche member, Trudy Stephens, said the event welcomed all members of the community.

"Producing Between the Tides, each year, is a wonderful way to bring ephemeral art to the community, extending and developing exciting artworks from recycled materials," Trudy said.

Between the Tides was inspired by a similar art event in Auckland. It leaves the gallery behind and focuses on bringing artwork into a very different environment – right onto the Scarborough foreshore. Artworks will include large-scale interactive installations that will be placed along the tidal sand bar to be appreciated by all members of the local community, as well as visitors to the area.

Event attendees are encouraged to meet local artists to view the creative ingenuity of the artworks and to enjoy the relaxed atmosphere along the foreshore.

"We hope that everyone will benefit by enjoying a picturesque environment and being part of a different type of art experience," Trudy said.

After five years at Deception Bay, Between the Tides has moved to the Redcliffe Peninsula this year. This will allow better access for Redcliffe locals and for the community to attend.

Trudy said one of the highlights of Between the Tides was watching the surprised responses from people as they viewed or interacted with the artworks.

"We encourage any community members to come along and to make some art for the event," Trudy said.

Janette Higgins and Beris Prichard prepare for the Quota Craft and Gift Fair.

Release Your Inner Artist at the Craft and Gift Fair

If you're passionate about arts and crafts, then the annual Quota Craft and Gift Fair is the perfect place to bring out the artist within you.

The fair will held at the Redcliffe Showgrounds on Saturday 6 July. Not only will it allow the community to explore many hand-crafted goods, but also help support local organisations and charities.

President of Quota International of Redcliffe, Kay Smallhorne, said the Redcliffe community could expect an array of stalls including crafts like quilts, jewellery and pottery. Another particular highlight is a delicious afternoon tea provided by the canteen staff at Quota International.

"As always, a great mixture of handmade crafts from 30 stallholders will be on show, and Webb Hall in the Redcliffe Showgrounds is undercover so everyone attending will be comfortable and warm," Kay said.

Kay said the event would help the Quota club to achieve its mission to support charitable organisations and the local community.

"We enjoy being able to help the many and varied worthwhile causes that need the financial input that our fundraising is aimed at," Kay said.

As every year, the Craft and Gift Fair will give back to the local community through funds raised by a major raffle. There will also be a lucky door prize drawn at 2.30pm on the day.

Kay said support from other local organisations, including ongoing support from the Bendigo Bank in Margate, allowed the event to go from strength to strength each year.

"Henzell Street Quilters very kindly supported us again this year by donating a beautiful Queen Size handmade quilt, which is a valued prize in our major raffle," Kay said.

"Some of the stallholders provide raffle prizes on the day of the fair, which is appreciated."

Crafters from Moreton Bay are prioritised , allthough all stallholders with expressions of interest are welcomed. For more information about the event or to become a stallholder contact Beris on ph. 3050 1421.

There is a $5 entry fee for adults, and children are free.

LOCAL AUTHOR LIFTS THE LID ON ROCK 'N' ROLL LEGENDS

Keith Williams may be a longtime resident of Redcliffe, but he draws on his Welsh upbringing to share his stories about rock 'n' roll legends.

Keith grew up in Wales during the 60s – a time when the Beatles topped the charts and Led Zeppelin was emerging as part of a whole new era of music. As a huge fan of live rock music, Keith created opportunities to meet the musicians, many of whom are now true rock legends. With so many fascinating stories to tell, Keith said he was encouraged to write a book.

Keith Williams

> "I would talk about rare gigs I've been to and encounters with famous rock stars and colourful characters along the way. People would say 'you must write a book and I will buy it' – thus, Rock Reflections was born," Keith said.

The book has been described as a musical odyssey through the 60s, 70s and 80s that chronicles Keith's adventures, from the moshpits and travelling all over the UK for rock gigs, to sleeping on station platforms and sneaking backstage to meet his heroes.

Way before they were famous, Keith was going to gigs by bands such as Guns N' Roses. He encountered rock stars such as Randy Rhoads and Phil Lynott (Thin Lizzy), Lars Ulrich (Metallica) and Ritchie Blackmore (Deep Purple/Rainbow).

He said one of his favourite memories was of Bon Jovi in London in 1985.

"Bon Jovi is on their first headline tour of Europe and Jon is prancing about, trying too hard. After a few songs the PA keeps cutting out, frustrating everybody.

"Jon then shouts 'Don't worry about it – we'll do it on our own.' He plays acoustic guitar and sings, interacting brilliantly with the audience, providing time for techs to fix the sound problem.

"It was a blessing in disguise for Jon Bon Jovi – that was the moment the rock press deemed him a world-class performer and not just a pretty boy."

Keith will be at the Redcliffe Markets on 7 and 28 July, where you can buy his book and get it signed. Rock Reflections is also available to buy via Facebook – search for 'rockreflectionsbook'.

99.7 Bridge FM Chopper Dave in the studio.

Chopper Dave Soars to New Heights on Local Radio

Have you ever wondered who is giving ave you ever wondered who the man behind the traffic reports you hear on 99.7 Bridge FM, while you're driving to and from work? Well, it's Dave Andrews, better known as 'Chopper Dave', flying high above in a helicopter.

'Chopper Dave' is more than just a familiar voice. You may also recognise his face, as he regularly gives the traffic reports on TV as well, including Channel 7's 'Sunrise' and Channel 10's 'News First'.

Brought up on the Sunshine Coast and now a Redcliffe resident, Dave always wanted to be involved in radio.

"When I was 15-years-old, my mother contacted 4SS on the Sunshine Coast (now Mix FM) and I was given a job which included making tea and general office duties, but my foot was in the door," Dave said.

Then, aged 19, Dave moved on to 2LM (Lismore) as a radio announcer, with later gigs at various radio stations in Brisbane and the Gold Coast including 4GGG (now Gold FM) Stereo 10, Sea FM, Triple M and River FM. He was also music director during his time at Hot 100 Darwin.

Dave enjoys his work in traffic reporting because "everyday is different".

"You can observe whales, dugongs or sharks, one day – the next there's a house fire or [incidents] on the road," Dave said.

Now a volunteer at 99.7 Bridge FM, Dave is responsible for music and content, a role that he's very comfortable in. He explains what goes into delivering on 99.7 Bridge FM's commitment to 'Great Rock Variety'.

> "Constructing a music log is like making a cake – you need lots of ingredients. You have to make a clock, positioning songs from the 60s, late 80s, early 70s, then 90s."

Station manager, Ray Kerr, said 99.7 Bridge FM was very pleased to have Chopper Dave as part of the team.

"He brings [so] much media experience to the group and we as volunteers are excited about the journey going forward," Ray said.

So next time you listen to music or a traffic report on 99.7 Bridge FM, you can put a face to 'Chopper Dave'.

Water Quality To Get A Boost

Moreton Bay Regional Council has awarded a $609,000 tender to Evolve Environmental Solutions Pty Ltd to plant more than 140,000 plants and trees around a new wetland at Nathan Road, to improve water quality.

Councillor for Division 5, James Houghton, said the works would be carried out adjacent to the Nathan Road AFL sporting precinct in Rothwell.

"We've built this new wetland to manage stormwater run-off from surrounding residential properties and the sporting precinct, which is under construction, and now we are adding the final touches by planting many different species of grasses, sedges and trees," he said.

"It's vital we continue to build quality infrastructure like sporting fields for our community, but it's equally important that we invest in protecting and enhancing our natural environment as well.

"It's about balancing our growth and working to protect what we love about where we live."

Cr Houghton said it was important for everyone to do their part in protecting local catchments and waterways.

"Often, it's the little steps we take — like washing the car on the lawn or being conscious of how much plastic we use and where it goes — which make the biggest difference in the end."

Waterways Spokesperson, Councillor Adam Hain, said a three hectare wetland was constructed last August to manage water quality and stormwater runoff in the area.

"The wetland was initially turfed to enable on-going reed management and ensure the reeds were eradicated prior to planting," he said.

Works are expected to commence next month and completed by the end of the year, weather permitting.

Patrik Williams (right) plays with band member, Lachlan Pilgrim.

YOU NEVER KNOW UNTIL YOU 'TRY'

Story Donna Roberts

2019 is shaping up to be a big year for Patrik Williams and his band. After the successful launch of his new single 'Try', at the Milk Factory in West End in April, he has moved to an upcoming spot on stage at the Ekka in August.

Patrik has been surrounded by music since he was a small child.

"I guess you could say it's always been in my blood, ever since I was a child I was singing in school choirs and playing instruments such as the piano and drums," said Patrik.

"I have been writing music for a number of years now and have fallen in love with crafting songs for the soul and the heart."

Alongside Redcliffe locals, Lachlan Pilgrim, on guitar and Cale Tanner on bass, and with Nathan Baxter playing the drums, Patrik is ready to move to the next level in his music career.

"These guys push me to be the best musician I can be, and they help bring the music to life," Patrik said.

Hopefully, the Redcliffe connection means residents will be treated to some local shows in the near future.

"We are planning to do several shows in the area. Despite not having a huge music scene, the [Redcliffe] culture itself is very inspiring for young artists such as ourselves."

Describing their music as 'alternative folk with hints of rock', Patrik and his talented band are mostly influenced by Australian artist and guitar prodigy, Daniel Champagne, and the rock band American Football.

Future plans for Patrik and his band revolve around securing more gigs, and hopefully gaining some national and international recognition.

"We plan on continuing our regular gig stream to gain a following in the local music scene, and eventually leading to big and better shows," said Patrik.

"We want to play at music festivals and open for international acts down the line. These are hefty goals, but it's best to dream big."

Be sure to follow patrikwilliamsmusic on Facebook and Instagram to find out about any upcoming gigs.

Chicago High School Edition cast members, Giulia Bortolanzo and Audrey Rose,

Fans of the much-loved musical, Chicago, are in for an early gift with the show hitting the Redcliffe Entertainment Centre this month.

Redcliffe Musical Theatre Youth and ROAR Academy are performing Chicago High School Edition from 5 July. Chicago fever is running high locally, with November dates being announced recently, for a high-profile Australian production at the Queensland Performing Arts Centre (QPAC).

President of Redcliffe Musical Theatre, Madeleine Johns, said the Redcliffe production featured a young cast of "extremely talented and enthusiastic" local students aged mainly 16-18 years.

"This version has some slight changes to the script to make it suitable for performance by a younger cast – but all the songs you love are still there – All That Jazz, Razzle Dazzle, Mr Cellophane, When You're Good to Mama and Cell-block Tango to name but a few – as well as the outrageous story of the Merry Murderesses from the 1920s in Chicago," Madeleine said.

"It's the perfect school holiday entertainment for all the family."

Chicago High School Edition is directed by local Maureen Bowra. Her most recent credits include Menopause the Musical, which enjoyed a sell-out season at the Redcliffe Entertainment Centre.

"Maureen is a Redcliffe local and thrilled to be bringing such high-quality local theatre to the stage yet again."

Chicago High School Edition stars Giulia Bortolanzo and Niamh Cadoo-Dagley alternating as Velma, and Audrey Rose and Alyson Reese alternating as Roxie. Local performing artist, Melanie Evans, guest stars as Matron Mama Morton.

For anyone wanting a story overview, the musical is set in Chicago during the roaring twenties , where Roxie Hart murders her faithless lover. Convicted and sent to death row, Roxie and another "Merry Murderess", Velma Kelly, vie for the spotlight and the headlines, ultimately joining forces in search of the "American Dream" – fame, fortune, and acquittal.

In a play on words that gives a nod to the musical's jailhouse setting, Madeleine said it would be "criminal" to miss this production.

GREEN FESTIVAL FOR GREEN THUMBS

Guest gardening guru, Costa Georgiadis.

The Redcliffe Garden and Lifestyle Expo is boasting an unbeLEAFable line up at the Redcliffe Botanic Gardens on Sunday 28 July. Moreton Bay Region Industry and Tourism (MBRIT) CEO Shane Newcombe said after the inaugural expo in 2018, this year was expected to be bigger and better.

Story Donna Roberts

REDCLIFFE GARDEN & LIFESTYLE expo

"Attendees can expect a full day of demonstrations and workshops from some of Australia's leading gardening experts," Mr Newcombe said.

"We're delighted to have the knowledgeable Gold Logie nominee, Costa Georgiadis, join the speaker line-up to share his depth of knowledge with the crowd."

Council Spokesperson for Tourism, Councillor Peter Flannery said the ABC Gardening Australia host was popular among all ages.

"Where ever Costa goes, he's sure to draw a crowd. His passion for gardening has really grown amongst our youth and it's exciting to see them learning new skills and getting their hands dirty in the garden," Cr Flannery said.

Costa is will speak at the expo about the topic of biodiversity and day to day ways we can all make a difference.

Event-goers will also be able to browse the lifestyle markets, enjoy a meal in the food court, view pop-up gardening displays and participate in yoga and meditation classes.

The Kindred Gardening Stage and Ballycara Lifestyle Stage will host a number of local gardening gurus and industry experts from the Moreton Bay region.

Cr Flannery said this year's festival would again focus on sustainability.

"Last year we were the first council in South East Queensland to ban the use of single-use plastic straws at council-operated venues and events," Cr Flannery said.

"We are continuing this legacy this year through the installation of water refill stations across the [Moreton Bay] region in partnership with UnityWater.

"We hope the steps we are taking now will inspire others and challenge them to think outside the sustainability box."

The little ones will not be left out, with a dedicated Sesame Lane Little Grubs' Zone, which will feature free face painting and free sustainable crafts, activities and workshops.

Councillor for Division 6, Koliana Winchester, said she hoped many who attend the event would be inspired to create their own sustainable green space. "It is fantastic to live in a region where so many children are thinking about the future and have adopted sustainable practices," Cr Winchester said.

Entry to the event is by gold coin donation and free parking is available at Redcliffe Showgrounds with a courtesy shuttle bus operating from 9am to 3pm. The full program and details can be found at www.redcliffegardenlifestyleexpo.com.au.

Jetty 2 Jetty

*Story Donna Roberts

Fitness-minded individuals will have already locked in their entries for one of the most picturesque fun runs on the winter running calendar.

This year's Jetty 2 Jetty (J2J) fun run will wind its way from a new starting line, located at Pelican Park, along the Redcliffe foreshore to Scarborough and back on Sunday 21 July.

With four race categories to choose from, including the GKS Law Half Marathon (21km), Village Motors 10km, Ballycara 5km and Sesame Lane 3km, there is a race for any level of fitness.

Mayor, Allan Sutherland, said organisers had the event coordination down to a fine art, which was a key reason behind its success and ever-growing fan base.

"The J2J is known as one of Queensland's best organised and most scenic fun runs," Mayor Sutherland said.

"Whether you are a first-time runner or addicted to running events, the J2J is sure to win you over with its stunning course staged around the Redcliffe Peninsula."

Moreton Bay Region Industry and Tourism (MBRIT) CEO, Shane Newcombe, is encouraging everyone to give the J2J a go, promising a race to suit everybody.

"With only a limited number of places left in each race, now is the time to sign up and give it a go," Mr Newcombe said.

"Whether you train all year round or are looking for a new way to get active with your friends, it's time to dust off the running (or walking) shoes because the J2J offers a distance for everyone.

"Plus, each runner that crosses the finish line will take home a finisher medallion, which is great for bragging rights."

This year's chosen charity to benefit from the event, is Chameleon Housing, a not-for-profit community organisation that helps to provide safe and affordable accommodation to young families on the Peninsula.

Participants and spectators can browse the Kindred Healthy Living Expo, featuring health services, activewear, gyms, supplements and personal training groups.

Personal trainers and physiotherapists will also be on hand to help runners recover in the Rebel Sports Warm Down Zone.

COLOUR YOUR LIFE HAPPY. — THE PSYCHOLOGY OF COLOUR

Have you ever noticed how colour can dramatically affect your moods and feelings? Have you experienced feeling calmer when surrounded by blue? Does green make you think of looking after the environment? Do you feel like snacking when you see red? Wouldn't it be great to be able to enhance your well-being and happiness by understanding and applying some colour psychology?

Advertising agencies use the psychology of colour, all the time, to influence your feelings. Think of the fast food restaurant logos that feature red to stimulate hunger and the financial institutions and many insurance companies that use blue to appear trustworthy.

Your reactions and responses are subconsciously directed by colour, so what if you chose colours for their beneficial effects?

Redcliffe colour psychologist, speaker and author, Debourah Borg, loves to help people lead a happier, healthier life with some simple steps around colour.

"It's a scientific fact that colours can affect you physically, as well as emotionally and mentally," Debourah said.

"I'm known as 'The Colour Lady' as I encourage people to wear orange underpants to de-stress and use a green wallet for wealth and abundance."

Debourah founded a colour consultancy business in the early 90s and wrote a book about how colour can be the secret weapon in your life. Further research led to Debourah's adding of essential oils to look after the mind, body and spirit better, and she has developed a set of cards showing how to use colour and oils together.

An example Debourah gives is of using lemon oil (for focus) and the colour yellow to help you study.

"Colour is a vibration frequency and the oils are also vibrational frequency," Debourah said.

"I use my colour cards as a guide to listen to my body... wearing the colour, saying the affirmation and now putting on the essential oil that is a vibrational match puts me back in the driver seat of my life," Debourah said.

Debourah frequently holds free workshops on the use of colour and essential oils. For more information search Facebook for the "Color Mentor."

Traffic Terrorists

Story Richard Lancaster

The times they are a changin'– so go the catchy lyrics of the 1960s Bob Dylan ballad. Whilst times have changed in Redcliffe, so too have the driving habits of some of our drivers. Respect for the road rules, consideration for other road users and even themselves, seem not to feature on these crazy drivers' radars.

Over the last three decades, the population of Redcliffe has increased substantially. Many peninsula families now boast two and three cars per household and with these increases, our roads have become considerably busier. During morning and afternoon peak hours, traffic from as far away as Caboolture, use the handy Anzac Avenue bypass to Brisbane and back, which creates gridlock on our roads.

Add to this mix, the traffic terrorists! This growing number of drivers who seem to believe that our roads are there to be used as their own personal speed tracks. The telltale signs of these hellions on wheels are their dangerously weaving through traffic without indicating, speeding, drink and drug driving, tailgating, road raging and ignoring traffic signals. Sadly, the police can't be everywhere and that's what these unthinking traffic terrorists gamble on.

So, Redcliffe traffic conditions have changed for the worse. But what were our roads like over one hundred years ago? In 1911, the Redcliffe Council, concerned about the increasing number of motor vehicles using our roads, passed a bylaw as follows:

"All motorcycles, cars, buses and trucks will travel no faster than 15mph [24 kph]. All horse-drawn vehicles, mounted horsemen and push-bikes no faster than 8mph [13 kph]. And when turning into a corner the maximum speed will be 4 mph [6 kph]."

So what's the answer? It's not just speed. It's also selfishness. If you are a traffic terrorist, reading this, please spare a thought. Try and think of other road users first when you're behind the wheel so it won't possibly be your or their last thought.

Freelance Life in Redcliffe

Story Suzi O'Shea

This time last year, I took a great leap of faith and left my role in full-time employment. For the first time in my adult life, I had made the decision to work for myself and freelance as a writer and speaker. So far, so good. In fact, it's the happiest I have ever been. As a mum, I have found the perfect balance of travel and time at home with my babies. I get to go to sports carnivals, award days and hat parades.

But freelancing can get pretty lonely. While there are the definite perks of staying in your pyjamas all day, sleeping in, early marks and working from bed, there are times when you are itching to just get out of the house and see outside.

So, for freelancing mums or dads out there who need some quiet places to get some work done, study or just get lost in a great book, here are my favourite places around the peninsula.

Suzi O'Shea

Cafes: Bless this peninsula and its abundance of cafes. We are so spoilt for choice when it comes to local coffee houses. Cafes are one of my favourite places to work. There are a bunch of people around, incredible coffee, views for days and tables in close proximity to a power point to charge up my laptop. My go to is Butcher Baker Coffee Maker. The three cheese toastie is what dreams are made of and their coffee machine is called Suzi!

Library: Redcliffe Library is like my second home. There's just something about being surrounded by books that brings me joy. It's a great place to work too. They have several low and high tables, computer desks, comfy reading chairs and of course, quiet.

Seaside: Everyone knows someone on Instagram who posts the obligatory photo of the ocean captioned 'This is my office for the day #blessed'. Despite your views on those social media posts, the fact remains that we have a whole bunch of spectacular coastlines at our fingertips. You may have to go old school and use a paper and pen, or just breathe in the salt air and give yourself a break.

Vegan Cooking Classes Create Raw Delights

Story Jodie Woodward

Learning to make delicious vegan and raw food is not as complicated as you might think. Raw and Peace is hosting two cooking classes in Margate in July, which will showcase a range of easy and delicious raw vegan recipes.

Business owner, Ames Starr, said you didn't have to have any special dietary requirements to enjoy her cooking class – just a love of good food.

"Our classes are for everyone! Vegans wanting to expand their repertoire, or anyone keen to incorporate more whole foods into their diet," Ames said.

Raw and Peace was formed in 2010 as a way for Ames to cater to her own health, and is now the longest running raw food business in Brisbane.

"I love to show people how easy and fun it is to make healthy alternatives, and that they can actually taste amazing," Ames said.

Each class includes all recipes and notes, tastings and food to take home.

Find out more and book upcoming classes via the Raw and Peace Facebook page or at www.rawandpeace.com.au

Get Your Hands Dirty for the Environment

Story Wayne I Flack

Do you want to make a difference to our local environment? Then why not volunteer for National Tree Day this month.

Co-founded by Planet Ark and Olivia Newton-John in 1996, National Tree Day has grown into Australia's largest community tree planting event and will be held on Sunday 28 July.

Koliana Winchester, Division 6 Moreton Bay Regional Councillor said the event, which involved planting native trees and shrubs, was an important initiative for the region's wildlife corridors and environmental habitats.

"Not only does planting do wonders for our local environment, but it is also a great way for the whole family to get outdoors and enjoy all that our region had to offer," Cr. Winchester said.

Volunteers can turn up on the day, but should wear enclosed shoes and a hat. All planting equipment and gloves will be provided on the day. There is no need to pre-register.

"I look forward to seeing you there, so bring the kids along and get your hands dirty while doing something good for the environment," Cr Winchester said.

More information can be found via treeday.planetark.org.

Budget Boost for Peninsula Infrastructure and Environment

The Peninsula community is set to receive a multi-million dollar boost for infrastructure and the environment as part of Moreton Bay Regional Council's 2019/20 budget.

The recent budget announcement includes significant allocations for roads, wetlands, playgrounds, community groups and major developments, such as the Redcliffe Administration Centre Art Gallery and Community Space and Nathan Road Sporting Precinct in Rothwell.

Community Facilities

Division 6 Councillor, Koliana Winchester, said several community groups and their facilities would benefit from funding.

The Redcliffe SES Depot will receive $150,000 for new air-conditioning, bathroom fixtures and fittings, and additional functional space for activities such as operational response and training.

"Our SES crews do a fantastic job assisting the community as first responders during times of disaster, and this funding will help the local SES group coordinate more activities and exercises in better facilities," Cr Winchester said.

More than $17,000 has also been allocated for the purchase, installation, and storage of beach access matting and wheelchairs in partnership with the Redcliffe Surf Lifesaving Club as part of Council's Disability Access and Inclusion Plan.

Infrastructure Improvements

Around $900,000 has been allocated for road re-surfacing across the peninsula with more than $2 million dedicated to local road upgrades.

Councillor for Division 5, James Houghton, said more than $200,000 had been allocated to revitalise the shopping precinct along Landsborough Avenue between Bunton Street and Rock Street.

Environmental Enhancements

High again on council's priority list is protecting Scarborough's Red Cliffs from erosion, with $1.5 million allocated in the Budget 2019/20.

"Now that we have all of the relevant approvals from the State Government, I hope that we can go out to market soon for the stabilisation of Scarborough's iconic Red Cliffs," Cr Houghton said.

Council has also set aside $800,000 to construct a wetland within the Bells Creek Catchment to improve the creek's water quality.

Other Budget Highlights

$2.82 million for drainage upgrades in the Cox Street catchment including at Duffield Road, Cox Street, Oxley Avenue, Mabel Street and Margate Parade.

$775,000 for stage 2 of the car park construction at Talobilla Park.

$200,000 to upgrade six bus stops, including on Deception Bay Road, Klinger Road, Oxley Avenue and Scarborough Road.

$182,000 for pedestrian safety upgrades to Sutton Street.

$92,000 for upgrades to the Victoria Avenue, Redbank Road and Crawford Street intersection to address blackspot issues.

Faulty Towers Dining Experience (above)

Story Kylie Fennell

You can't 'fault' the quality of entertainment hitting the peninsula this month. Mon Komo Hotel hosts the internationally acclaimed show, Faulty Towers the Dining Experience on Friday 19 July.

In tribute to the classic BBC show, Basil, Sybil and Manuel serve guests in their 'Faulty Towers' restaurant – with hilarity guaranteed to ensue.

Rob Langston, who plays Basil, said guests should expect "everything and anything".

"The show itself is a three-course meal with a two-hour show happening around it. It's nearly 70% improvised so every show is different," Rob said.

Rob credits the appeal of the show to the character of Basil and the show's enduring nature.

"It's absolutely timeless. Such strong, hilarious characters and such hugely crafted comedy writing.

"There is so much love for Basil, it's so much fun to play with and also it gives me an opportunity to yell at random strangers."

The 2019 tour of the show has already included some huge highlights such as Fringe Festivals in Adelaide and Melbourne, another sold out run in Sydney Opera House, and tours across entire continents.

Tickets for Faulty Towers the Dining Experience start at $85 (including your meal) and can be purchased at www.stickytickets.com.au.

Five-piece local band, Jukebox Heroes, promises "classic rock at its finest" when it plays at the Redcliffe Leagues Club on Saturday 13 July and Bramble Bay Bowls Club on Friday 19 July.

Jukebox Heros play hits that span the decades – with everything from Abba to (Led) Zeppelin.

Lead singer, Kiran Kishore, said the band specialised in entertaining crowds with classic 70s and 80s pop, rock, soul, funk and "any other genre you can mention".

"Fans can expect a night of excitement and fun, we include them in the show with songs they can sing with us and dance to and they will experience excellent music from top musicians," Kiran said.

"I especially like to see the people's faces light up when they hear the first few notes of a song they haven't heard for a long time and watch them dance the night away, while we deliver a great night out for them."

Local DINING GUIDE

Jacob Chang from Sushi Nikko.

New Sushi Restaurant ON A ROLL

The tastes of Tokyo have arrived on the Peninsula with the opening of Sushi Nikko, Bluewater Square's newest eatery.

Story Emma Harley Photos Ben McShea

Only in its second month of operation, the restaurant offers a sushi train that serves up a wide range of sushi favourites, as well as authentic Japanese meals.

Locals may recognise the familiar, friendly face of owner, Jacob Chang, who until recently, ran the sushi shop in front of the new Sushi Nikko.

"We have had lots of previous experience owning and operating sushi restaurants and takeaway stalls over the years, so when centre management asked if we were interested in taking over the restaurant in March, we knew it was the right decision," he said.

> "My wife and I knew we made excellent tasting sushi and Japanese food, so we were very excited to take on the challenge of running a restaurant."

Jacob is no stranger to preparing delicious Japanese cuisine, having spent decades cooking up a storm across the globe.

"We are native Koreans, who immigrated to New Zealand in the 1990s, before making the move to Australia over a decade ago," he said.

"My wife and I have shared a love for cooking since we were very young, so we decided to pursue this passion after moving to Australia.

"After running a restaurant on the Gold Coast for around five years, we operated a sushi stall in Brisbane for two years, before taking on the smaller sushi takeaway shop that is directly in front of our current restaurant."

Jacob said he was excited at the opportunity to expand his skill set, from takeaway sushi to restaurant sushi.

"By having a larger shop and a train to go around, we will be able to offer a great new food experience to the Redcliffe community," he said.

"What makes our restaurant special is we have already been a part of the local culinary scene for years, so we know what our customers like.

"We see a lot of regulars around the shopping centre and it's always great to know that people are always keen for a chat."

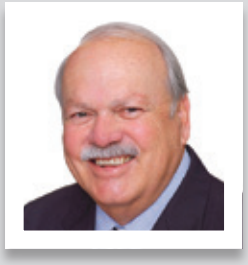
A WORD FROM OUR REPRESENTATIVES

Cr James Houghton



Since Council's planning scheme commenced on 1 February 2016, Council has been working on amendments to ensure it remains a living document that supports growth and maintains the region's unique characteristics. Council previously consulted with the community on proposed amendments and is now seeking community feedback on these new proposed amendments and planning scheme policies. The proposed changes generally aim to improve functionality and address issues which have been identified since the scheme first came into effect.

Some key matters include, but are not limited to: improvements, to cater for carports in residential areas and sheds in rural residential areas; changes to encourage sufficient use of land within walking distance of commercial centres and train stations and to further clarify the design and location of service stations; and enhancements to fourteen planning scheme policies, to improve their usability and ensure they are up-to-date and fit for purpose.

Some amendments do not include the proposed changes previously advertised in 2017. These matters continue to be considered by Council. Council encourages you to find out what the updated amendments mean for your property. For more information call Planning on ph. 5433 3496 or visit www.mbrc.qld.gov.au

I'm pleased to report that the Palaszczuk government's budget this year will support new infrastructure for our schools, hospital and TAFE.

We're investing $2.5 million in infrastructure projects across state schools on the Peninsula. $750,000 is being allocated to Woody Point Special School to undertake the refurbishment of Block H and E, while Redcliffe Special School will receive $250,000 for the installation of an outdoor learning area.

Humpybong State School and Clontarf Beach State School will each benefit from the refurbishment of a school block while $240,000 will be allocated for minor works projects at all state schools across the Redcliffe Peninsula.

The Redcliffe Hospital is a major focus of the budget with $16 million to purchase and install an MRI machine at Redcliffe. $41.1 million is allocated to ongoing projects, including the new multi-storey Redcliffe Hospital carpark, refurbished day procedure unit and redesigned special care nursery, birth suite and paediatrics unit.

Redcliffe TAFE is gaining over $1 million in training infrastructure investment, including the creation of a nursing ward at the campus.

Luke Howarth MP

It was great to visit Moreton Island last month and see how Reggie is fitting in to his new home.

Moreton Island National Park makes up 95% of the island and is home to 1234 fauna and flora species - including the curlew bird that thrives on the Island as it lays its eggs on the ground.

The six-year-old english springer spaniel has one big responsibility though - ensuring Moreton Island stays cane toad free.

Over the past few years, four cane toads have been detected in passengers' camping gear. To ensure Reggie keeps up his sense of smell for cane toads, the odour is brought over to Tangalooma Resort and stored in double sealed bags on ice.

Over on the mainland, Hay's Inlet Boardwalk is coming along nicely too. Phase one of construction is almost complete and should be open in the coming weeks.

The Davo Show Out to 'Impress'

*Story Philip Woods

While all performers like to make a good impression on their audiences, it's fair to say that Davo makes a great impression. Lots of great impressions in fact, in every show!

Davo has been acclaimed as one of Australia's great comedic impersonators, and he'll be bringing his live show to the Redcliffe Entertainment Centre on Tuesday 23 July.

"I was a finance company manager for about two years a few decades ago and I hated it," Davo said. "Since then I've made a living out of making people happy. My job is to make people go home feeling twice as good as when they came out."

Over the years Davo has used his musical ability and rare vocal gift to develop amazing impersonations of many much-loved characters, including Mrs Brown, Roy Orbison, Chad Morgan, Louis Armstrong, Joe Cocker and Boy George.

"It's taken a long time to put it all together. There's stand-up comedy, audience participation and lots of great songs from amazing artists," Davo said.

Clay on Display

The best of local pottery will go on show this month with the Redcliffe Pottery Group's annual exhibition 'Clay on Display' at the Stage Door Gallery.

The exhibition, which opens on 16 July, will feature high-quality work produced by members of the group that has its studios at the Old Fire Station.

Redcliffe Pottery Group president, Yutaka "Tad" Tadokoro, said the exhibition included sculptures, stoneware, hand-built pottery, and wheel-thrown tableware, as well as whimsical hand-built figurines and flowers.

The exhibits on display have been judged, based on the highest standards across a number of categories.

"Two [of the] categories are dedicated to the members of yesteryear; one for encouragement award and other for memorial award to celebrate years of dedication to pottery by the late life member," Tad said.

Entry to the Clay on Display exhibition is free. So come along, support your local potters, and choose a unique gift for yourself or someone special.

For more information about the Redcliffe Pottery Group contact Tad on 0411 339 061 or email info@redcliffe-pottery-group.org.au.

BUDGET INVESTS IN HOSPITAL AND SCHOOLS

The Queensland State Budget invests in Redcliffe and focuses on health and education. I am proud to share some of the highlights for our local area.

- $16 million for the purchase and installation of an MRI machine at the Redcliffe Hospital.
- $5.5 million to build an additional operating theatre.
- Over $41 million for ongoing projects at the hospital, including; the multi-storey carpark.
- $2.5 million for local State School projects.
- $4.9 million will see the completion of 10 units of accommodation with another 26 under construction on the Peninsula.
- $1 million for Redcliffe TAFE for training infrastructure, including a Nursing Ward at the campus.

It is essential for our area that we create and support training opportunities. This investment will see greater opportunities for locals to gain the skills they need to join the workforce.

Pro Golf Returns to The Peninsula

Pro Golf will make a return to the Peninsula this July when the Redcliffe Golf Club tees off with a first time event, The Optilease Redcliffe Pro-Am.

Hannah Mason, golf operations manager at the club said it has been about 25 years, since the Redcliffe Golf Club, hosted a tournament of this prestige.

"Apart from trainee tournaments over the years, this tournament is considered as massive, not just for the club, but for Redcliffe in general," Hannah said.

"The club was excited to be included in the Sunshine Swing of the Ladbrokes PGA Pro-Am Series, and will be striving to make this an annual event for Redcliffe," Hannah said.

The Ladbrokes' PGA Pro-Am Series is a national event program for professional and amateur golfers, and the Redcliffe Pro-Am is one of five being held over the week, at various golf courses around the Brisbane area. This leg of the Sunshine Swing is usually held in September, but has been brought forward this year, because the PGA already has some larger tournaments scheduled for that period.

About 45 leading pro golfers are expected to join local pro, Doug Klein, at the Pro-Am on 15 July, to play for the purse of $30,000. Doug was a Redcliffe Club Champion three years in a row from 2015 to 2017.

The Redcliffe course is an 18-hole championship par 71 slope, rated 123 blue course. The players form groups of four, with one or two pros in each group, alongside the amateurs.

The tournament is free for spectators and the bar facilities will be open for refreshments. The restaurant will be closed to the public following the event, as a sit down presentation dinner is scheduled for the professionals and players.

Hannah Mason said the course looked in immaculate condition, and she had never seen any course around Brisbane looking greener.

"These course conditions along with some challenging holes being set could make for some entertaining golf being played," Hannah said.

For more information on the Pro-Am and golfing opportunities the club offers, visit the club's website at www.redcliffegolf.com.

REDCLIFFE RECYCLING DEPOT

A new bottle and can recycling depot has opened on the Peninsula. You will find it at 266 Duffield Road, Clontarf and its hours of operation are Monday to Friday 8am-4pm, Saturday 9am-2pm, and Sunday 9am-1pm. You can receive cash on the spot or EFT refunds if you are registered for the Queensland Containers for Change Scheme. If you have any more questions please visit www.containersforchange.com.au or call 134242.

RECYCLE BIN RAIDING

A discussion was started on social media about some people raiding residential recycle bins on the Peninsula, for bottles. The general reaction to the news was positive both for those looking to make some extra money whether for themselves or for a charity they donate the funds to, and for recycling in general with comments such as, 'That's great that people do that, as long as they don't make a mess, we need more people recycling'. Some were complaining about the noise disruption, however one person suggested: 'Maybe put the bottles in a box beside your recycling bin. That way they won't have to dig through other stuff for them'.

WHOOPING COUGH OUTBREAK

PharmaSave flagged recently via social media that their pharmacists had noticed an unusual increase in cases of Whooping Cough for this time of year in the Redcliffe area. Initial symptoms of whooping cough can very similar to the symptoms of the common cold such as a running nose, a dry irritating cough, a sore throat, sneezing, watering eyes and generally feeling unwell. If you think you or your child might have whooping cough, see your doctor for advice and assistance.

PUBLIC BULLYING

The topic of what to do when you see a child that is not your own being bullied in a public space was raised on social media recently, with a whole range of responses offered.

One local said: 'It's enough to say, are you okay to the child. Offer to wait with them on the street until the others are gone'. Helpful resources were also suggested, like a bullying support web-chat available all year round on the Kids Helpline website or calling PoliceLink on 131 444 if the incident warranted it.

SCHOOL SPEED ZONES

There have been a variety of opinions shared on social media on whether school speed zones are important community features or revenue raising initiatives, following recent news of the changed speed limit at Redcliffe High School from 60km to 40km between school times 7-9am and 2-4pm. There was also discussion about the school zone at Hercules Road State School located along the busy Anzac Avenue with one commenter suggesting: 'I honestly feel that having a permanent speed camera set up for all school zones wouldn't hurt'.

SPINNAKER PARK

There is a new kids' park that seems to be thrilling many of the peninsula's younger residents at Newport Waterside. The park is called Spinnaker Park and is located on Lakeview Promenade. Keen parents have said via social media: 'I took my girls there this afternoon and was blown away. It was massive but you can see the whole park anywhere you stand. It has toilets and bbq facilities' and 'My kids love it. It's behind the retirement high rise... gorgeous you can also see diggers and aeroplanes, my kids spend hours here and it's the first place they never wanted to leave'.

Einbunpin FESTIVAL 2019

*Story Philip Woods

A favourite event for locals and visitors since the early nineties, the Einbunpin Festival, returns to Sandgate in July, bringing another great day of fun, music, stalls and entertainment!

Councillor Jared Cassidy, chairperson of the festival committee, has seen it grow and change over the years.

"The Einbunpin Festival has become one of the largest music festivals in the local area over the past decade, with the growth from one small stage to three entertainment areas at the 2019 festival," Cr Cassidy said.

"A few years ago, a small youth stage was added on the Lagoon Street side of the festival, which has seen steady growth over the years, to the point where we will now see a brand new and expanded youth area in a brand new location at the festival."

The new youth space will feature a chill out zone, games, activities and food stalls, as well as a stage that is set to showcase lots of local performers, musicians and artists!

"These young performers rarely get the opportunity to play outside of their schools, or group of friends, so we want to give them the opportunity to break out into the music scene," Cr Cassidy said.

"We have for the first time a competition as part of the festival with the winners proceeding through to the new Sandgate Youth Music Festival in September."

The Einbunpin Festival began in 1992, as a celebration of our local community, and is named for its location, around the banks of Einbunpin Lagoon in the heart of the village.

Sandgate's own town crier, Fred Krebs, will kick off this year's festival at 9am, and the high-riders from the Queensland Penny Farthing and Historical Cycle Club will pedal into the day as part of the Pennies By The Sea Tweed Ride.

"This year's festival will feature over 160 stalls once again, showcasing our local schools, community groups and businesses. We are unashamedly local with the vast majority of our stallholders coming from the local community," Cr Cassidy said.

"The Einbunpin Festival has been the biggest and the best celebration of our community for the last 28 years and we think this one will be one of the very best!"

Push To Preserve Maritime Hero Continues

Despite yet another setback, the Gayundah Preservation Society has vowed to continue its mission to keep the memory of Queensland's iconic 19th century warship HMQS Gayundah alive.

After four years of trying, without luck, to persuade the Queensland Government to preserve the remains of the rusting Gayundah, located at the cliffs at Woody Point, the Society decided to embark on a new strategy.

This new plan involved a week-long 'Gayundah Festival' that would have opened in Redcliffe, April 2021. The centrepiece of the festival was planned to be a metal replica of the HMQS Gayundah ship, built to a third of the size of the actual vessel. The society proposed to locate it in the Humpybong Creek near the Redcliffe Museum.

"The replica would become a beacon representing a celebration of Queensland's and Australia's rich maritime history as well as a major tourist attraction, to assist an already struggling local economy," Gayundah Preservation Society president, Richard Lancaster, said.

On 14 May the society made a presentation to the Moreton Bay Regional Council about the festival and sought permission from council for the new replica to be housed at the proposed Humpybong Creek location.

However, following their presentation, the Society received a letter from the council's CEO informing the group that Council would not support the replica project, because of 'environmental and other issues' related to the proposed site.

Mr Lancaster said the Society was disappointed with the council's response after they had received such a positive reaction on the day of their presentation. He added that the Society could also comfortably address all of the concerns the council had raised about the proposed location.

"The Gayundah warship is extremely important to Queensland's history … you and I probably wouldn't be here if the Gayundah and the Paluma warships had not been commissioned," he said.

"Most Queenslanders don't know the history of this ship and it's sad. We should know all this history. That is why our members are so passionate about keeping the story of the Gayundah alive."

Mr Lancaster said the society had not given up and was now talking to private entities about funding for the replica and the festival.

Gayundah and her sister ship, Paluma, were the first vessels to be commissioned by the Queensland government for the Colony's defence force. The ships were acquired to deal with a perceived threat of invasion from the Russian Pacific fleet. Arriving in Brisbane, 28 March 1885, the Gayundah was built with a flat-iron design and mounted a 'formidable armament for its size'.

HISTORY

ORIGINS OF THE NAME HUMPYBONG

Humpybong is thought to be derived from the local indigenous Ningy Ningy people's word, ngumpin. It was anglicised to oompie-bong.

*Story John Sayles

The word is said to mean empty houses or dead houses and refers to the remains of the convict settlement at Redcliffe Point.

On 14 September 1824, the brig, 'Amity', brought a party of officials, soldiers, their wives and children, and 29 convicts to the area. They landed on the beach near the mouth of Humpybong Creek to form a convict settlement. The original settlement at Redcliffe was established between Humpybong Creek, Anzac Avenue and the beachfront.

The settlement progressed and temporary huts were initially built for the group. Later, other buildings were constructed, including a store, kitchen, a well, a brick kiln, prisoners and soldiers' barracks, a gaol, a guardroom and a commandant's house. The stores and main landing place were located near Redcliffe Jetty.

What is now called Humpybong Creek was by far the largest water course on the Redcliffe Peninsula, and was the main supply of fresh water for the convict settlement at Redcliffe. It was even navigable by small boats.

However, because of the excess of mosquitoes and the challenges of maintaining a safe anchorage, the settlement only existed for about eight months. In 1825, the settlement was moved to the banks of the Brisbane River.

A few buildings were left standing at Redcliffe and the derelict remains gave rise to the name 'oompie bong'.

German missionaries visiting the area, in the early 1840s, came to refer to the Redcliffe Peninsula by the variation, Umpibong. The name stuck and the Redcliffe Peninsula was later called Humpybong. In the early pioneer days, Humpybong referred to the whole of the peninsula and for many years, up until the time of the second World War, the names Redcliffe and Humpybong were in common use.

The name Humpybong still lives on today. There is a creek, a school, a café, an esplanade, a car park, and a yacht club, and there was even a pop band named after it.

This story is based on information provided by the Redcliffe Historical Society (historyredcliffe.com.au)

Tile & Metal Roofs

All roofs age over time. After around 15 years, tile roofs deteriorate to the point where a restoration should be considered. At this age, colour starts to fade, ridge capping becomes brittle, lichen and mould can grow, and tiles become harder to clean. The appearance of your home suffers and your roof is more likely to develop leaks.

Richard Gabriel from Mr Highlights Roofing has over 20 years experience in the roofing trade. He uses only premium quality products for his restorations, and offers a full 10 year warranty on all workmanship and materials.

World Health Organization launches free app to check hearing loss

- No appointment required
- No hearing aid sale pressure
- No need to provide personal details
- Free

hearWHO app

WHO says everyone should check their hearing, especially those who are at a higher risk of hearing loss, such as adults above 60 years and people who work in noisy places. This free app is available for iphone and android systems. hearWHO app has demonstrated sensitivity and specificity exceeding 85%. This app is not intended for use by persons under 18 years of age and will not provide accurate results in such cases.

During the hearing test, users listen out for and identify numbers spoken against varying levels of background sound, simulating listening conditions in everyday life. If the user scores low on the hearWHO app hearing test, they are advised to get a GP referral to an audiologist to get their ears checked professionally. At Sandgate Hearing, our professional hearing test includes Pure Tone Audiometry, Tympanometry, Otoacoustic Emission Measures, Speech Test in Quiet and Speech Test in Noise. Evaluation of tinnitus is available. We provide advice on hearing protection and hearing rehab services.

What clients say about us

"They are Second to None."

I'm extremely pleased with my new hearing aids and the professional services offered by Sandgate Hearing. They are second to none. Before I couldn't hear Bonnie, my wife of 57 years…. and now I can! Thank you Sandgate Hearing!

Bob & Bonnie Collis – Pelican Waters

My Hearing is now A1

I've had hearing aids before but I didn't really like them. They were not comfortable at all. I'm very happy with the ones I've got now from Sandgate Hearing. I couldn't ask for anything better. My hearing is now A1.

Carolyn Trathen – Dakabin

These are 100% better…

For 20 years I couldn't hear very well. With my new hearing aids I can actually hear now! I'm so happy with my new Audiologist, Ronnie Lam. He explains everything to me and really cares about my hearing. My family doesn't need to repeat things now!
