WHAT'S HOT AROUND TOWN

STORY NADIA CHAPMAN

If you're a fan of mid-1950s rock 'n' roll, this musical event coming to Redcliffe will catch your eye.

The Australian Buddy Holly Show is coming to the Redcliffe Entertainment Centre on Tuesday, 18 October.

Kris Knight, the Buddy Holly impersonator, said locals can expect a night full of nostalgia.

"[The Buddy Holly Show] is a fun-filled tribute to one of the pioneers of rock 'n' roll, including a fully live band with no backing tracks," Kris said.

Kris has been performing as Buddy for 20 years across Australia and overseas. In fact, this will be his last show in Australia until NYE, as he is taking Buddy to sea.

When asked what Kris loves most about performing, he said, "the immediacy of the moment—you have to be concentrating yet getting lost in the music. I love the enjoyment it brings."

Bookings are essential, and tickets start at $28 pp. You can find out more via www.redcliffeentertainmentcentre.com.au.

Hot (News) Flash! Menopause the Musical in Town!

STORY ALYSSA MACKAY

Menopause the Musical is back and is set to have the audience flushing with excitement.

The musical parody turns 21 this year and to celebrate, the Australian production by SK Entertainment is returning to Redcliffe Entertainment Centre for four side-splitting shows.

Company director and producer at SK Entertainment, Sam Klingner said the musical shone a spotlight on the difficulties and struggles experienced by women during menopause and reminded them they were not alone.

"My favourite thing about Menopause the Musical is night after night hearing hundreds, if not thousands, of women all laughing along and celebrating 'the change' together," Sam said.

Menopause the Musical is set in a department store where four different women form a bond after discovering they have a few things in common – from hot flashes to mood swings, night sweats, memory loss and more. The show includes parody covers of hit songs by Aretha Franklin, Marvin Gaye, The Bee Gees and Dusty Springfield.

Trish Dearness, who plays Earth Mother, said she had been a cast member of the show since the 2019 regional tour of Australia.

"This is an absolute gem of a role for me," Trish said. "The character is very playful and her main menopausal symptoms are insomnia, rapidly changing eyesight and vagueness. Earth Mother is a 1970s hippie who has been vegan long before it was fashionable.

"I always love listening to the audience respond to the show. Both women and men find the four characters relatable. We say we are four girlfriends on stage and the audience is girlfriend number five. It's a high-energy, quirky and very entertaining show."

The Australian production has many connections to the Peninsula. The first performance was at the Redcliffe Entertainment Centre in 2019. Sam has family connections to the area and currently lives in Rothwell, while director and choreographer Maureen Bowra is a Scarborough local. Trish was born and raised in Redcliffe.

"I lived overseas for many years and decided to move back to Redcliffe when our children were born," Trish said. "The regional tour has allowed me to visit many beautiful towns and cities across Australia, but there's no place like home."

All tickets are $69.90. To book go to www.redcliffeentertainmentcentre.com.au/Events/Menopause

FESTIVAL OF FRIGHTS

Redcliffe Markets are getting their SPOOK on

STORY JULIA LEWIS

The Redcliffe Markets Festival of Frights is back and bringing you eats, beats, tricks and treats.

Proudly sponsored by Moreton Bay Regional Council, the event includes spooktacular activities including trick or treating for the little monsters, a sideshow alley for wicked prizes, spooky decorations and stalls, fiendishly good street food, and of course, ghoulish face painting.

Event goers are encouraged to dress in their scariest outfits and soak up the atmosphere as local musicians play spine chilling music and roving entertainers spook from their stilts and cast spells with fire twirling.

After the success of the event last year, Event Coordinator Mark Power said that with the amazing support of the Redcliffe community, it was a no-brainer to host another Festival of Frights.

"This is our second event Festival of Frights and our third Twilight event of 2022," Mark said. "We will definitely host one next year as it is such a fun event for all ages."

"The night will have something for everyone including spookiness from humans to your four-legged friends, lots of tasty foods, handmade options for your retail therapy fix, finishing off with a spectacular display of fireworks."

"Local support is pivotal, so we can continue these fun events into the future. It's a great opportunity for the community to visit the market and check out the local vendors and retailers."

Presented by Goodwill Projects, the night will not only keep you entertained, it will also ensure that you won't leave hungry with a wide variety of sweet and savoury flavours from all around the world. Attending the event are market favourites such as Oh Cannoli, Bubbo Desserts, Lamb Marinade, Smoked Smoko, Paella Man, Piante Pizza, Benz on Miller, London Spuds and Djarkarta Indonesian Eats to name a few.

Mark said that the Redcliffe Parade makes for the perfect venue for the Festival of Frights as it will give witches and ghouls the chance to soak up the moon over the water and watch an explosive display of fireworks.

"This is a fun opportunity for the family to get creative, dress up and trick or treat safely. There will be lots of fun activities for all ages."

Attend if you dare.

Andrew Coady,
Teenay Major

"Once we received training in micro brewing ourselves, we developed a curriculum for the students that would earn them a Certificate III in Food Processing (Micro brewing)," said David.

"The course covers a multitude of skills including canning and branding, while also earning their RSA so they can serve members of the public, who can also purchase food created by our students."

The course is for 16-18 year-olds, so although students aren't allowed to sample the beer they brew, they also make non-alcoholic ginger beer that can be enjoyed by all.

So, what do the parents think of this relatively new venture?

"The response has been great," said David. "Especially as we invite parents to come and sample the fruits of the student's labours".

Sounds like my kind of parent teacher evening!

If you're concerned that they're competing against local businesses, it's actually the opposite. The 3 Eagles team works closely with a number of breweries to find out what skills they require so students are armed for their future careers.

And there seems to be no lack of innovation at Redcliffe High. When faced with the problem of what to do with leftover grains, David said, "Our students turn them into dog biscuits and donate them to Guide Dogs Australia, apparently they're a big hit."

If you'd like to try the beer on tap, grab a bite to eat and even take some home with you, stop by Wednesdays from 2:40 to 4:00pm and Fridays from 1:30 to 4:00pm.

HIGH SCHOOL BREWERY

You read that title correctly! Redcliffe State High School is brewing their own beer and they are the first Australian High School to do so! And the best part is - it's open to the public under the banner of '3 Eagles Brewing' to sample.

Officially opened in December 2019, the idea was the brainchild of Redcliffe High Principal, Shona McKinlay.

"Our Principal saw a skill gap in the growing brewing industry and asked us to find out how we could make a course in micro brewing happen," says Redcliffe High Teacher and Head of Department, David Christie. He along with Andrew Coady and Phil Morrison developed the course.

Performers from Mousetrap Theatre are preparing to take to the stage with Kander and Ebb's musical comedy, 'Curtains'.

The musical explores murder mystery tropes, red herrings, lights off, and big reveals and features a score by the creators of Chicago.

Director of Curtains, Alicia Cherise, said the young cast have had no trouble stepping up to the plate.

"It has been great to see the younger members taking on the challenge of these big roles," Alicia said. "They have enjoyed emulating the murder mystery genre they have seen during previous mainstage mousetrap productions".

"Three times a week, you can hear the sound of dancing feet and the hum of harmonies as a young cast gather together to prepare for their upcoming production."

This year, the Mousetrap Theatre is celebrating its 70th anniversary and to pay homage to its namesake, they are gearing up for a season of performances featuring multiple murder mysteries. The cast, which features performers aged 10-17, and includes a director, assistant director, choreographer, as well as crew members, are currently in a 12-week rehearsal period to prepare for 11 performances over three weekends.

President of Mousetrap Theatre, Karen Matthews, said that the theatre offers an affordable family experience and promotes an environment where young people can build confidence and make lifelong friends.

"Mousetrap offers an opportunity for people to see wonderful, affordable, productions, with local talent on show. All our performers and offstage workers are volunteers from the local community," Karen said. "Being involved is a social activity, as well as skill building for people of all ages."

"Theatre offers our young people an avenue for confidence building and allows them to showcase their abilities to a wider audience."

With a vibrant energy amongst the cast, murder mystery lovers and musical theatre enthusiasts alike, will not want to miss this hysterical production with enough twists and turns to keep you guessing to the very end.

Due to maintenance work being carried out at the Mousetrap Theatre, this season of Curtains will be performed at the John Naumann Hall, Deception Bay.

PINOT AND PICASSO TAKE THE PRIZE

Most people by now would have heard of, if not participated, in one of Pinot and Picasso's many sip and paint sessions.

But what they might not know is that our own Redcliffe studio has been heralded as the leader in its field, being recently awarded Best Suburban Studio in Australia at the 2022 Pinot and Picasso annual EOFY awards.

Co-owners of Pinot and Picasso Redcliffe Debbie Lennon and Katrina Humphries said although the win was unexpected, they were incredibly thrilled and grateful.

"It is so exciting to be recognised in front of our peers and fellow studio owners by the heads of Pinot and Picasso. Not only that, but to have Redcliffe recognised nationally is a huge bonus for our area," Katrina said.

The Redcliffe studio was founded as a result of the pair's search for a fresh opportunity after working together for 12 years in a variety of previous businesses.

"When we saw the Pinot and Picasso business we just knew there could be nothing better than painting and sipping overlooking Moreton Bay," Debbie said.

Despite the difficulties posed by lockdowns, and even the challenges presented by an onslaught of rain back in February that caused their ceiling to cave in, Katrina and Debbie said it had been nothing short of an adventure thus far.

"After sitting in ankle deep water, popping a bottle of champagne and shedding a tear, we got up, cleaned up, fixed the roof damage, soldiered on and are proud to say we did not miss one session that weekend," Debbie said.

However, the path ahead looks as pretty as a picture, with plans to take the paint and sip experience on the road and to expand into a new area of Moreton Bay in 2023.

"We are now focusing on building our local presence and getting out into the community to really enjoy all of the benefits of being a part of Redcliffe and surrounds," Katrina said.

MORETON MONEY

Locals Backing Locals

Deborah Fay, Virginia from Scarborough Seaside Flowers & Gifts, Cr Sandra Ruck

So, what is Moreton Money? Moreton Money is a collaborative effort between the Moreton Bay Regional Council and six local Chamber of Commerce, including Redcliffe Peninsula Chamber of Commerce, to support local businesses in the region.

It takes the 'Back a Local' theme one step further using a Moreton Money gift card ensuring money stays in the region and supports local businesses. The community gift card can be used to purchase goods and services from any participating business within the Moreton Bay region.

Deborah Fay from Disruptive Publishing is working closely with the Redcliffe Peninsula Chamber of Commerce as the project coordinator to launch the Moreton Money program in our area.

"Moreton Bay residents spent more than $3.5 billion dollars outside of our region last year alone. Whereas every $100 spent in our local area equates to an additional $180 in our local economy supporting local jobs, business owners and suppliers. With statistics like this, Moreton Money is a no brainer," said Deborah.

"Not only does it encourage locals to spend their money in the region, it's also very easy for local businesses to get involved. All you need is an existing EFTPOS facility and be a member of your local Chamber of Commerce."

Many local businesses have been quick to jump on board with the initiative, including Scarborough Seaside Flowers and The Komo.

"I see great potential for the Moreton Money program in our region. We're excited to be involved with this as a load up and redemption venue here at The Komo," said Sarah Casey, sales and marketing manager at The Komo.

If you would like more information on Moreton Money, or would like to register your business as a redemption store, go to MoretonMoney.com or email Deborah on moretonmoney@redcliffepeninsulachamber.org.au

A WORD FROM OUR REPRESENTATIVES

YVETTE D'ATH MP

My thoughts are with the royal family and the millions of people around the world who are mourning the passing of a great woman. On behalf of our community, I was honoured to sign the condolence book for Queen Elizabeth II at Government House.

This month, the Palaszczuk Government will be holding a Housing Summit to address the urgency around multiple housing issues throughout the State. I understand this is a tough time for our community and we will be looking at every measure to accelerate housing supply, and to improve affordability in a very tight rental market. All levels of government have a role to play in improving the current housing situation.

The last round of the Gambling Community Benefit Fund (GCBF) for 2022 (Round 115) has now opened for applications! Round 114 saw more than $200,000 distributed to community groups within Redcliffe alone. This fund has distributed more than $1.06 billion to Queensland not-for-profit groups over the last 28 years.

If you have any feedback for the Housing Summit, or if you would like information about the GCBF, please reach out to my Electorate Office.

With December approaching, my calendar is filling up fast for end of year festivities. If your community organisation is having end of year fundraisers, events or meetings that you would like me to attend, please ensure you email through to my office as soon as possible."

I was sworn into Government under the Oath of Allegiance to Her Majesty the Queen in 2013. Since then, I have taken that oath four times, most recently in July of this year, promising to faithfully serve Her Majesty, Her heirs and successors.

difference, we're making that difference for your family, your friends, your staff and your neighbours."

The main activity hub on the day will be the 99.7 Bridge FM Radiothon at the Redcliffe Youth Space on Oxley Avenue. The venue will also provide the perfect lunch-time setting for hot rod car displays, a concert, prize wheel and sausage sizzle.

The community is encouraged to donate online or by calling 1300 363 786. All donations given on the day will be doubled by Giving Day Impact Partners.

The event will raise much-needed funds for improved patient care, health research, the refurbishment of the rehabilitation unit, wishlist grants for patient and staff care programs and other initiatives that are beyond the scope of government funding.

More than $170,000 was raised at last year's Giving Day, which helped fund a new Senior Nursing Researcher position, a bereavement room for families who have lost babies and urology research to help men with prostate cancer.

Ms Garske said Raise it for Redcliffe would not have achieved the successes and triumphs it has if it wasn't for local community partners.

"It's so heartening and gratifying to witness the level of community support and leadership of local business," she said.

Giving Day Events kicked off last month with the successful Crew Legal Spring Gala Ball. More events are planned throughout the year.

DONATIONS DOUBLED ON HOSPITAL GIVING DAY

STORY ALYSSA MACKAY

The Redcliffe community will show their gratitude for their local hospital at the second annual Redcliffe Hospital Giving Day this month, with every donation on the day to be doubled.

The Giving Day on Friday, 14 October is the main fundraising activity for Raise it for Redcliffe, a partnership between Redcliffe Hospital and the Royal Brisbane Women's Hospital (RBWH) Foundation.

RBWH Foundation CEO Simone Garske said the spirit of giving was well and truly alive in Redcliffe.

"The level of community involvement in the lead-up to Giving Day has been overwhelming, which gives us enormous confidence that we can reach the target needed to fund some extraordinary projects this year," Ms Garske said.

"In a community as tight as the Moreton Region, almost everyone has a connection to Redcliffe Hospital. When we talk about making a

CLONTARF GIRL GUIDES

CREATING RESILIENCE, PASSION, AND INDEPENDENCE.

For the past 46 years, Clontarf Girl Guides have been supporting young women as they navigate the world into adulthood.

Originating in Great Britain in 1910, the Girl Guide movement was founded in response to the girls who were interested in joining Boy Scouts. With a mission to learn about leadership and personal development skills, they strive to be confident and to have self-respect, as well as encouragement to be actively involved in their community.

By creating an environment where girls can discover their potential as leaders of their world, the Girl Guide promise is 'always doing my best, being true to myself, developing my beliefs, to serve my community and Australia and live by the Guide Law'.

Abigail Degen is a member of the Clontarf Girl Guides and has been attending since she was a Brownie in 2019. Abigail said Girl Guides is for anyone who wants to have fun and learn at the same time.

"Girl Guides is a highlight of my week, it's really fun and I've learnt so much from it, I reckon every girl would love it too". Abigail said.

Girl Guides encourage new membership and acknowledge the dedicated Leaders who support the girls on their journey.

Helen Silkstone, Leader at Clontarf Girl Guides, has been volunteering with the organisation for more than 25 years. She started when her daughters expressed interest in joining the club, and even though her daughters are now adults, she continues her involvement as a volunteer to inspire the next generations of Guides, a role Helen finds very fulfilling.

"I just love being a leader, it keeps me young, and I truly believe in the fundamental beliefs of Guiding." Helen said. "Being able to watch girls start at five years of age and go on to become well-adjusted adults. I'm proud of them and their successes in life".

Lisa Twigg, President of Clontarf Girl Guides said that volunteering is a great way to give back to the community.

"Volunteering sets a good example to your own children. My parents did a lot of it. And both my brothers have done their share," Lisa said. "It creates a shared community and a pitching in mentality."

If you feel Girl Guides is for your daughter, or niece, or know of someone who may be interested in joining, please email clontarfdm@guidesqld.org

Redcliffe Scottish Pipe-Bands presents A Scottish Ceilidh

Straighten your kilts, and put on your dancing shoes, because the Redcliffe Scottish Pipe-Band is preparing to show you what it means to be a Scott.

Held on October 29, the Scottish gathering, or, Scottish Ceilidh, is an event that will celebrate all things Scottish from, music, singing, dancing, and of course, bagpipes, all while raising funds for the band.

Secretary of Redcliffe Scottish Pipe Band, John Richards, explains that a Ceilidh was originally held in the community as a way for people to meet. "Traditionally a Ceilidh was a social meeting event where courting couples could meet and where traditional Scottish or Irish music played and poetry read out." John said.

With the help of the Dancing Ashby's, the Scotia Highland Dancers, and the Ishka Ceilidh

Band, event goers will have the opportunity to be guided through traditional dancing, while enjoying all the festivities of live music.

"There will be traditional Scottish piping, highland dancers and traditional Scottish dancing," John said. "We have dance callers who will guide you through traditional dances."

Formed in 1953, The Redcliffe Scottish Pipe-Band have been entertaining for an impressive 69 years. They currently have 17 members with 4 more learning skills, and practice every Thursday evening at the Navy Cadet's Hall in Woody Point.

Proceeds from the evening will go towards purchasing new uniforms and drums and replacing bagpipe reeds.

Stories Told Through Song

STORY PATRICIA HIGGINS

The history of folk music is one where communities would come together to tell their stories through song, and it's a tradition to which The Moreton Bay Symphony Orchestra (MBSO) pays homage.

This October, the Redcliffe Entertainment Centre will host 'Folk Music Kaleidoscope' which is set to feature folk pieces such as The Moldau by Smetana, Finlandia by Sibelius and The Hebrides Overture by Mendelssohn.

According to MBSO president and viola player Eve Brown, this particular style of music is not only enjoyable, but has the ability to open our eyes to the milieu of distant times and places.

"Folk music gives us glimpses into other cultures and the rich tapestry of traditions and storytelling, as it often tackles controversial topics such as oppression, politics, depression, and war," Ms Brown said.

MBSO is a community orchestra that performs a wide variety of music and is made up of members coming from all walks of life, with people welcomed to join at any time.

Tickets to Folk Music Kaleidoscope are priced at $25 for adults and $20 for students and can be purchased at www.redcliffeentertainmentcentre.com.au/Events/MBSO-Kaleidoscope or by phoning (07) 3480 6280. To find out more visit www.mbs.org.au.

PADDLING ON THE PENINSULA

STORY KELLY WALKER

Fresh air, beautiful scenery, and a chance to get her heartrate up are just a few reasons why Clontarf local, Lorraine Parker, loves getting out on the water with her stand up paddle board.

"I started paddling in 2017," Lorraine said. "I initially wanted to take my dog out with me and I tried her on a friend's board which she seemed to like. I bought my own board soon after and have been paddling in the area for five years now."

The Redcliffe Peninsula is a paddler's paradise as there are a variety of locations that suit different tide times and wind conditions.

"Scott's Point is perfect as it doesn't matter whether the tide is high or low and conditions are usually great in the morning," said Lorraine. "Bells Beach, Scarborough and across at Sandgate are also lovely depending on winds and tides."

Lorraine also loves seeing the plethora of marine life that the Moreton Bay area has to offer. "I just love that I often get to see wildlife such as turtles, dolphins, dugongs and rays," she said. "Seeing a dugong up close is quite a memorable experience."

If you're curious about the sport, Lorraine recommends joining a local paddling group or taking a lesson to get started.

"There are so many different types of boards around so some expert advice would be beneficial," she said. "Lessons are also good in that they provide you with the right technique so you don't make hard work for yourself by standing the wrong way or holding the paddle incorrectly."

While Lorraine often heads out for solo paddles with her pups, she enjoys going out with organised groups when the timing works. "I have made some good friends through paddling," she said. "We sometimes go for breakfast or coffee after being on the water and we've also had a few trivia nights." As many people are happy to let others test drive their boards, Lorraine explained that getting out with a group is also a great way to try a few different models before buying your own.

For Lorraine, there's nothing more beautiful than paddling out in the early morning and watching the sun come up. "It's so peaceful being out on the water," she said. "Mentally, it is just great to be out on the bay."

JANICE CHARLISH

STORY RICHARD LANCASTER

Janice Charlish is a familiar face in the Redcliffe Community. Her contributions as President of both the Redcliffe Art Society and the Moreton Bay Arts Council, ensure her days are consumed with matters involving art on both the Peninsula and the wider Moreton Bay region.

Born and bred on the Redcliffe Peninsula, she was the second child in a family of eight born to the late Redcliffe Mayor Ray Frawley and his wife Molly.

After completing her education at St. Bernadette's Primary School and Soubirous Secondary College Scarborough, she joined chemists Terry and Rhonda White in their first pharmacy in Margate and worked with them for seven years. Ever the entrepreneur, Janice subsequently opened her own florist business in Woody Point which operated successfully for eight years.

After a 24 year stint as Business Manager for Myer Queensland, Janice retired in 2006 and joined the local Moreton Bay Arts Council, becoming President in 2008. Conscious that local artists were in need of inexpensive exhibition space, she created an initiative under the National Renew project, whereby artists could temporarily utilise vacant shops in Redcliffe for art exhibitions. She also led a fundraising project, which raised $3600 for the 2011 Flood Appeal.

In 2013 Janice received the Australia Day Cultural Award from the Moreton Bay Regional Council. During that ceremony, acknowledging the vital role that art and artists play in the promotion of the region.

The 6 Reasons Customers Leave.

STORY BRAD FLYNN

As business owners, we must always aim to have the majority of business be repeat business. Repeat customers are generally the most profitable and more likely to buy our new products and services.

So why do customers leave?

Reasons beyond your control.

- Death - 1% of your customers are due to this.
- Move - 3% of people move to a new location,
- Friend - 5% will have a friend or family member that now sells what you sell and they feel obligated to buy from them instead of you.

Reasons within your control.

- Sold by a competitor - 9% leave because someone had a slicker sales process than you.
- Price - 14% shift to a cheaper and usually inferior alternative.

The top reason why customers leave.

- Perceived Indifference - 68% of customers leave because they think you don't care about them.

Customer service in any business must create raving fans about your business. We need to have a step by step process to take people from first contact to happily referring friends and family. But first of all they must know that we care and value them for buying from us.

To get Brad's list of ways you can show your customers that you do care about them visit www.businessolympians.com.au/customerservice

HISTORY REDCLIFFE

A POLICEMAN'S LOT IS NOT A HAPPY ONE

HISTORY WITH PATTIE TANCRED

With the abandonment of the short-lived penal colony of 1824-25 - Queensland's first jail - Redcliffe reverted once again to being free (as far as we know) of criminals and without regular policing. It was not until 1886, with the construction and staffing of a new police station, that the law returned to Redcliffe in the person of Constable WH Wade, the Peninsula's first resident police officer.

The police station was a low-set building comprising quarters for the constable and a cell for 'guests' of the law. It stood "about midway between Redcliffe and Reef Points", fronting the beach. This proximity to the sea perhaps accounts for the damage when, in February 1893, as reported by Senior Constable George Perry - the station's fourth incumbent - "a violent hurricane passed over Humpybong", badly damaging the police station and its outbuildings and the constable's own furniture.

Officer Perry's woes were not confined to the ill-effects of bad weather. In 1892 he had been forced to defend himself against smears published in the Moreton Mail that he failed to protect the populace against the doings of a "lot of young fellows" who "having their brains in the seat of their pants, go about at night ... doing mischief". Among the reprehensible activities the constable was supposed not to have policed were a theft of oars, fishing nets destroyed and, curiously, "playing cricket naked on the beach". Perry, in a long report to his superiors, refuted these claims (especially, he had "never seen any person naked on the beach").

More successful in thwarting crime was Acting Sergeant James Rafter, who followed Perry at Redcliffe. In 1898, Rafter distinguished himself by arresting one Henry St John Somerset, a Treasury official, accused of embezzling over £6,000. Poor Rafter did not accrue much kudos as a result of this triumph. Only two years later, an official report on the station at Redcliffe commented, "The work at this station is very light. Acting Sgt Rafter is an old man, slow and suitable only for a station such as this", which also seems to indicate that, Somerset's presence notwithstanding, Redcliffe was no hotbed of crime.

In the face of the challenges they face, today's police officers probably sigh for a time when, for the most part, the worst a single Redcliffe officer had to deal with was cattle theft, public drunkenness and petty pilfering from bathing sheds (a common summer crime in the 1920s), not to mention complaints of naked cricket on the beach.

PODCAST OF THE MONTH

60 Songs that Explain the '90s

PODCAST REVIEW NICK ALLFORD

A song can transport you back in time as vividly as a photo.

So why not let experienced music critic Rob Harvilla be your guide back to a time of Beanie Babies, Buffy and Bangs - through the medium of eclectic music.

This isn't simply a chance to don rose tinted glass and poke at the nostalgic part of your brain. I'd equate this podcast to listening to a radio station in the 90's while the DJ (with the power of experience and hindsight) talks you through songs that you know and love and maybe a few you might have missed.

Although focusing on an iconic song from the era, each episode also covers other tunes and moments from the 90's. Playing samples of each and discussing what they mean to him along with insights and trivia he's gleaned over the years. Rob is joined by fellow critics, writers, musicians and enthusiasts who share their thoughts and personal anecdotes of the 90's songs they love, with vastly different perspectives.

Even if you were too young or possibly too inebriated to remember much of the 90's it's still a fun nostalgic journey. You may even rekindle your love of a forgotten song and band.

Kyron Lovell Music

THE MUSICIAN WITH A RARE GIFT

There are few musicians in the world who can boast having perfect pitch, or who can play a right-handed guitar despite being left-handed, but for Kyron Lovell, these gifts are just his natural ability.

Ky started his lifelong love affair with music at age 6. Soon after receiving a drum kit, his family realised that he had a unique talent after he casually started playing along to Metallica and Powderfinger.

Despite being neurodiverse with profound symptoms of autism and a genetic condition, Ky communicates seamlessly through the language of music and is setting his sights on studying in the music industry.

Kyron's mum, Tee Lovell, said that because of his passion for music and his rare talent, he has been offered a place with the Ability Radio Project, developed by Community Media Training Organisation, a first of its kind.

"At the age of 14, Kyron's music therapist discovered he had the rare gift of perfect pitch," Tee said. "He has now been offered a placement in Audio Ability by CMT0. This is a first of its kind, 16-week course to train for Community Radio."

The purpose of the project is to facilitate social inclusion and training in radio production, as self-advocacy for people with disabilities and mental illness in inner city Brisbane. This aims to provide broader learning for people with a disability.

To follow Kyron on his incredible music journey, follow him on Instagram @kylovelmusic

Lions Christmas Wishes

For over forty years, the team at Redcliffe Central Lions Club have been granting Christmas Wishes to older members of our local community. The community organisation offers help to over 65's living on the Redcliffe Peninsula and in Rothwell.

David Marsden, President of the Lions Club of Redcliffe Central said it was an opportunity to repay the support received from the community throughout the year.

"We realise in the run up to the holidays and particularly around Christmas time, some of the older folk in our community just need a little assistance." David said.

"Whatever the reason, we can help with things such as a garden or patio tidy-up, small jobs around the home, or even just taking someone out for a cuppa and a chat. Jobs that a small, dedicated team can handle."

Growing Positive Mental Health

STORY TANYA FISHER

Mental Health Week is 9-17 October so what a terrific opportunity to focus on growing your own positive mental health.

Positive mental health is when our thinking, feelings and behaviours are supporting us to manage stress, relate well to others, and make helpful personal choices.

Here are some practical and easy ways to build positive mental health:

Stay connected with family and friends. Take time to be with people who are meaningful to you, you can do this via Zoom or in person.

Look after yourself. Move, eat well, and get eight hours of sleep!

Speak positively to yourself! Sometimes, we say things to ourselves that we would never say to another person. Try and cut yourself some slack and know that you really are doing the best you can in the moment.

Develop good coping skills. These will help you to deal with the life situations that occur for us all. If you're feeling angry, you might find breathing slowly in through your nose and out through your mouth helps you to calm down. Alternatively, what seems a big problem might seem more manageable if you create a to do list to tackle it.

Find your balance! In between work and home responsibilities create some space to have a little fun? It does not matter what it is, it is about fun and the joy this brings us.

Reach out if you need support. Find someone who will listen to you without judgement or criticism. If there is not anyone like that in your life, there are lots of fantastic services that want to support you during this time. You can connect with them online, phone or face to face.

Quota Club Redcliffe

Quota Club of Redcliffe Inc is a women's service club which has been operating on the Peninsula since 1957. Their charter is to help local people, particularly women, children and the hearing impaired. Over the past two years, Quota has been raising money to put Soundfield systems into every primary school on the Peninsula.

Soundfield systems are attached to the teacher in the classroom and enable every child in the room to hear the teacher as well as if they were right under the teacher's nose.

If you would like to help this worthy cause, you could join the ladies of Quota for a fun night of laughs and testing your trivia knowledge by attending a trivia night on Saturday night 22nd October in the Senior Citizens Centre in Redcliffe. Doors open at 6.30pm for a 7.30pm start. Tickets are $20.00 a head, with all proceeds going to purchase the next Soundfield system. Attendees are asked to bring their own supper and drinks. Tea and coffee will be provided.

STORY RICHARD LANCASTER

Very few Redcliffe residents know that the late notorious ex-criminal Mark 'Chopper' Read was so taken with the Peninsula that he came close to settling here.

Staying with his bodyguard, Mark 'Hammer' Dixon in Scarborough, Read approached me about organising an art exhibition for his latest works in Redcliffe. He had already established himself as a painter of note, with his previous sell-out four exhibitions in Melbourne and Sydney.

He had caught the art bug through his friendship with the 2000 Archibald prize winner Adam Cullen who is rated among the 10 most collectible artists in Australia. Cullen took Read to his own art exhibition in Melbourne, during which time he told Read he'd just sold two of his works to Elton John for $50,000.

An amazed Read exclaimed "How long has this 's..t' been going on?"

Read's first 45 work exhibition in Melbourne was an opening night sell-out. This was duplicated in Sydney with the same result. On being asked to describe Read's art, Cullen said "It's post-modernist neo surrealist rubbish, but it looks good on the wall".

Read never claimed to be an outstanding artist. "I sell because of my notoriety!" he told me. He was also the author of six adult books and one for children.

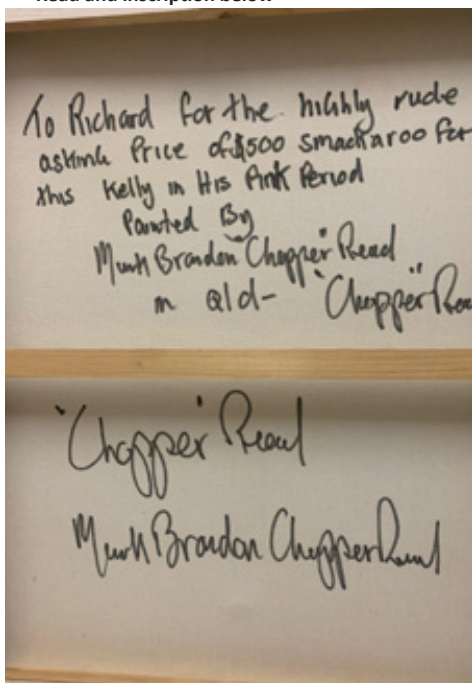

On Saturday evening 9 June 2012, Chopper Read's first Queensland exhibition opened as a joint exhibition with Scarborough's renowned portrait painter Kelvin Hawley, called Black and White in Redcliffe's Seaside Artists Gallery in Comino's Arcade.

The exhibition was a sell-out, again on the first night of the week-long exhibition. This further enhanced Redcliffe's reputation with Read. But shortly thereafter, Mark 'Chopper' Read was diagnosed with inoperable cancer. He passed away in Melbourne on 9 October 2013 aged 58 years, leaving a wife Margaret and a son, Roy.

I bought a couple of his paintings. Unhappy about the price I paid for one, he painted on the back: To Richard, for the highly rude asking price of 500 smackaroos for this Kelly in his pink period! I was happy though.

CUT IT OUT
'EM UP!
A LOOK INTO THE HISTORY OF COLLAGE

SENIORS SING SONGS OF THE 50S, 60S AND 70S

STORY GABRIELLE TURNBULL

At Art So Lively, we are currently deep in the process of 'cutting it out' and 'sticking it on' as we collage to create interesting, unique and sometimes humorous images around the theme of the human figure.

The term 'collage' stems from the French word 'coller' meaning to paste and describes a work of art created using paper and/or everyday items glued to a surface.

Around 1912 the term was coined by the early Modernists George Braque and Pablo Picasso. Paper fragments of popular songs, photographs, newspapers, wallpaper, old tram tickets and other ephemera started appearing in their work. The Cubists using such experimental materials thoroughly broke with established artistic conventions.

However, it seems that collage is not as modern as I once thought. The earliest form is evidenced in Iron Age tombs of the nomadic people of Siberia. Remnants of felt have been found, suggesting it was used as decoration. Then in 200BC China, with the invention of paper, artists saw creative potential in the way it could be torn, cut and pasted to silk and it became very popular in 10th Century Japan with calligraphers and poets.

Medieval European artists embellished the images in cathedrals applying gold leaf, gemstones and precious metals. Each decade has produced outstanding artists using collage, assemblages and installations to express their perspective on society. To discover intriguing images created using collage, Google some of the following names: Martha Rosler, Richard Hamilton, Joseph Cornell, Kurt Schwitters, Wangechi Mutu, Deborah Roberts and Australia's own Sally Smart.

U3A Redcliffe are celebrating Queensland Seniors Month by performing some of the biggest hits from the 50's, 60's and 70's at their annual Seniors Concert.

The concert has been entertaining the community for 15 years and will be held on Saturday, 8 October at the Senior Citizens Centre on Oxley Avenue.

U3A Redcliffe president Ruth Northcott said the event would be a great celebration. Members of the U3A (University of the Third Age) have been learning to play musical instruments for the performance, including the guitar, banjo, ukulele, saxophone, trumpet and keyboard.

The audience will be tapping their toes to songs from the Sound of Music as well as popular tracks by Olivia Newton-John, Elvis, The Beatles, Creedence Clearwater Revival and many more.

Tickets are $12, which includes a light lunch. They can be purchased from the U3A reception in the Moreton Bay Regional Council administration building on Irene Street, between 8:30am and 3:30pm on weekdays.

Concert-goers are encouraged to purchase their tickets as soon as possible, because the campus will be closed between 16 September and 4 October for school holidays.

FISH OF THE MONTH

DUSKY FLATHEAD PLATYCEPHALUS FUSCUS

STORY PETER HANSLER

It has been incredible fishing locally the last few months with big Bream, Tailor, Snapper, Sea Mullet, Whiting and Flathead all in good numbers. Flatheads are probably my favourite estuary species to target and eat! All the way along our foreshores they can be caught land based. From Shorncliffe to anywhere around the Hornibrook Bridge, the local jetties, fishing platforms and around to Scarborough is perfect for catching this tasty fish.

Identified easily by a single black dot on the end of the tail, they are often confused with other species such as Sand and Bar-tailed Flathead. Growing to over a metre long and quite the predator at this size, you can only take them between 40cm and 75cm in Queensland as the larger breeding fish are crucial to replenish natural stocks. All larger fish are female as they are born male and change to female around 35-45cm in length.

My favourite way to catch them is with a light rod, braided line and a soft plastic lure that is bounced on and off the bottom as you wind in, but they will take many lures and drifting in a boat with bait live or dead works well too. They love the warm shallow weedy edges of sand banks, creek mouths and rivers in the last few hours of the outgoing tide where they wait to ambush their prey. Walking the sandbanks and casting lures at this time is ideal.

Japanese friends of mine tell me Flathead is the best sashimi they have tried in Australia, I still like mine steamed, baked whole or fillets on the BBQ though thanks!

If you ever hear a fisherman say I caught a huge "lizard" this is what they are talking about.

MAMMAS

MAMMA'S ITALIAN RESTAURANT

SERVING
PENINSULA FOR ALMOST

If you haven't already dined at Mamma's Italian restaurant, do yourself a flavour! Like countless others, you are sure to become a regular customer.

A staple on the Peninsula, Mamma's has been serving Southern Italian food for almost 40 years.

Maria and Amedeo opened their first restaurant in Woody Point in 1982, however with seating for only 20 customers, they relocated to Margate where they happily worked until retirement in 2016.

Retirement was not meant to be. Mamma's Italian restaurant can now be found on the oceanfront in beautiful Redcliffe. While they might have a new location, customers will still enjoy the dishes that Mamma's is famous for. Gnocchi with pine nuts, cherry tomatoes in a creamy pesto sauce, chicken scaloppine with white wine and lemon butter sauce, to a beautiful bowl of traditional bolognese, Head Chef Maria, AKA 'Mamma', oozes love, passion, and family.

Drawing on her Sicilian heritage, Maria puts her heart and soul into every plate that she sends out. They are known for their exquisite home-made pasta, and for the sweet lovers out there, the menu includes luxurious Italian desserts made by Amedeo himself. It is this passion and dedication to serving traditional Italian food that makes Mamma's such a family affair.

New to Mamma's restaurant is the edition of a wine and cocktail menu fit for a king. Carefully curated by Maria and Amedeo's daughter, Sara Ciancio, it boasts having everything from Italian Martinis to classic margaritas and even Sgroppino. The new look of Mamma's restaurant can also be attributed to Sara's eye for luxury and opulence. To say thank you to the Redcliffe community for their years of loyalty, Sara has ensured that every detail that went into Mamma's new restaurant oozed extravagance, and indulgence.

In 2021, Mamma's was inducted into the Italian Academy of Cuisine, a prestigious title held by few restaurants in Australia. The Academy's objectives are to safeguard the culture and civilisation of the Italian table, promote and flavour its diffusions in Italy and underlying the force of tradition. This recognition is testament to the talent, dedication and love that Maria, Amedeo and Sara bring to their restaurant.

LOCAL RADIO RAISES IT FOR REDCLIFFE

PHOTOGRAPHY

Raising funds for Redcliffe Hospital and coming together to support the cause of healthcare in the community is what 99.7 Bridge FM's upcoming Giving Day is all about.

Officially known as Raise it for Redcliffe - Redcliffe Hospital Giving Day, the fundraiser will comprise a special outside broadcast outside the 99.7 Bridge FM radio station in Redcliffe.

According to radio presenter Georgia, the broadcast will take place from 9am to 6pm whereby she and fellow announcer Ron Hailes will MC the event, as well as interview key staff from Redcliffe Hospital and the Redcliffe Hospital Giving Day team.

"The event gives the opportunity for patients and staff (past and present), as well as the broader community, to offer their support to Redcliffe Hospital and provide much-needed resources for medical research and initiatives," Georgia said.

Those that come along to Giving Day can enjoy music during part of the proceedings (via Team Music Care) plus a sausage sizzle fundraiser, classic car display and can donate to win prizes.

"We would love the community to come along and support this worthy event and help to raise funds for such a fantastic cause," she said.

According to Georgia, 99.7 Bridge FM was currently ramping up behind-the-scenes preparations and partnerships to help bolster the fundraiser's reach.

"We are currently promoting with radio sponsorship, interviewing with key hospital personnel, and conducting interviews with event organisers who are fundraising for the hospital.

The complementary endeavours include the Crew Legal Spring Gala Ball, the luncheon fundraiser that was organised by GKS Law in June, and Holistic Horizons' Gala Dinner which is planned for the end of September.

She said the event was sponsored by 99.7 Bridge FM but also would include support on the day from Hycraft Automotive, Road Rage Industries, Holistic Horizons and Redcliffe Sunrise Rotary Club.

"All those that have supported the cause with fundraiser events have worked tirelessly to bring the community together to raise as much-needed funds as possible."

You can get involved by coming along to support the day on Friday 14 October at 99.7 Bridge FM and can also donate www.redcliffegivingday.com.au/.

COMMUNITY INITIATIVE LAUNCHES ART TO BOOT

STORY PATRICIA HIGGINS

You may well wonder at the concept of Boot Art – described as a hybridised artist-run initiative and six month public art strategy based at The Bone Yard Collective in Redcliffe – that in more layman's terms features (at least, in part) art installations emerging from car boots.

Whilst it's still in Beta Mode, Boot Art @ Bone Yard Collective is certainly wondrous in person – a fantastic collaboration where experimental public art meets great coffee with inner city vibes.

The next launch, which marks Boot Art Test Run 3, is scheduled for October 28 and is expected to bring with it a carnival-like atmosphere.

"If you come along you'll meet emerging, mid-career and experienced artists working through their ideas and concepts out of the boots of their cars, vans, utes and wagons," Ms Hurst said.

Ms Hurst is quick to point out that the launch and all exhibits are in fact, not a boot sale and although artists may have works or souvenirs of ideas for sale the project was far more encompassing.

"This project is about a joyous creative coming together of people who believe in the power of the arts to enrich lives and communities," she said.

The art installations are numerous and incredibly eye-catching but according to Ms Hurst it's not only about looking at the art, but rather an open invitation for the community to jump in and enjoy a personal level of experimentation.

"Recycle your coffee cups by taking home giveaway seedlings in your Bone Yard biodegradable coffee cup (courtesy of artist Kiki Blundell and the 3Bears House), byo platters of trash to the green wrought iron dining table to share with your fellow trash picker-uppers (courtesy of the Inglorious Trash strategy) and go wild at the events with drawing challenges uploaded to Boot Art Instagram and FB pages from Gary Warner (teacher of experimental drawing at the National Art School in Sydney)," Ms Hurst said.

For more information about Boot Art search via the Events Pages on Facebook.

THE MELBOURNE CUP AND THEY'RE OFF AND RACING!

STORY BY JULIA LEWIS

Jockeys are gearing up and ladies are dusting off their fascinators, as people around the country prepare for the race that 'Stops the Nation'.

The Melbourne Cup is Australia's biggest and most famous horse race and considered to be one of the world's most prestigious. Held annually on the first Tuesday in November, the Melbourne Cup had humble beginnings. On November 7, 1861, the Victorian Turf Club introduced the Melbourne Cup in an attempt to trump the success of another competing club. About 4000 people gathered to witness John Cutts ride his mount, Archer, to victory that day, and won a gold watch for his efforts.

These days, prize money is in the millions, crowds are well in excess of 100,000 and the Melbourne Cup Trophies alone are worth around $250,000.

While racing purists attend the Melbourne Cup to hedge their bets, and to either celebrate or commiserate over a few beers, another important event takes place on the day. Fashions on the Field was introduced in 1962 in the hope that it would bolster the number of female racegoers. This year marks the 60th Fashions on the Field, and with many categories for people to enter, including a category for the kids, anyone who wishes to show off their unique or lavish outfit is welcome to enter. It is also an opportunity for the fashion industry to showcase designers of both fashion and millinery.

The real stars of the day are the 24 Thoroughbred horses who battle head-to-head around 3200 meters of racetrack, in an effort to cross the finish line first. The record holder for the fastest race is the 1990 winner, Kingston Rule, with a race time of 3 minutes and 16 seconds, and the horse with most wins in the history of the race is Makybe Diva, who took out the cup in 2003, 2004, 2005.

With millions in prize money and trophies, 16,000 rose bushes adorning the track, champagne flowing, countless hats and fascinators and with all the fashion and glamour of the racing carnival, the Melbourne Cup is anything but modest.

BROS

This year, Universal Pictures proudly presents the first romantic comedy from a major studio about two gay men maybe, possibly, probably, stumbling towards love. Maybe. They're both very busy. From the ferocious comic mind of Billy Eichner (Billy on the Street, 2019's The Lion King, Difficult People, Impeachment: American Crime Story) and the hitmaking brilliance of filmmakers Nicholas Stoller (the Neighbors films, Forgetting Sarah Marshall) and Judd Apatow (The King of Staten Island, Trainwreck, The Big Sick), comes Bros, a smart, swoony and heartfelt comedy about how hard it is to find another tolerable human being to go through life with. Starring Billy Eichner, the first openly gay man to co-write and star in his own major studio film—and featuring an entirely LGBTQ+ principal cast, including Luke Macfarlane (Killjoys), Ts Madison (The Ts Madison Experience), Monica Raymund (Chicago Fire), Guillermo Diaz (Scandal), Guy Branum (The Other Two) and Amanda Bearse (Married ...with Children)—Bros is directed by Nicholas Stoller from his screenplay with Eichner. The film is produced by Judd Apatow, Stoller and Joshua Church (co-producer Trainwreck, Step Brothers) and is executive produced by Eichner.

ROOF RESTORATIONS

Transform your tired old roof with a value boosting makeover

Full Roof Restorations
From only $2,000

- Repair and Change Out Broken Tiles
- High Pressure Clean
- Re-bed Ridge Capping (if required)
- Re-point Ridge Capping
- Sterilise Surface (if required)
- Apply Primer/Sealer
- Apply New Roof Membrane (2 coats)
- Apply Nano Clear Protect Coating (barrier coat to prevent fading)

All roofs age over time. After around 15 years, tile roofs deteriorate to the point where a restoration should be considered. At this age, colour starts to fade, ridge capping becomes brittle, lichen and mould can grow, and tiles become harder to clean. The appearance of your home suffers and your roof is more likely to develop leaks.

Richard Gabriel from Mr Highlights Roofing has over 20 years experience in the roofing trade. He uses only premium quality products for his restorations, and offers a full 12 years warranty on all workmanship and materials.

Richard is an owner/operator and doesn't employ salespeople, so costs are kept to a minimum which means savings for you!
