BRONCOS TAKE ON THE PREMIERS AT DOLPHIN'S

■ For more info, visit

The only bad thing about summer is the lack of Rugby League matches.

By Suzi O'Shea

The three months between seasons can be brutal. With the new season almost upon us, it's time to get excited about the year ahead and how far your team can go.

Round 1 of the 2017 NRL season kicks off with the reigning premiers, the Cronulla Sharks playing the Brisbane Broncos at their home ground Shark Park in Sydney.

On the back of their very first grand final victory, the Sharks will have to bring their A-game to fend off a strong Broncos side with a hunger to win.

On Saturday 4th February, Redcliffe locals will be treated to a prelude to the trial game that will see the Broncos and Sharks go head-to-head in our own backyard at the newly renovated Dolphin Stadium.

"The trial matches are always important as it gives the coach his first look at the players for 2017. With this game against the Sharks the only trial match in Australia before the team heads to play a trial against Warrington in England, the Broncos will field a strong team", explains Trad McLean, Corporate Affairs Manager at the Broncos.

This match will be the only chance to watch our top players run onto the field in Queensland in February. Redcliffe and the Broncos have a long association, and all the players are keen to play at the new stadium."

Dust off your jersey's, warm up your lungs and get the family together to welcome the new season of our greatest game. Bring your passion and revel in the first stage of the stadium upgrade. With different seating options available, a night at the footy is an affordable night out for all ages to enjoy, while getting behind your local team.

EXPLORE THE OUTDOORS

By Lisa Adams

Get excited! The Moreton Bay Caravan, Camping, Boating and 4x4 Expo coming to Redcliffe in February. For the third year running, this premier event will offer more than ever before.

The expo will showcase some of Australia's best caravan, camper trailer, motorhome and boating dealers. There will be over 180 local and national companies displaying their latest products and services; 4x4 vehicle accessories, LED lighting, boating and fishing accessories, insurance, tools, gadgets, camping gear and more.

"The 2017 event is shaping up to be bigger and better than ever before with an improved site layout and additional exhibition spaces locked in to accommodate more displays," describes Managing Director Bob Carroll.

New to the expo this year is the 'Holiday and Tourism Pavilion' which will focus specifically on destinations, accommodation providers, tourist attractions and tourism groups. There will also be plenty of family entertainment, prizes, competitions and food stalls. "A great bonus prize on offer this year is a $10,000 Boating Package courtesy of Cunningham Marine Centre," explains Bob.

EXPO ENTERTAINMENT:

4x4 Test Track

The Australian Offroad Academy will construct a 4x4 outdoor obstacle course to show people how to control a 4x4 on different terrain, offer safety tips and tricks, and demonstrate how to get a vehicle out of precarious situations.

Fishing and Casting Demonstrations with Dave Moss

Fishing presenter and enthusiast Dave Moss will present a catch and release demonstration, using a 10m long fishing tank divided into two sections: one for barramundi and the other for cold water species.

Cooking Demonstrations with Two Old Ducks

Jennifer Hill and Annette Long will use seasonal produce to cook meals from scratch, limiting their use of packaged and processed foods as much as possible.

When: Fri, 17th Feb.- Sun, 19th Feb.

Time: Fri & Sat 9am-5pm, Sun 9am-4pm

Where: Redcliffe Showgrounds, Scarborough Rd.

Australian Army brings its top brass

You'd be mad not to march your way over to the Redcliffe Cultural Centre this month when The Australian Army Band deploys its troops to entertain the masses on the Peninsula.

TOPBRASS

The whopping 35-piece band, which features a cacophony of brass, woodwind, percussion and other various instruments, will delve into a catalogue of Australian Army marches, songs and a stack of other tunes over two performances on February 18.

Organisers say people keen to see the band, which always draws a hugely engaged and regular crowd, should book tickets as soon as possible because they will sell out.

It's a sentiment shared by Griffin resident Kat Gould, who describes last year's performance as "a show of a lifetime".

“ I thought the performance (last year) was perfection,” Kat says.

“There were excellent players, excellent singers, an excellent conductor – overall just a truly smooth performance.

“It's a show of a lifetime that is uniquely different from the norm out there today, and anyone who decides to go will definitely be leaving with a smile on their face.”

Apart from the incredible music the band plays, Kat says the sense of support the community shows for Australia's musical troops is inspiring for both the soldiers and the public they serve and protect.

“I think it's truly great for the local community to show support for the troops,” she says.

“I think they appreciate it and it's also great for the community to get together and have a bit of old-fashioned fun.

“For example, I particularly remember the performance of the song 'Cabaret' last year. The vocalist pulled it off so well, and you actually felt like you were there on Broadway, and the trumpet solos were absolutely fantastic.

“They are one of [a] kind.”

■ The Australian Army Band plays the Redcliffe Cultural Centre on 18 February with shows at 11am and 2pm. Tickets are $15 a person, book at www.moretonbay.qld.gov.au or phone the box office on 3283 0407.

MBBC Sailor Shakedown Commences

The regatta promises to 'shakedown' eligible entrants into qualifiers for the Brisbane to Gladstone Race, as onlookers marvel from an array of prime viewing spots.

The course for capable ocean sailing boats reaches 80 nautical miles from the Redcliffe Peninsula to the Moreton Bay entrance NW Fairway mark to the east of Caloundra in an 'out and back' course.

Kicking off at the Redcliffe Peninsula foreshore, there will be a number of excellent spots to see the crew preparing and sailing the vessels at their own risk, including the close-up triangular short course near the foreshore.

The event will be held on the weekend of the 25th and 26th February. The optimal place to watch the start is from Redcliffe Parade near the Redcliffe Jetty. Follow the rest of the race from the foreshore start anywhere along the front north of Scotts Point on Whytecliffe Parade, along Margate Parade, Marine Parade, Redcliffe Parade and Prince Edward Parade heading into Flinders Parade in Scarborough. The race will finish to the north of the entrance to the Scarborough Boat Harbour near the Moreton Bay Boat Club on Bird O'Passage Parade.

Prizes will be awarded and places will be announced at 9.30am on 26th February at the Moreton Bay Boat Club to honour the sailors who manoeuvred the course in the shortest time. Family-friendly shore activities will entertain the crowd until midday and are a show of support to area racing vessel crews.

Avid sailors are gearing up to hoist their sails for The annual Fairway Challenge, a much-anticipated offshore race held by the Moreton Bay Boat Club Sailing Section.

■ To enter the race, visit mbbc.org.au/sporting/sailing/fairway-and-pearl-challenge for more information and cost of entry. Maritime Safety Queensland will brief all competitors at the Moreton Bay Boat Club on 22nd February at 7.30pm, so be sure to have at least one bona fide representative of your vessel in attendance. Closing date is 22nd February.

Pentathlon for Little Athletes

Scores of junior athletes looking for a bit of fit fun will flock to Redcliffe's Little Athletics Club for the annual Redcliffe Twilight Pentathlon. Young runners, supported by their families and community, will be paving the way to a healthy future.

“ This will be the 10th year we run the Redcliffe Twilight Pentathlon for children aged between 6 and 17 years,” says John McRoberts. “We anticipate approximately 100 to 120 children participating in this year's pentathlon, with lots of parents and locals coming to watch them compete.”

By Melissa Bailey

The Redcliffe branch of Little Athletics has been fuelled entirely on the volunteered time of both present and past parents for decades. The current centre manager, John McRoberts, says it's his 16th year with the club and his eighth year as centre manager. This year, the Twilight Pentathlon will encourage friendly competitiveness in children, with a focus on family, fun and fitness.

Little Athletics is all about families, and the Redcliffe branch encourages parents to get involved in their children's fitness. The Twilight Pentathlon celebrates family-centric athleticism and hopes to introduce newcomers to the caring approach of Little Athletics.

Consisting of hurdles, 70m, 100m, 200m, long jump, high jump, shot put and discus, children will participate in five set events respective to their age group.

All children under six years will be awarded a medallion for their effort and enthusiasm. “It's a really fun day for everyone. It's a time for children to try their hardest but they don't have to win every event. It's more about having fun together,” McRoberts says.

The Redcliffe branch's mission statement endeavours to develop children of all abilities, promote positive attitudes and healthy lifestyles. The Twilight Pentathlon is just one way to achieve the mission, and with the support of the volunteers and community, is annually achieved.

■ The Twilight Pentathlon will be held on Saturday 25 February at 1pm sharp, with nominations closing at 4pm on Monday 13 February. If you'd like to be a part of the event, either by nominating your child or showing your support, visit Langdon Park on Mabel Street Margate or www.redcliffelittleathletics.org.au for more information.

UNITED PLATES OF AMERICA

After a feed on the Peninsula that's bigger than Texas? Look no further.

By Emma Harley

Melz American Diner is a newcomer on the Redcliffe food scene, serving up generous American-style fare from its central Sutton Street location.

Owner and chef Mel Platt has lived in Redcliffe for 32 years, with 25 of those years spent in hospitality on the Peninsula.

With an intense love for American-style cuisine, it was only natural for Mel to combine this passion with her decades of hospitality experience.

"American food is simple with big flavours and big servings," she says.

"We are the only American diner on the Peninsula, and I make almost everything from scratch — big juicy burgers and huge fluffy pancakes. What more could you ask for?"

“ My favourite dish is the Mad Meat & Cheese burger — double meat, double cheese, mac and cheese and bacon. Team that with a cherry soda float and I am in heaven.”

Mel says she has been overwhelmed with the support and enthusiasm from the local community.

"I love that Redcliffe is a real community — everybody from my landlord and his builder, to my parents and my daughter Bianca, everyone has been instrumental in getting Melz American Diner up and running so quickly," she says.

"But what I love the most is the support I have received from customers and the general goodwill of strangers and people passing by — that in my mind is a real community."

Mel says there are many exciting changes for the diner in the works for 2017, but her current focus is building her small business and finishing off the interior fit out, including a jukebox and pinball machine.

"I'm excited to see the diner transform into the vision I've had from the start — a 1950s-themed American diner with a fun and modern twist," she says.

"I want to create somewhere exciting where local people can come and dine with a great atmosphere and even better food."

Exhibition: Watercolour Wizardry

Watercolour is a magical medium where you never know quite what will happen when water, pigment and paper come together. As will be obvious from this exhibition, all watercolourists use different techniques to apply the pigment, a different 'palette' (the choice of colours, pigments and tones) and different subject matter. The work on display in this exhibition shows how different and exciting watercolour can be.

ROCKABILLY JAZZ FUSION

By Melissa Bailey

Through the silky smooth notes of jazz, punctuated by the substantive twang of rockabilly, Christie-Leigh Dawkins has been rousing crowds Friday nights at the Mon Komo Hotel.

"I just love my time [there]. It's a fantastic evening every time," Christie-Leigh chimes, who first commanded the stage mic as a child.

“ I've been teaching singing for 22 years through my business Vocal Effects and at local schools. My main performance genre is Rockabilly Jazz fusion, and I enjoy singing songs that people can tap their feet to and sing along to,” Christie-Leigh says.

With a string of tertiary certificates, including pursuing her Masters of Music Studies Vocal Pedagogy at the Conservatorium of Music, soloist Christie-Leigh has been delivering soulful vocals built on a lifetime of experience.

From talent competitions, eisteddfods and concerts, she attended the Young Queensland Conservatorium Music School in high school before studying Jazz Singing at the Conservatorium of Music. Christie-Leigh, a Redcliffe local, has spent years collaborating with professional bands and duos, ultimately having her vocals featured in Europe-wide promotions for the Sydney 2000 Olympics.

Christie-Leigh adds retro flair to easy listening hits from the 70s, 80s and 90s, Jazz and Cabaret, costumed in 1940s pin-up style garb and lively accents. She says Swing is her favourite genre but also enjoys the element of Country embedded in Rockabilly music.

A spirited entertainer for any event, Christie-Leigh's classy and professional performance and vocal versatility shines through a full repertoire of classics, including Jazz, Lounge, Motown, Pop, and Disco.

With high-quality backing tracks, Christie-Leigh delivers must-see entertainment for hotels and bars, corporate events, weddings and engagement parties, trade shows and more.

GROWN-UPS GET THEIR SEA LEGS

By Melissa Bailey

With the wind at their backs, The Moreton Bay Boat Club readies the adults for a chance to take the helm.

After the success of her junior sailing courses, Eliza Harris, Sports Coordinator for the Moreton Bay Boat Club, expanded the opportunity for water education with adult classes. As the junior sailors were getting their sea legs, Harris discovered many adults were searching for a wellspring of seafaring knowledge to enjoy with their children.

to advantage and tacking, sailing theory and reacting to weather and the environment.

These sailing imperatives are covered each morning, in theory, followed by a sunny afternoon in their application.

The sessions set sail in 3.7m Vagabond dinghies, which feature two sails. Classes are kept small for one-on-one advice by an instructor with two learners in each vessel plus the instructor. In the third week, participants venture out on their own to put their newfound skills and abilities to the test.

■ The next course will begin on Saturday 4 February and run for five weeks, ending Saturday 4 March. The course is $220, and places are limited. To book, ring the Moreton Bay Boat Club on 3203 5188.

“We’ve had some really good feedback from all the courses,” Harris says. “Those who have attended the course have said they enjoyed something they’ve never had the opportunity to do, or that they were reconnecting with an activity they used to participate in as a child.”

The adult sailing course is a five-week program held over consecutive Saturdays, 3.5 hours each Saturday. The course includes the Start Sailing 1 and 2 criteria set by Yachting Australia, which covers everything from preparation, equipment and conditions, and safety and emergencies to skills like launching and recovering the boat safely in all wind directions, setting sails

“Some participants have bought a boat and are looking to learn how to sail safely and effectively, so this is the perfect opportunity,” says Harris.

The last week of the course features sailing with the SAGS and WAGS sailors, who head up social racing for large keelboats, catamarans, trailer sailers and other larger vessels. It’s an excellent chance for adult learners to refine their skills while helping to crew these, let’s say, more-involved boats.

Dreamtime Art, the Real Deal

By Melissa Bailey

Local owners of Dreamtime Kullilla-Art, Michael and Jo Connolly, say the main driver for their passion for providing authentic, high-quality and legitimate Aboriginal art and products is to counter the considerable number of fake pieces they see available on the market.

“People don’t know whether they’re buying the real thing,” says Jo. “It’s a pity that the consumer isn’t getting a proper understanding of what they’re buying when they buy from unauthentic retailers who are driven by money with no understanding of the Aboriginal culture.”

Dreamtime Kullilla-Art has been operating on the Redcliffe Peninsula for nearly 20 years with Michael as an internationally-renowned Aboriginal Artist, Craftsman, Didgeridoo

Aboriginal ORIGINAL

Performer and Cultural and Spiritual Educator. He has performed and exhibited from the local to the international scale. As the Traditional Owner of the Kullilli/Murawarri Nations and a respected Aboriginal Statesman and Cultural Ambassador for his People, he’s the go-to local expert for information on everything about his products’ cultural significance and history.

Dreamtime Kullilla-Art showcases their authentic Aboriginal art in a myriad of ways, including gallery artwork, number plates, accessories, jewellery, and apparel. The variety of unique and colourful assortment is accompanied by important information regarding the artist, where they came from and what their work means.

“People who visit our shop are impressed that it’s run by Aboriginals. We delight in telling the buyer about the authentic products they’re buying, the artist who made it and what it means for our culture,” says Jo.

All the products are legitimately hand-crafted by Aboriginal artists with royalties paid to artists from all around Australia. The perfect place for souvenirs, stationery, instruments and jewellery, the Dreamtime Kullilla-Art shop trades locally at Clontarf from Monday to Friday (9.30am to 5pm), Saturday (9am to 1pm) and at the Redcliffe Markets on Sunday mornings.

“We’re a one-stop cultural shop,” says Jo, “Just buying souvenirs doesn’t help the Indigenous culture and it would be a pity if the consumer was ripped off by counterfeit products. Buying our products supports artists living in communities throughout Australia.”

NEW ELECTRICITY REBATE TO HELP THOSE WHO NEED IT MOST

The new electricity concessions that will help 157,000 extra Queensland families with a Commonwealth Health Care Card save $330 a year on their energy bills came into effect on 1 January 2017.

Under the changes, eligible households will be able to contact their electricity retailer to apply for the concession from 1 April, but it will be backdated to 1 January. The State Member for Redcliffe Yvette D'Ath said that this extended assistance through its Electricity Rebate would bring even more help to vulnerable households with Health Care Card holders to help pay their energy bills.

The Queensland Minister for Energy Mark Bailey said the changes were thanks to the Palaszczuk Government's recent response to Queensland Productivity Commission findings.

“Reforming the energy concessions framework to improve support to vulnerable customers is a key element of the Government's response to the QPC's findings,” he said.

Key items in the government's response to the QPC Report include:

- providing additional funding starting at $48 million per annum (or $170.1 million to 2019-20) to extend the electricity rebate to Commonwealth Health Care Card Holders so that an additional 157,000 low-income Queensland families are better supported.
- retaining the electricity rebate for holders of a Pensioner Concession Card, Veteran Affairs Gold Card or a Queensland Seniors Card;
- supporting regional business customers by providing $10 million over two years to deliver improved access to digital metering, greater information about tariff options and co-contributions to help customers invest in operation and equipment changes to manage bill impacts;
- maintaining our commitment to building the uptake of renewable energy in Queensland; and
- identifying improvements to the governance arrangements for the government's energy businesses to strengthen shareholder oversight.

Health Care Card holders can apply for the rebate by contacting their electricity retailer from 1 April 2017. Once verified, the rebate will start appearing on the eligible customers' next electricity bill, with payments backdated to 1 January 2017, or the period when the customer became eligible after 1 January.

HIGH SCHOOL PLANS

New hall for Redcliffe State High School

Construction of a new hall, administration block and basketball courts at Redcliffe State High is a step closer.

Principal, Shona McKinlay, the State member and Attorney-General Yvette D'Ath and the P&C President, Carlos Ortega, examining the project drawings

Ms D'Ath said Education Minister Kate Jones had signed off on the first stage of the Ministerial Designation process to secure planning approval for the school master plan, covering the new hall and support facilities.

"Further public notification and consultation [are] underway to finalise the Ministerial designation process in early 2017 before construction gets underway," she said.

"The approval from Minister Jones is the next step in delivering these long-awaited facilities for the school,"

"We want to ensure that our schools cater for enrolment growth and continue to be quality learning environments that give students the best chance at success.

"I've already fought for and secured $6 million in funding for the hall.

"With construction expected to start in the first half of 2017, it's so exciting for the school community who have worked so hard for this new hall over many years."

School Principal Shona McKinlay said the new buildings would be a welcome addition to the school's infrastructure.

“ We are all very excited to be at the start of the process to construct our new assembly hall and administration building – the benefits for our students and community will be immense,” Ms McKinlay said.

“The hall will help the school function in so many positive ways and be a great asset for us and for the broader school community.

“We have put a great deal of thought into how and where on our existing site it should be built and we are confident the site we have chosen is the best place for this development.

“The new administration area will also be a great asset for our school and welcomed by our staff.”

A WORD FROM OUR REPRESENTATIVES

Koliana Winchester

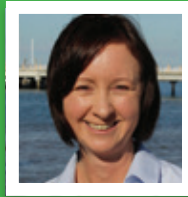

I hope residents had a great Christmas and New Years spending time with friends and family. Over the holiday council work continued on two important projects.

The Victoria Avenue / King Street, Woody Point intersection upgrade has progressed on schedule with Council able to reopen Victoria Avenue before Christmas. The upgrade includes road reconstruction, the installation of a signalised intersection with pedestrian crossings and additional turning lane markings and upgraded lighting. Pavement works will continue along King Street throughout February with the project due for completion by the end of February, weather permitting.

A shared playground facility is being installed by Council at Humpybong State School and is progressing as planned. This project, which has been jointly funded by Moreton Bay Regional Council and the Humpybong State School will provide a playground for the school which is also open to the general public for use at allocated times.

These works aim at improving road safety and devising new ways to share green space for community use.

Yvette D'Ath MP

I am delighted that a wide range of Redcliffe community, sporting and recreational groups are receiving State Government support for their new or expanded initiatives in 2017.

Round 90 of the State's Gambling Community Benefit Fund delivered over $192,000 to eight local groups including Chameleon Regional Community Housing, Woody Point Special School, Bramble Bay Bowls Club, Peninsula Padres Baseball, Hibernian (QLD) Friendly Society, Redcliffe City Amateur Anglers, Patriots Moreton Bay Chapter and the Redcliffe Peninsula Harness Racing.

I also look forward to seeing the new Red Dragons Redcliffe Dragon Boat Racing Club boat storage facility constructed at Redcliffe thanks to a $100,000 Get Playing Places and Spaces program grant. A further $26,000 has been shared between five local clubs under the Get Going Clubs including the Redcliffe District Rugby League Football Club, Eildon Croquet Club, and the Redcliffe Outrigger Canoe Club.

I am always happy to give support to local organisations pursuing funding opportunities for the benefit of our community. Please contact my Electorate Office on (07) 34487100 or by email at redcliffe@parliament.qld.gov.au for advice or assistance.

Luke Howarth MP

Happy New Year! I hope you got some time off over Christmas and New Year to relax and catch up with family and friends.

If you haven't set any New Year's goals yet – it's not too late! Goals are great because they give us an opportunity to reflect on what we want to do more, what we want to do less and what we didn't get around to doing last year. Make sure to write your goals down, set a time frame for achieving them and review your progress often.

I had a lovely Christmas with my family, and I'm looking forward to another year of hard work and delivering for our electorate. Follow my Facebook Page for updates on local projects and the times and locations of my upcoming Mobile Offices, which are an opportunity for you to meet me in person and pass on your feedback or ideas.

One-Thousand Haircuts For Queenslanders In Need

Fresh Hair, Fresh Start: a Scarborough barbershop will take their hotrod hairstyles onto the streets thanks to a Queensland government program designed to help people survive homelessness with dignity.

Retro barbers Jack Reed Barbershop will provide a thousand haircuts to Queenslanders experiencing homelessness this year with a funding boost from the State Government's Dignity First Fund, enabling the construction of a dedicated barbershop on wheels.

The brainchild of Danielle Hannah and Teresa Reed, the One Thousand Haircuts – Dignity Through Transformation project will offer free haircuts from a mobile barbershop at eight locations across the Brisbane North and Moreton Bay region.

Jack Reed CEO Danielle Hannah said a good haircut could build self-image and feelings of self-worth, resulting in the sense of dignity and positivity.

"Everyone likes to feel like they look good, but for a person experiencing homelessness a haircut can mean the difference between social isolation and inclusion," said Ms Hannah.

"Fresh hair and a shave can feel like a fresh start, which can be a big deal to someone who's going through a pretty rough time."

Member for Redcliffe Yvette D'Ath said the benefit extended beyond a haircut, as the resulting confidence boost can be a catalyst for change.

“ We all feel more confident after a haircut, but for someone who's experiencing homelessness, the sense of self-worth and dignity that comes from a haircut can help them feel positive about the future,” said Ms D'Ath.

"Not only can it help a person to feel hopeful they can survive homelessness, it could be just the boost they need to seek assistance to move into more stable accommodation or even go for a job interview."

Minister for Housing and Public Works Mick de Brenni said the fund was designed to encourage innovative, non-traditional ideas to help people experiencing homelessness live with dignity.

"It is also an opportunity for us to show these vulnerable members of our community that they have not been forgotten and that we are working to help them out of this situation," Mr de Brenni said.

"Everyone has the right to live with dignity irrespective of the situation they may find themselves in."

A LITTLE BIT ABOUT
THE HISTORY of

Valentine's DAY

For many of us at this time of the year, we get caught up in the romance of Valentine's Day, without understanding the origins of this love-filled day or why, year after year, we continue to celebrate it. This year, I delved into the history to understand our modern-day take on this day of celebrating love and admiration.

The first thing that became apparent to me was that Valentines is really a combination of Christian martyrdom stories, Roman and Greek mythology that bring together the legend surrounding Valentine's Day and its rituals.

By Shannon Sarow

Roman mythology suggests that Cupid was the son of Venus, the goddess of love. As such, Cupid is often considered the mischievous little boy god who goes around aiming arrows at his victim's hearts, making them fall in love.

Equally, Eros is the Greek equivalent of Cupid and is known as the god of love. During the Middle Ages, the idea of 'love's arrow' evolved into messages and poems of love, eventually leading to our modern-day love letters and greeting cards to mark the celebration of admiration for another.

Many Christian stories are associated with various Valentines, but the most popular is an account of a Christian bishop who performed forbidden marriage ceremonies in secret for Roman soldiers. This was an act of defiance towards the Emperor (Claudius II), who believed that the soldiers only love was to Rome. Legend has it that Saint Valentine was imprisoned for his crimes, and during his imprisonment, healed the daughter of his jailor. Before his execution on 14th February, Saint Valentine wrote her a letter signed 'from your Valentine' as his farewell.

Furthermore, during the 14th century, the tradition of courtly love flourished, and in the 18th century, it evolved into an occasion where lovers would celebrate their love for each other with gifts, such as flowers, confectionery and sending greeting cards.

Altogether, the combination of tales and legends help to explain some of the histories of the traditions still celebrated today, such as the secrecy that surrounds love messages from a 'secret admirer', the giving of gifts, symbols such as Cupid and his arrows and the colloquial phrase 'Your Valentine'.

So however you choose to express your love

*Saint Valentine baptizing Saint Lucilla
by Jacopo Bassano*

and affection for you chosen one this February 14th, I hope that like me, a little understanding of its history will help to make the day more symbolic and romantic than just a poetic verse on a greeting card.

William Hobbs, an Early Pioneer

By Lisa Adams and Pat Gee

William Hobbs, born in London in 1822, was the son of James Hobbs and Anne Phillips.

He graduated from the Royal College of Surgeons in 1843 and came to Moreton Bay in 1849 as surgeon superintendent of the Chaseley, the second ship to arrive with immigrants selected by John Dunmore Lang.

William Hobbs married Anna Louisa Barton in 1853. In that same year, Hobbs commissioned Andrew Petrie to build a house overlooking the Brisbane River. This remained the family home until 1883. Hobbs was appointed the first government medical officer in Brisbane. He was also a member of the Legislative Council from 1861 to 1880.

Between 1867 and 1876, Hobbs purchased a large area of land, 664.25 acres at Reef Point Scarborough at the cost of approximately £329/8/-. In addition to the land at Scarborough, he also purchased Portions 248, 249 and 253 in 1869 for £45. The entire estate amounted to about 1400 acres and extended from Scarborough Point to near Hay's Inlet on Brisbane Road (now Anzac Avenue).

Hobbs built a cottage at Reef Point where the family holidayed, and like many men of that era, he was not afraid to experiment and try new ideas.

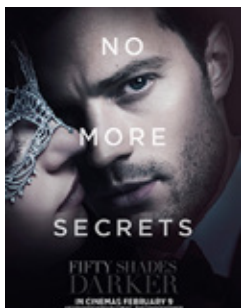

He was keen to introduce dugong oil as a substitute for cod liver oil and used it on all the diseases for which cod liver oil would have been used at that time. He also discovered a spring on his property which he felt had medicinal properties.

Two of William's sons died before him, both killed in accidents at Scarborough. William Hobbs died on 8th December 1890 at "the advanced age of 68", according to the Brisbane Courier. The bulk of his property was sold in 1906 to the Scarborough Estates Company. Hobbs Street, named for Dr Hobbs, runs between Scarborough Road and Moffat Street at Scarborough.

REAL ESTATE

on the PENINSULA

Redcliffe's path towards informed
PROPERTY INVESTMENT

ALL DECKED OUT:

Market Report: Local Trends for 2017

In 2016, we saw solid growth in house prices across nearly every suburb on the Peninsula with steady sales performance recorded.

Moreton Bay was named “National Growth Star”, with growth running neck and neck with the Logan regions as one of Brisbane’s top spots. Interestingly, both areas have 15 suburbs each that are “rising fast” or “rising steadily”.

No doubt the Redcliffe Rail line project and other infrastructure spending have helped drive this growth.

The population is predicted to grow by a staggering 40% in the next 20 years in the Moreton Bay region.

The area represents excellent prospects for future capital growth overall, but what features should buyers be looking for?

Outdoor living spaces continue to rank as one of the most sought-after features, whether it’s a secondary living space or an entertainment area.

Decks, balconies and courtyards really do add value. Renovation may sound like a good idea, but most buyers still go for low maintenance homes they can just move in to. Modern kitchens and bathrooms are highly valued, as is secure off-street parking.

Savvy home sellers focus on decluttering, tidying and repainting, with the best-presented homes always punching above their weight in the sale price.
