FROM THE EDITOR

A big welcome to May! The nights are a little cooler but the day's are still glorious. And inside the pages of this month's Redcliffe Guide you will find lots of great entertainment and events to warm up the cooler nights!

From us all at the Redcliffe Guide, we want to take this opportunity to wish all the mums, grandmothers and important women in our children's lives a very happy Mother's Day. We hope you enjoy your special day!

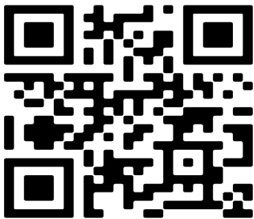

This month, National Volunteer's Week is 15-21 May. This is an opportunity to acknowledge, celebrate and to thank volunteers for the incredible contributions they make each and every day to our community. The theme for 2023 is 'The Change Makers'.

Don't forget to support our local small business by using the handy trades and services directory and dining guide inside every month's issue of the Redcliffe Guide!

Our GuideCast this month features local Nadeen Payne. Join me by scanning the QR code below to hear more from this talented basketball player and children's book author.

So until next month, grab a cuppa and happy reading - and listening!

WHAT'S HOT AROUND TOWN

STORY NADIA CHAPMAN

f beautiful melodies and orchestral symphonies interest you, there is a special concert coming to our little corner of paradise.

The Brisbane City Pops Orchestra is celebrating its 50th anniversary and is putting on a delightful musical performance at the Redcliffe Entertainment Centre on Saturday, the 27th of May.

For this celebration, the orchestra has invited two talented guests—Alex Raineri and Emma Nightingale, both well-known musicians.

Alex is an outstanding, well-travelled pianist, having toured extensively overseas and in Australia. Meanwhile, Emma is an emerging lyric soprano and has performed primarily in Queensland and New South Wales with the highly acclaimed group, The Seven Sopranos.

Bookings are essential, and tickets start at $38 pp.

t's time to celebrate women in business across the Peninsula with a very empowering event this month.

Woman in Front is hosting a collaborative and supportive get-together on Saturday, the 27th of May, at the Redcliffe Leagues Club.

Whether you want to network professionally, make new friends, or discuss new business ideas with like-minded women, this Woman in Front event will satisfy your needs.

The event aims to celebrate women and their businesses, stories, successes, and strengths. The event is an opportunity for women in business to be heard, respectfully while building a community stronger than steel.

With a two-course meal, bubbly bevs, and a panel of guest speakers to be announced, this event is not to be missed.

Bookings are essential, and tickets start at $162 pp.

Celebrating women seems to be the theme of events this month, and it doesn't stop at women in business.

Honky Tonk Angels, starring Brooke McMullen, is coming to the Redcliffe Entertainment Centre on Friday, the 12th of May, to celebrate the women of country music.

This event will have you reminiscing with featured hits from the 50s to the 90s.

Honky Tonk Angels will have a fantastic backing band, The Smokin Crawdads, to transform the already-stellar performance into a next-level show.

Brooke's performance will honour artists, such as Patsy Cline, Tammy Wynette, Shania Twain, and Dolly Parton.

The event is not to be missed! Bookings are essential, and tickets start at $48 pp.

YOUTHS HIT THE AIRWAVES

STORY EMMA HARLEY

In a world where social media and streaming seemingly rule the information superhighway, 99.7 Bridge FM is turning its dials to help give young bayside residents a voice on its airwaves.

The Voice of Youth Program - on air every second Thursday during school terms - is giving school students from the region a hot mic to discuss the issues and news that affect their generation.

Voice of Youth co-host Selina McPhee - who facilitates the program alongside co-host John Muldowney - said the program had proven a huge success with young residents already.

"The idea was born from an idea to offer the youth of our community a chance to voice their views," she said. "Every show features a different school, with three students - Grades 10,11 or 12 - from the participating school taking part.

"The students choose topics they wish to discuss and suggest songs they would like in that hour."

The program is also a lesson in how broadcast radio is produced, from ideation through to the talent and content on the airwaves.

"We meet with the students for a pre-production tour of our studios and go over their topics to build their confidence and help with their preparation," Selina said. "It is important that they realise it is about them and their views. We are only there to guide the hour. It is there to give THEM a voice.

"A lot of students are nervous, but this dissolves quickly. It is very rewarding to see how the students enjoy the experience."

Topics tackled so far include the good and bad of social media; the lack of women's representation in science, technology, engineering and maths fields; and the importance of hobbies and strong social connections.

The feedback from the community had been incredible, Selina said. And there are plans to expand.

"It's been very positive. We have been inundated with positive feedback from not only the students themselves, but the teachers and schools involved," she said.

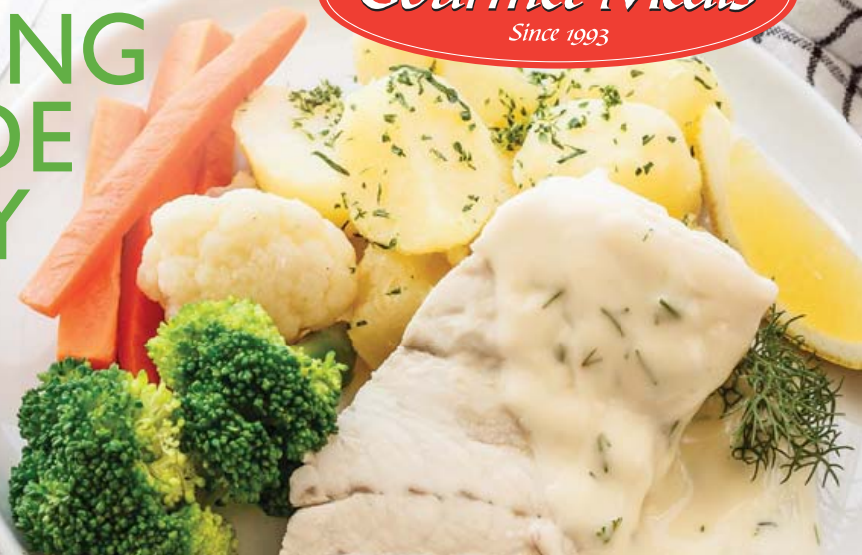

"The program will be ongoing. All schools in the northern suburbs of Brisbane and Moreton Bay will be approached to participate - firstly public schools and then private schools, and we hope to include home-schooling students as well in the future.

"We are working on bringing the program out as a podcast."

Catch The Voice of Youth Program on 99.7 Bridge FM every second Thursday during school terms.

A WORD FROM OUR REPRESENTATIVES

As we mark International Nurses Day this month, I want to express my deepest gratitude to all the local nurses for their hard work and unwavering commitment to providing high-quality care to patients in need. This day is celebrated every year on May 12th, the anniversary of the birth of the foundational philosopher of modern nursing, Florence Nightingale. The theme for this year's International Council of Nurses' #IND2023 is "Our Nurses. Our future". To all the nurses and midwives in the Redcliffe electorate, I extend my heartfelt thanks for your incredible contributions to our community.

WITH YVETTE D'ATH MP

In addition, this month is also Queensland Small Business Month, and it's a time to celebrate the vital role that small businesses play in our economy and communities across the state. We have a full month of events and activities, both online and in person, happening across the state. As a government, we're working hard to help small businesses make connections and build stronger networks, particularly in regional Queensland, to ensure they have access to the support and information they need to thrive. For more information, reach out to my Electorate Office on 07 3448 7100 or redcliffe@parliament.qld.gov.au

Council works with local organisations and businesses to bring to the community many great events across the region but..... have you heard about the JAZZ & SHIRAZ free event on Saturday, 3 June 1-5 pm at Newport Park? Don't miss this one - bring a chair or picnic rug and unwind by listening to the live performances from talented local musicians with a licensed bar, food trucks etc available. This event promises to be a one-of-a-kind experience!

Who else has been glued to the screen every time the Dolphins have played this NRL season? I know it's not just me. What an incredible start to what is shaping up to be a spectacular season. Keep it up boys! #phinsup

WITH LUKE HOWARTH MP

Speaking of local heroes - it's National Volunteers Week this month. From May 15 – 21 we celebrate the incredible contribution that our volunteers make to this community. Every year volunteering contributes a massive $290 billion to the Australian economy and is a key pillar to our identity as a nation.

I would like to take this opportunity to thank all volunteers in Petrie that continue to selflessly give their time and talent to help those in need and in recognition of their tremendous work, I will be hosting Petrie's 2023 Volunteer Awards to highlight those that have shown exceptional service and who always go above and beyond.

Nominations will close Thursday 11 May. If you would like to nominate an outstanding volunteer go to my website www.lukehowarth.com.au or phone my office on 07 3284 8008.

Chris Novic at Redcliffe Tennis Centre with Pickleball players in background (unidentifiable)

Pickleball - The fastest growing sport that's serving up a tonne of fun

STORY KELLY WALKER

Have you tried pickleball yet? Well, if you haven't, there's no time like the present! Chris Novic, Head Coach for Focus Tennis & Pickleball Academy at the Redcliffe Tennis Centre, explained that while the sport has been played in Australia since about 2015, it's been the talk of the town for the last three years.

For those who have never heard of it before, Chris explained that pickleball is a paddle sport that you can learn in minutes and play for a lifetime.

"It brings together elements of tennis, badminton, and table tennis," he said. "It's a fun sport that can be played both indoors and outdoors and can be adapted to both singles and doubles."

Pickleball originated in the United States in 1965 and became a recognised sport in 1972.

"Three friends started it by playing on a badminton court in their backyard," Chris said. "It's gained popularity over the years because it's so easy to learn and play and it's suitable for all fitness levels as it doesn't require as much movement compared to tennis, badminton, or squash."

As the fastest growing sport in Australia, it's easier on your body than tennis or squash.

"It offers a good aerobic workout without too much stress on the joints and muscles," Chris said. "It improves bone strength, increases muscle mass, controls joint swelling and pain associated with arthritis, and it does wonders for your mental health."

Chris has been playing Pickleball for about three years and coaching for 12 months.

"Skill development is a simple process," he said. "It's very forgiving, so beginners can be on the court playing a game very quickly after they first pick up a paddle."

At the moment, Chris explained that the sport seems to be most popular with adults over the age of 35, but he's trying to change that.

"I'm trying to promote it more in schools," he said. "I'm hoping to offer lessons to juniors which will help continue to grow the sport in the future."

Chris is encouraging everyone to come down to the club and give it a go.

"First timers can book in for a free session and are able to borrow paddles," he said. "Our players and members are such a nice bunch of people and are more than happy to help."

THE FOOTY, SOME BEVS, AND A WHOLE LOTTA LAUGHS

STORY NADIA CHAPMAN

If you've been itching for a comedy night with friends, come down to our lovely Peninsula towards the end of May.

The Redcliffe Tigers AFC is hosting a comedy night on Saturday, the 20th of May, for a little bit of weekend entertainment.

Organiser Kylie Milstead said locals can expect a night full of belly laughs.

"This is our 20th comedy event at the Redcliffe Tigers AFC, and it never fails to make the crowd go wild with laughter and joy," Kylie said.

Sponsored by the Aussie Pub Comedy Tour,

The Redcliffe Tigers comedy night will feature four sought-after comedians, including Mick Neven, Joe Roberts, Nicky Wilkinson, and The Nelson Twins.

According to Kylie, all four comedians have a unique and vastly different style of comedy than the next. "The comedians have a combined experience of more than 30 years on the stage, so not only are they professional, but they've proven their humour to thousands across the country!"

Mick Neven has been doing comedy for 18 years and has headlined several tours, including 'Tours of Duty,' where he performed for Aussie troops overseas. Meanwhile, Joe Roberts likes to describe himself as a "big idiot with stupid jokes."

The Nelson Twins are one of the most unique comedy duo act in the world, with cheeky humour and cracking one-liners. And Nicky Wilkinson offers a down-to-earth style of comedy, with her impressive career seeing her reach the finals of prestigious comedy competitions, such as 'So You Think You're Funny' and 'New Act of the Year' in 2013.

All four comedians will bring something new and fun to the stage for everyone to enjoy.

Considering it will be a game day at the Redcliffe Tigers AFC, you can arrive at the venue early and watch the game beforehand with a couple of bevs and nibbles.

The Redcliffe Tigers comedy night is an 18+ event.

Bookings are essential, and tickets start at $25 per person and are only to be purchased online.

MAGIC IN THE AIR ON BROADWAY... BY THE BEACH

STORY ALYSSA MACKAY PHOTOS BRUCE REDMAN

This year's Moreton Bay Anywhere Festival will close with a big finish - a spectacular performance of the best Broadway anthems set right on the beach.

More than 50 local performers from Redcliffe Musical Theatre and ROAR Academy will belt out the biggest Broadway hits at the free finale event, Broadway By the Beach, to be held in the Redcliffe Outdoor Amphitheatre on Sunday, 4 June.

Redcliffe Musical Theatre president and ROAR Academy principal, Madeleine Johns said the event would be something to remember.

"It has always been a dream of mine to perform a 'Best of Broadway' style concert with the beach as our backdrop," Madeleine said. "This idea has been brewing for some years and we are thrilled to be offered the opportunity to bring this destination event to Redcliffe and to the Anywhere Festival.

"Broadway By the Beach will be a highlight of the festival for many reasons - the number of performers, the location, the choice of repertoire, the calibre of the performers, the fact that we will be closing the Moreton Bay Anywhere Festival - and did I mention the location?

"The Amphitheatre is such a unique outdoor venue. I have wanted to run a production at this venue for some years and this was the ideal opportunity. A celebration of musical theatre outside next to the iconic vista of Redcliffe beaches."

The audience will be dazzled by showstoppers from Redcliffe Musical Theatre stars like Erickson Illustre, Matt Leigh, Georgia Burnett, James Reid, Meg Kiddle, Kaley Jones and Colin Rhys-Jones, and ROAR Academy All Stars such as Anthony Van Stam, Lucas Van Stam, Sienna Randall and Zoe Hitchcock.

Madeleine said they would be selecting the best musical numbers from top Broadway shows including The Phantom of the Opera, Les Misérables, Wicked, and Jesus Christ Superstar.

"We will pick at least one song from each and throw in a few additional extras," she said.

"Most songs will be performed with appropriate staging and we plan to have an ensemble of singers on risers to the left of the stage, so that should look pretty spectacular."

Viva La Musica will be accompanying the performance with a small orchestra, under the musical direction of Rhonda Davidson-Irwin, who will also play flute.

The event is sponsored by Moreton Bay Regional Council. This is a free, ticketed event. To book go to anywhere.is/event/broadway-by-the-beach/

The Seamstresses. Anywhere Festival.

Anywhere Festival Weaves a Common Thread

STORY PATRICIA HIGGINS

Appearing anywhere but at traditional theatre is the Anywhere Festival that allows Brisbanites and Moreton Bay residents to discover dramatic entertainment in the most unexpected of places.

While there's an eclectic energy that drives the festival – and although audiences can expect anything from Shakespeare in backyards and gigs on rooftops, to virtual reality and magic in warehouses and even sleuthing in heritage homes – there's a spirit of togetherness that links people with the performances.

Acts touring under the banner of Anywhere Festival (which is supported by the Queensland Government and both Brisbane and Moreton Bay City Councils) will emerge in locations in our local region across May, with displays such as bush dancing, wizard trivia and sewing spectaculars.

The Seamstresses are one such highlight, otherwise known as Polly and Esther, who are self-described as “two unexpected modern day superheroes, who travel the world in their magical menagerie gathering clothing and stories.”

According to The Seamstresses, they are on a mission to seam together the old with the new and reduce the clothing footprint on our planet – all whilst bringing the public right into the very fabric of their performance.

“Our menagerie is powered by the audience, fuelled by their stories and ‘Ole Jan’ the one hundred year old crank sewing machine, which is all part of SeamTogether – an interactive, participatory experience for people of all ages and abilities,” they said.

The Seamstresses materialise out-of-the-blue, which fits nicely into the Anywhere Festival's ethos of art appearing in non-traditional spaces, and such haute haberdashery is indicative of the incredibly lively and avant-garde nature of the event as a whole.

Echoing this sentiment is local Mayor Peter Flannery who said the festival “brings our streets alive and makes Moreton Bay a more vibrant place to live.”

“This is the third year that Council has partnered with Anywhere Festival to deliver a program that's packed with entertaining, quirky, and imaginative experiences and events,” Mr Flannery said.

You can book your place to attend various events throughout the festival, including The Seamstresses, via the official Anywhere Festival website at www.anywhere.is/moretonbay/.

DENNIS AUSTEN

Over three decades, Redcliffe's Dennis Austen has made his name as a successful local real estate agent, but he was born into a family of renowned brass band players, which produced several New South Wales brass band champions. Although Dennis learned to play the tenor horn aged eight, he quickly broke the family brass band tradition.

As an adult, he started work in Sydney's old PostMaster General's Department with some success, but a strong entrepreneurial spirit drove him into buying vacant blocks of land in Sydney's Blacktown and selling them at a good profit. Spurred on, he joined a finance company where he learned the in's and out's of the finance world. Obtaining a dealers licence, Dennis commenced selling motor vehicles in Queensland, which motivated him to move his young family to Queensland and to Redcliffe.

With a friend, the pair opened four real estate offices on Brisbane's northside to cope with a growing real estate market. A downturn saw the pair part company with Dennis returning to a job in a New South Wales colliery.

But the old entrepreneurial business spirit returned and its call saw Dennis and his family return to Redcliffe, where they purchased Redcliffe's late iconic Monsignor Frawley's home at Scarborough. He rejoined his old real estate friend and together they continued the original real estate partnership, which only ended with his partner's retirement.

Always one to demand a fair go, Dennis ventured into local politics, forming RAG, a ratepayers association a decade ago. He followed this by forming a political party called Community First, which fielded five candidates in a recent Council election. They polled an average of 35% of the votes.

Although now into his seventies Dennis, along with his wife Margaret, five children and seven grandchildren and his pride and joy, a 2006 Jaguar S motor continues to involve himself in real estate and attend local trivia club meetings.

Will he retire?

"Maybe one day! But they'll probably have to carry me out!" he laughs.

Oleander Grove performing at Picnic Hill

LOCAL BAND LAUNCHES DEBUT ALBUM

Five-piece rock/country/pop/folk band Oleander Grove have been celebrating the launch of their debut album and first live stage performance, which took place at Picnic Hill last month.

The band's self-titled album was recorded with award-winning artist and producer and former Redcliffe resident, Shane Nicholson.

Oleander Grove's drummer, Jon Merigan said they recorded the album last year at the Damien Gerard Studios in West Gosford, New South Wales.

"Shane was an amazing man to work with and as a producer he is a genius," Jon said. "His ideas and how he crafts a song is incredible. We as a band learnt an awful lot from him and we were humbled and proud of the finished product."

Joining Jon in the band are lead vocalist and songwriter, Catherine Baxendine, guitarist Ayden Baxendine, bass player Mike O'Brien and keyboard player and backing vocalist, Andrew L'Almont. They describe their sound as "a mix of original heartfelt lyrics, beautifully crafted melodies and amazing atmospheric lead guitar parts."

The band has a strong connection to the Redcliffe area, with all members living locally.

"Everything about our journey so far has been connected to Redcliffe in some way," Jon said. "I first met Ayden in Redcliffe where he worked at the time, which was the start of the band. It was because of a piece that the Redcliffe Guide did on Shane Nicholson last year that we got to record with Shane."

Catherine contacted Shane after seeing him in the Guide and was amazed when he replied.

"We sent a very ordinary phone recording of our songs and a few months later, we were in the studio with him," Jon said.

Oleander Grove have now released their album to the world, following a successful show at Picnic Hill.

"We were proud of our performance and the crowd was amazing," Jon said. "They seemed very engaged in our performance and received some people at the front of the stage singing along to our songs, which blew us away."

Executive manager of Redcliffe Area Youth Space, Amy Mayes said she was thrilled when Oleander Grove chose Picnic Hill to launch their album.

"They really engaged the audience through their catchy tunes and relatable lyrics," Amy said. "I still have their song Blue running through my head."

SIMPLY A CASE OF 'JAZZ & SHIRAZ'

STORY PANAYIOTA

A community event with a difference, Jazz & Shiraz promises its patrons a unique experience.

Presented across the Moreton Bay Region by Moreton Bay Region Industry and Tourism, Jazz & Shiraz is a wonderful way to spend the afternoon. You can lay out your picnic blanket or unfold your best lawn chair and simply relax for a few hours.

"Jazz & Shiraz combines two popular cultural elements offering patrons a chance to enjoy the smooth sounds of Jazz with a fine drop of Shiraz," Vicki Baldock said, Business Support Officer, Moreton Bay Regional Council (MBRC).

"This event offers a one-of-a-kind experience that locals have been calling for."

First, the 'pis de resistance,' let's talk Jazz.

The Main Stage programme is extraordinary.

"There is already a lot of excitement about this event that ... features a great line-up of local jazz artists including Tristan Watson, Breanna Fielding and Leena Salim Jazz Duo," Vicki said.

All popular in and around Brisbane and the Coasts, their live performances will have you wanting more.

Oh! And please don't let the Shiraz stop you! A fully licensed bar will offer a luscious range of Wildflower and Hancock wines for purchase as well as beers, and other non-alcoholic beverages. All wines are offered at affordable prices by the bottle or glass. Because it is a licensed event, it is strictly No BYO.

Local food trucks will entice your taste buds with favourites like woodfired pizza, gourmet donuts, loaded potatoes, coffee and more.

Being family-friendly, kids of all ages are welcome to attend with their parents.

"We will have a number of giant games available for all to play such as Connect Four, Bean Bag Toss and Ring Toss," Vicki said. No kids will be permitted within the licensed area.

Jazz & Shiraz Newport is the third in line after Jazz & Shiraz Bribie Island and Ferny Hills. It is set to be an afternoon, not only to enjoy the wine and food, but to mingle with everyone you know. It's also a great opportunity to get to meet new friends too.

Fun Run Reddier Than Ever

STORY PATRICIA HIGGINS

The REDDY Fun Run/Walk, in partnership with the Redcliffe Hospital Auxiliary, is back this year and complete with a new website, more local business backing (including from Moreton Bay Road Runners) and even some fresh new running bibs for all registered participants.

To cap it off, Bridge 99.7 will be broadcasting live from the event, alongside a sausage sizzle and onsite coffee van, plus all the excitement of raffles, giveaways and prizes for the winning runners and the best dressed team.

Donations support the provision of services for patients such as those who require rehabilitation, palliative care, or who have experienced perinatal loss.

Rhonda Neal, Hospital facility services coordinator at Redcliffe Hospital and Brooke

Starkey, workforce development officer at Redcliffe Hospital said they had secured council approval to use Pelican Park and were grateful for all that proceeds from the day could achieve.

"Let's come together as a community to make this annual event, the REDDY Fun Run/Walk, bigger and better with more funds raised for our Auxiliary to fund to spend on our patients and their families," they said.

Head to the website at www.reddyfunrun.org.au to sign up to run or walk.

BRAD'S BUSINESS TIPS

How to get more referrals for your business

Step 1. Whenever you have a new lead or customer, say the following...

"Most people find out about us through our existing clients, just wondering who referred you to us?"

WITH BRAD
FLYNN

This positions straight up with our new prospect or client, that we are mostly a referral-based business.

Step 2. Ask their permission to ask for referrals once they are a quality client. We use the following script in our initial conversations once someone becomes a client/customer.

"If after working with us and you are super happy with the results you are getting, is it OK if we ask you if you know anyone you could refer us to who you think we could help?"

Again, this is just reminding them that we are a referral-based business, and we would like their permission to help someone they know who could really use our help.

Step 3. Ask for referrals by saying...

"Just curiously, do you know anyone who is like you guys (who we love working with by the way), who could use our help? If you are happy to introduce us, that would be awesome, but if not, that is totally OK. We can reach out to them anonymously if you like."

If you have been doing a great job in helping these clients, they will be more than happy to connect you to those they know (they probably will already have done so), otherwise, you let them off the hook, by reaching out anonymously.

Are you looking to join a friendly group where everyone is welcome?

Come together with likeminded people at Healthy Ageing held at the Clontarf Beach Baptist Church. Enjoy socialising over morning tea and a 'thought for the day'.

Then join in any or all of the activities which include board games, table tennis, indoor bowls, crafts including painting, card making and knitting/crocheting.

Once a month, a 'bring and buy' stall is held to help raise money for a sponsor child in Uganda. The group also raises funds for Operation Christmas Child.

For the last hour of the morning, a qualified trainer does an age appropriate exercise session.

For as little as a donation of $3, it is a great opportunity to make new friends, have a morning of fun and fitness.

LIVING WITH CHUCKY - MOVIE REVIEW

STORY NICK ALFORD

What if you grew up with a killer doll. For writer and director Kyra Elise Gardner that's exactly what she did.

Her father was the makeup artist and head puppeteer who literally helped bring a killer doll named Chucky to life.

The titular Chucky has been starring in his own film franchise for over 30 years so Kyra was curious to see how her Dad has been spending his time.

Which led her to create this documentary and was also a great excuse to meet the cast and crew involved in the franchise. Like any good documentary it has a purpose.

Kyra has grown up hearing about the crew but has never had a chance to meet them. So, she set out to interview all of the key contributors to find out why Chucky means so much to them. Including the film's creators, crew and stars.

Initially the film brings you up to speed on the premise of the franchise and then takes you on a blow-by-blow journey through each film. Even though there are massive diminishing returns with the Chucky sequels, I'm always fascinated with how bad films are created. It helps you understand the decisions people made and what they were hoping to achieve.

These films have been surrounded with some controversy which I would have liked to see explored more but I can understand the reason for leaving some elements out due to their sensitive nature and the fun tone of the film.

You don't necessarily need to be a Horror aficionado to enjoy this doco, although it would definitely help as Horror nuts will lap up all of the backstage secrets and on set stories.

If you have an interest in the filmmaking process it offers great insights into the techniques and skills used. Although be warned, if you're more on the squeamish side, there are moments of blood and gore that could be a bit too much for the more discerning viewer.

On the whole this is a solid documentary exploring people's fascination and love for the horror genre, in particular, a little doll named Chucky.

Available on all major Digital platforms including Apple iTunes & Google Play in Australia from April 26th.

Scamming

Being electronically scammed is a scary thing, because there is little you can do about it. Scamming crime is now out of control. It has reached epidemic proportions and electronic scamming is just one tentacle in these crooked thieves arsenal.

What continues to puzzle me is that despite the millions of dollars that these scammers are stealing, none seem to ever get caught! Let's face it, scamming is not exactly a new phenomenon either.

WITH RICHARD LANCASTER

So what is the Federal government doing about this ever increasing finance-robbing plague? After a long pause, investigations and penalties are now in place for companies who carelessly put their customers' personal and financial information at risk.

We have experienced at least 3 major scamming breaches in the last six months, which from the figures quoted must affect a large proportion of Australia's total population. Yet so far, no hint of punishments have surfaced, not even an enquiry has commenced. And how come we haven't recruited the brains to outsmart the scammers?

The banks too must share the blame. They have been closing branches and ATMs everywhere, forcing us to go online to transact our financial business, much to the delight of the scammers. Now banks are about to cease issuing cheque books, again another safer way of transacting business. Many of our so-called financial gurus have been calling for a cashless society. In light of the above, that's crazy talk!

Is it a wonder therefore that scamming has become such a popular and profitable industry? What's the answer?

Many years ago my Uncle Bill said to me 'Never trust anyone with your money. Put it in a suitcase and hide it under your bed and don't tell anyone where it is!'

Why is moving great for mental health?

Exercise is great for our mental and physical health, because it releases endorphins in our bodies that give us an energy boost (physically and mentally). Exercise relieves tension, stress, and enhances well-being. It can also lift our mood, strengthen our resilience to better handle and respond to stress as well as support us with a more positive outlook on life.

Science shows us that exercise has a positive impact on many mental health conditions such as depression, anxiety and ADHD. Everyone can benefit from regular exercise as it offers a welcome boost to your emotional regulation and a shifting of daily tensions.

If you're struggling to exercise or just not sure where to start, go for a walk around your block. It is free, and it will really help you to look after your physical and emotional self and gain benefits in all aspects of your life. Walking in the beautiful Redcliffe area is a good way to get moving.

You can motivate yourself by walking 30 mins to one of our many local cafés and enjoying a coffee before walking back. It is a great reward for effort!

In our community we have many options for exercise... walking groups, indoor heated pool, gym equipment in a park nearby, Yoga, Tai Chi. You can find other options on your walk by checking out the street signs you come across and find other opportunities happening near you. Group exercise also a great way to meet other locals.

Whatever you decide to try, remember to keep safe, slip, slop, slap and carry water.

EXPERIENCE THE MAGIC OF TENORUS IN SYMPHONY

STORY ALYSSA MACKAY

Much loved vocal duo, TenorUS are taking to the stage for another dazzling performance and this time they're adding some strings to their bow.

Former member of the Ten Tenors, Roger Davy, and cabaret star, Adam Bartlett will present their new show, TenorUS in Symphony at the Redcliffe Entertainment Centre this month.

Roger said the show would bring together the established vocal powerhouse of TenorUS and live string players from Viva La Musica.

"The idea sprung from wanting to create a bigger show, a performance option that when presented could play to bigger theatre houses like Redcliffe Entertainment Centre," Roger said.

"The program chosen for this performance features popular songs by Peter Allen, Neil Diamond, Michael Buble and Barry Manilow, from your favourite musicals The Phantom of the Opera and Les Miserables, with classical favourites by Andrea Bocelli and Josh Groban and spectacular excerpts of grand opera to leave you weeping in the aisles."

Roger and Adam began performing together as TenorUS four years ago and have since entertained audiences at sold-out senior's concerts and received standing ovations at Brisbane City Hall. Now, they are joined by Viva La Musica, a musical ensemble who have performed for the likes of Queen Elizabeth II, Muhammad Ali and Bill Clinton.

Viva La Musica CEO, Rhonda Davidson-Irwin said a wonderful quartet would be accompanying TenorUS at this month's performance.

"It is always thrilling to play in a live ensemble backing a TenorUS in Symphony performance," Rhonda said. "Live musicians, combined with the glorious sounds of Roger and Adam, makes this performance a sublime experience not to be missed. The variety of repertoire, backed by virtuosic musicians is a joy to experience (both) as Viva La Musica musicians and as an audience."

Roger said he hoped the performance would have the audience laughing, singing, and dancing.

"What TenorUS has been able to do over the years is take popular music from the 60s and 70s and make them our own," he said. "We have enjoyed the opportunity to bring back to life musical favourites and engage the audience with songs that evoke memories of their past. This, combined with a visual stage production, is something I am sure the audience will love."

Tickets start at $48 (excluding booking fee). To book go to www.redcliffeentertainmentcentre.com.au

PODCAST OF THE MONTH

Sweet Bobby Podcast Review

STORY NICK ALLFORD

Imagine if the love of your life wasn't real. Worse than that, what if someone had not only created an entirely fake persona but strung you along for 10 long years?

This is known as 'Catfishing' where a scammer creates an identity to trap people into a relationship based on a lie. The purpose is usually to exploit their victims for money or sex, but this case is far more bizarre. If this story was made into a film, you wouldn't believe it.

The podcast was created by investigative journalist Alexi Mostrous who decided to help catfish victim Kirat Simran uncover who she'd been communicating with for all these years and ultimately why.

Now your assumption might be, 'I'd never fall for that'. You may want to reconsider when you listen to the lengths that the perpetrator was willing to go to. Developing a whole network of around 40 fake people to corroborate their story and manipulate Kirat.

The bizarre legal battle that follows is an eye opener. If no money was taken, no physical harm caused, then is there a case for the police.

When you find out who's behind wasting a decade of her life you may reconsider if you even need social media anymore. Manipulation on an epic scale.

Available wherever you find your podcasts.

BRISBANE SENIORS ONLINE NEEDS MENTORS!

Brisbane Seniors Online requires more volunteer mentors.

In early 2021, Brisbane Seniors Online which, had been operating now in the Moreton Region for over 20 years, expanded its home training coverage area so that it allowed more over 50s to become more technologically savvy.

This has resulted in a need to recruit more volunteer mentors to provide tuition for an influx of new learners.

Brisbane Seniors Online is looking to recruit more retired and semi-retired people who are confident to teach any or all of the following. This includes Windows, Android, Apple and smart phones.

An emphasis is also placed on devices being safe to use with all updates installed. It is also important that learners are taught how to identify and avoid scams and minimise risk from identity theft and financial cybercrime. These have all become more common with very sophisticated scammers.

Special interest groups meet face-to-face, by Zoom and both. This includes digital photography, Apple, Linux and Mentor Support. People who apply to become a volunteer mentor receive an induction before being accepted and from time to time, upskilling and training is provided.

Applications to become a mentor can be made through the Brisbane Seniors Online website www.bsol.asn.au

Contact Brisbane Seniors Online on 3393 2225 or see Facebook.com/BrisbaneSeniorsOnline

Michael Deacon, John Deacon, Sally O Sullivan

A MASTER MODELLER

7 year old Stephen Deacon, a Vietnam Veteran, turned master modeller, never believed he would succumb to skin cancer, but sadly that dreadful disease recently caused his death. He left his 95 year old grieving father John, his sister Sally and younger brother Michael, all of whom fondly remember the happy memories that Stephen created in his home in Scarborough.

To say that Stephen loved modelling is an understatement. His Home is filled with over 60 models, both large and small. Figurines, clocks, ships, boats, trains, buildings and planes all meticulously constructed by his expert hand. Antiques dealer Meade Murphy, who purchased some of Stephen's memorabilia including a stuffed crocodile, was overwhelmed.

"It was like stepping into a museum. The models are brilliant and they are in every room!" said Meade.

Sitting alone in solitary splendour is a glass cabinet, measuring over a metre long and nearly a metre high is a superb diorama model of Captain Cook's H.M.S. Endeavour being loaded at England's Portsmouth harbour prior to its epic journey to Australia in 1768.

Stephen's father John wishes to donate the diorama to the Redcliffe Museum.

"I know Stephen would have wanted to have the Redcliffe Community own this important piece of Australian history and see the Endeavour in all its glory!" he said.

But Stephen's story goes beyond his modelling skills. The Deacon family have a rich seafaring pedigree. Generationally the family comes from seaside Portsmouth from where Stephen's grandfather and father proudly served on British warships. But in 1963, the family of father John, mother Patricia, 16 year old Stephen, 14 year old Sally and 4 year old Michael, tired of England's cold wet weather arrived in Melbourne and after a decade or so, the family found Redcliffe, where they remained.

Stephen, who had qualified as a fitter and turner was readily accepted into the Australian Army, finally becoming a Warrant Officer. He served in the Army for the next 23 years, including tours of duty in Vietnam. After leaving army service and patriotic to the end, he constructed a home flagpole and each morning would raise the flag with a salute. This ceremony only ceased when he was too ill to walk.

His ashes were scattered near Scarborough's seaside Moreton Bay fig trees, where his 93 year old mother Patricia's ashes had earlier been scattered.

During his lifetime Stephen also brewed his own beer. At his funeral sister Sally opened the last bottle of his home brew and tipped the contents over his ashes "Just in case he ever got thirsty!" she said.

ARTFULLY REDCLIFFE

Gilbert and George

I am always delighted when I witness growth in students at Art So Lively, regardless of their age. The joy it brings is one of the main reasons I conduct classes. I was reminded of those feelings when I recently read about two very successful

London-based artists now aged in their eighties, who for the love of art have truly persevered and triumphed.

WITH GABRIELLE TURNBULL

They first met in 1967 as art students and decided then to make a life and art together despite many obstacles. Their family backgrounds were anything but artistic. Branding themselves Gilbert and George, this quirky couple worked collaboratively on everything. Their work was dismissed as rubbish at art school and after graduating, attracted much criticism (and attention) due partly to the then controversial subject matter and issues exposed and explored. It was edgy and avant-garde. Unusual and provocative are words to describe the duo's work. They were not accepted.

Yet they persevered. In time their work attracted a significant international following. In 2007, the Tate Modern published The Complete Pictures, which included over a thousand examples of their art. They featured in a BBC art documentary and were the subject of numerous articles in British national newspapers. Several international solo exhibitions fuelled their populous fire. They possess honorary doctorates and continue winning awards, including the prestigious Turner Prize.

In life, they are seldom separated and together they recently developed and opened an art museum, which they now own.

What an unpredictable success story is theirs! Disregarded as art students, weathering heavy handed commentary from the critics and at times questioning their own ability, Gilbert and George's perseverance and continued self belief overcame all the challenges those early days threw at the couple. Victory has been theirs.

Orarat Yoovattana (John) at Chor Chang restaurant in Scarborough

CHOR CHANG THAI ALL THE INGREDIENTS FOR A DELICIOUS THAI RESTAURANT

Have you ever wondered what it takes to run a restaurant?

Recently, I heard that the local Thai restaurant on Prince Edward Parade was under new management and I thought it would be a good chance to find out more about how they do what they do. As well as a great excuse to try out the food!

The new management consists of John, along with his four friends from various provinces in Thailand, so that's a big tick in the authenticity box.

They endeavour to make your experience and food as truly Thai as possible.

"We present our menu and food as you would see it in Thailand. Our most popular dish is Crispy Whole Barramundi, the taste is mellow and we serve it with a green apple salad," John said.

It may seem like an audacious undertaking but John was armed with a business degree, experience as a bartender and kitchen hand plus one key ingredient – a vision.

"It was my dream to one day open my own Thai restaurant and spread Thai cuisine to Australian people in Redcliffe." Said John.

Although it's not without its challenges. The hardest part of running the restaurant for John is recruitment, as Chor Chang Thai prides themselves on finding staff who know and love Thai food.

Having visited a few islands in Thailand myself it was clear that he's done a great job as the staff are friendly and knowledgeable.

What helps make it all worthwhile for John is receiving positive reviews on his restaurant, so if you've enjoyed your experience, why not drop them a review.

What's next? How will John and his team keep things fresh in the future?

"We're always adding new dishes to our menu. With winter coming we're going to include Thai Hot Pot in the front of the shop to welcome people in," John said.

Finally - what makes a great Thai restaurant?

As far as John's concerned it's simple "Great tasting food and friendly service".

Which Chor Chang Thai has in abundance. Mmm... AppeTHAlsing!

FISH OF THE MONTH

The Crimson Spot Rainbowfish™ Melanotaenia duboulayi

STORY PETER HANSLER

There are many types of Rainbowfish in Australia and Papua New Guinea but the Crimson Spot Rainbowfish is my favourite. A stunning and peaceful addition to any aquarium or outdoor pond, these fish are frog friendly and eat mosquito larvae.

These little Aussies are loved throughout the world and kept and bred by enthusiasts in many countries including Germany, The Netherlands, Austria and USA. It is a common belief that when first discovered, it was our local species that was thought to be so pretty that they were named Rainbowfish.

Found east of the Great Dividing Range in Northern NSW up to Baffle Creek just north of Bundaberg and in many of our local waterways including Caboolture River, the Pine Rivers and most probably in your favourite swimming hole or duck pond if it isn't infested with feral species like Tilapia and Gambusia.

A few Crimson Spot Rainbowfish in your home pond is all you need to get started as they breed very well in the warmer months. They are easily caught in traps baited with bread and vegemite and if you are quick enough, with a dip net.

A good friend of mine Steve Baines has written a children's picture book called I Believe in Rainbows. This is a great educational story about the plight of our little native Aussie fish and Rodney the Rainbowfish. It is worth looking up if you get the chance.

"The best fish for your pond are always local natives from your closest waterway."

STORY NICK ALFORD

How should I spend my retirement? This can be a tricky question, even for those of us who may be decades away from hanging up our work boots.

As a bloke in my early 40's I've heard that Men's Sheds are a great way to keep you busy, even before retirement. I had too many questions, can anyone join, what are the benefits? I wanted to find out more, so I spoke with the Secretary of Sandgate Men's Shed Inc. Ross Smith.

"Mens Sheds are places where men can meet and engage in meaningful activities at their own time and pace. The range is broad, pyrography, metalwork, art, pottery, travel, visits to places of interest, photography, cooking, discussion groups." Ross said.

"Some have set up gyms and formal gym programs, theatre nights, recycling pallets into bagged kindling and fundraising."

The good news is if you're like me and aren't particularly handy Men's Sheds take all aspects of health into consideration.

"Some guys join to learn new skills from others whether this is a trade skill or they might have IT, management skills, or just be prepared to do anything useful to help others." Ross said.

If this sounds like something you're interested in or would like to know more, the Sandgate District Men's Shed are holding a 'Making Retirement Great' symposium aimed to offer help to those who may be suffering from mental illness or who just need a safe place to hang out with like-minded blokes.

John describes the symposium as a great opportunity to hear from researchers from the University of the Sunshine Coast, excellent learning facilities and a further 8 speakers experienced in community services.

The Symposium is all about men and how they can live their best life but Ross said it is open to all.

"We hope our men's shed mates and their partners will join us. It's a public event for everyone in the community."

You may have friends you can confide in but I find it's always helpful to speak to someone with a fresh outlook. I'll leave you with a final word from Ross to help put things in perspective "There is no instant replay button on today. Make the best of it."

ROOF RESTORATIONS

Transform your tired old roof with a value boosting makeover

Full Roof Restorations
From only $3,000

- Repair and Change Out Broken Tiles
- High Pressure Clean
- Re-bed Ridge Capping (if required)
- Re-point Ridge Capping
- Sterilise Surface (if required)
- Apply Primer/Sealer
- Apply New Roof Membrane (2 coats)
- Apply Nano Clear Protect Coating (barrier coat to prevent fading)

All roofs age over time. After around 15 years, tile roofs deteriorate to the point where a restoration should be considered. At this age, colour starts to fade, ridge capping becomes brittle, lichen and mould can grow, and tiles become harder to clean. The appearance of your home suffers and your roof is more likely to develop leaks.

Richard Gabriel from Mr Highlights Roofing has over 20 years experience in the roofing trade. He uses only premium quality products for his restorations, and offers a full 12 years warranty on all workmanship and materials.

Richard is an owner/operator and doesn't employ salespeople, so costs are kept to a minimum which means savings for you!

GUARDIANS OF THE GALAXY VOL. 3

In Marvel Studios "Guardians of the Galaxy Vol. 3" our beloved band of misfits are looking a bit different these days. Peter Quill, still reeling from the loss of Gamora, must rally his team around him to defend the universe along with protecting one of their own. A mission that, if not completed successfully, could quite possibly lead to the end of the Guardians as we know them.

THE LITTLE MERMAID

The Little Mermaid is the beloved story of Ariel, a beautiful and spirited young mermaid with a thirst for adventure. The youngest of King Triton's daughters and the most defiant, Ariel longs to find out more about the world beyond the sea and, while visiting the surface, falls for the dashing Prince Eric. While mermaids are forbidden to interact with humans, Ariel must follow her heart. She makes a deal with the evil sea witch, Ursula, which gives her a chance to experience life on land but ultimately places her life – and her father's crown – in jeopardy
